Building Line Change Avoids Encroachment

New Building To Conform To Existing Street Line

The indignation which was aroused last week among citizens of Newton when the excavation for the new building which will be erected on the site of Eliot Block on Centre and Elmwood streets, Newton, made it appear that the structure would stick out toward the street line on Centre street 6 feet beyond the line of the next building, subsided when it was learned that through the efforts of Aldermen Earle and Murray, Arthur Nelson, the owner of the new building, the revised plans. According to the revised plans the corner of the new building next to Lancaster street on Centre street will be set back so that it will be on a line with the adjoining building. The structure will be built out, on the whole, nearer to the Centre street line than was the Eliot Block. That building had jogs in it because of the large bays which struck out. These jogs will be built up as wide as formerly, and at a couple of spots will be even a trifle wider.

The Bacon estate, which formerly owned the property, had, at different times, as specified by law, fenced off the area belonging to it which was apparently part of the public sidewalk. This is supposed to be done once every 20 years. It has been over 28 years, since the sidewalk was fenced off, but, according to law, the stone steps which projected in front of the old Eliot Building served as a monument to define the property line.

SAFETY FOR SAVINGS

With men who can save thousands of dollars in a short time, we are not concerned. If anyone can afford to lose through poor investments, they can. The man or woman who works hard for his or her money and is able to save a few dollars each month cannot afford to lose one penny. Such people should be particularly interested in this saving systematically with us under a safe plan the results of which are from our past experience of over forty years.

Commissioner Chadwick Certifies Schools Are In Proper Condition

Over $60,000 Expended For Repairs And Maintenance. Detailed Description of Work On Each School And Suggestions For The Future

The Public Buildings Department has been active during school vacation making repairs and alterations on schools. The department is expending practically $60,000 on these buildings.

Of this amount, approximately $10,000 was expended on painting the following:

Interior rooms of the Classical High.

Interior rooms and exterior of the Technical High.

Interior of the Clafin.

Class rooms and corridors of the Barnard.

Class rooms and assembly hall of the Horace Mann.

Corridors, stairways, dressing rooms and basement of Bigelow.

Exterior and dressing rooms of Hyde.

Entrance doors and minor painting by employees of the department in practically all of the other schools.

New plumbing was installed in the Rice and Oak Hill Schools.

Steam engines on the ventilating system of the Hyde School were replaced by electric motors.

The boilers in the Bowen School being found defective, were replaced with two new tubular boilers.

The gymnasium floor in the new Administration Building was taken up and relaid at a cost of $5300. Considerable trouble has been received from this floor on account of moisture rotting the under floor, causing the upper floor to buckle. This floor was taken up entirely and laid according to specifications prepared by the Commissioner, and was laid under his personal supervision in a manner which he feels has rectified any further trouble. He also feels by this method of installing it, that it will make a much more satisfactory and faster gymnasium floor than is usually installed.

A thorough personal examination has been made by the Commissioner of all the school buildings previous to starting the work, and special attention was given to egress, condition of buildings, heating, ventilating and plumbing systems. The egress has been improved in several of the buildings. The ventilating systems were found to have accumulated a great deal of dust and dirt. An engineering company was consulted, and after their examination and a price obtained, a contract was made for the cleaning of the ventilating system in the Classical High School, and the cleaning of the ventilating system and the boilers, chimneys, smoke pipe, etc., at the Technical High School. The cost of this was $1125.00. The results show the need of this being done in all of our school buildings.

All ventilating systems were tested, and adjustments and alterations were made where found necessary.

The School Department requested

an additional two class room portable in the Clafin District. As there was not available space on the lot, the Department of Public Safety was consulted and they approved the installing of a rear stair tower and certain alterations in the building which gave two additional class rooms on the third floor for class room use. This building does not contain a heating plant, is entirely equipped with automatic sprinklers, is now properly equipped with egress, and the danger from fire is very remote. The Commissioner has no hesitancy in certifying this school for use on all three floors. The cost of these alterations was $2,950.00, and a new two room portable would cost approximately $5,000.00.

The Oak Hill School is being altered to give proper egress, heating and ventilation, and toilet facilities as well as electric lighting. This will probably not be completed at the opening of school, September 10th, but the Commissioner is in hopes to allow the School Department to use one of the rooms at that time. When completed, two class rooms of a capacity of forty pupils each will be available.

Certain adjustments and additions were made to the electric light systems, bringing our lighting systems up to a very high standard, but to be sure of this the Edison Illuminating Engineering Division are to make an examination of all of the school buildings during the months of September and October and give a complete report as to the efficiency of same.

All window shades were repaired or replaced.

The two class room portable on the Peirce School lot was removed to the Horace Mann School and equipped with insulated ceiling. The heating system was entirely renewed and the building was painted inside and out.

The two class room portable at the Stearns School, being the oldest we have, has been entirely overhauled, insulated ceiling put in, heating plant renewed, and the building painted inside and out.

A great deal of attention has been necessary to the roofs of our schools. They have been taken care of as far as the appropriations would allow. Much more work will have to be done towards this end next year.

At the Angier School where leaks in roof and walls have been giving trouble, attention was given, but on account of the very wet summer and it being mostly experimental work, the amount done on this was very limited. All of the windows were caulked, certain work was done on the roof in the back of the parapet walls. The department was unable to get this work done in time to ascertain whether or not the trouble had all been remedied, therefore the painting of the classrooms could not be done this year.

Very careful attention was given to the floors of the school buildings. The kindergarten of the Rice and Bowen Schools were covered with linoleum, and also one room in the Williams School.

The ventilating system in the Mason on the air intake was equipped with shields to eliminate the taking in of dust and dirt off the ground which will give purer air to the classrooms.

Plans are now underway for a new school in the Clafin District to be located on Parkview and Bridges avenues. This building will contain twelve classrooms, kindergarten, play rooms, assembly hall, and all necessary rooms for the proper operation of the school. It is estimated that this school will cost less than $200,000. Construction is to start on this building in the early part of October, and it is the intention of completing it for the opening of school in September, 1929.

A great many contracts were made, and a great many orders issued on the work in our schools this summer and the Commissioner feels that in all of the buildings that he has received full value for the money expended, and has certified the buildings listed below to the School Department as being in proper sanitary condition and are in proper condition for school purposes.

It is the height of folly to blow every dollar earned—to spend to the last cent every month.

Crippled Youngsters At Norumbega Park

Riverside Woman's Club Entertain
Peabody Home Children

The children of the Peabody Home for Crippled Children were entertained Tuesday of this week at Norumbega Park through the generous co-operation of the manager, Mr. William White, by the Riverside Woman's Club, a group of Auburndale women, under whose auspices the party was held.

Sixty of the children are in such condition that they were unable to leave the Home for the day. For them, the merchants of Auburndale contributed funds sufficient to supply them with ice cream and cookies at the home.

The Riverside Woman's Club acknowledges generous donations from William E. Pike, who assisted in many ways, and who supplied candy for the children; and is grateful to Andrew Prior, who gave a boat in order that the children might enjoy a ride on the river, and to the following Auburndale merchants, whose donations enabled the club to hire a bus to transport the children, and otherwise make their day enjoyable: Lawrence E. Reichle, W. A. Riggs, J. H. Holland, John Reeco, Miss Campbell, W. C. Dennison, Harry Kovitz, J. A. Beattie, Grace Hill, Carl Meisack, V. A. Pluta, John Angelo, C. A. Donovan, W. F. Hadlock, R. E. Bus Operator Fined For Blowing Horn

Witnesses Testify That Horn Was Sounded For Five Minutes

Joseph Shaughnessy of 440 Lexington street, Auburndale, an operator of one of the Middlesex and Boston buses, was fined $5 by Judge Bacon in the Newton court last Friday for blowing the horn on the bus unnecessarily. Traffic Officer Taffe testified that Shaughnessy had blown the horn for over 5 minutes on the afternoon of August 27 to attract the attention of a woman whose automobile was parked in front of the bus so that the big vehicle could not move forward. The smaller car, however, was not on the bus parking space and Taffe testified that Shaughnessy had 30 feet behind his bus in the space reserved for buses which he could easily have used to back out on. Other witnesses who substantiated Taffe's testimony were William M. Cahill of the Newton Trust Company and Inspector of Motor Vehicles Edmund Newcomb. Shaughnessy appealed and was held in $300 bonds.

Complaint was made to the police on Friday that a dog owned by George Nemet of Hale street, Upper Falls, had bitten Normas Robertson, 12, of Shawmut Park, Upper Falls. The dog was ordered restrained and Dr. Boulette was notified to examine the animal.

Henry Mosmann of Newtonville, inspector for the State Board of Health, was the complainant in the Newton Court on Tuesday against the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, otherwise known as the A. & P., and Benjamin Levine of Watertown street, Newton. Mr. Mosmann testified that he had purchased eggs at Levine's store and at the A. & P. store at 331 Washington street, Newtonville, labelled as fresh, when said eggs proved upon examination to be otherwise. Because of other convictions against the big chain company, Judge Hanson of Waltham, who presided, placed a fine of $100 on the A. & P. concern. Levine was fined $15.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

U. F. TO HOLD CUP ANOTHER YEAR

The Newton Upper Falls baseball team defeated the Saxony Mills outfit last Saturday and Sunday to win the championship of the city for the second successive year and also annexed its second leg on the Graphic Cup, which must be won three times for permanent possession. The Newton Catholic Club also holds one leg on the trophy having won it in 1926, the year of the twilight league's organization. Saxony Mills had led the league from the beginning of the season and Upper Falls in the last few weeks staged a spurt that brought them from last place to second place, one game behind the Saxons, thus giving Upper Falls the right to meet the Nonantum outfit in the play-off series of the best two out of three games. Two games were all that were necessary. On Saturday Victory Field was the scene of the conflict with Upper Falls emerging on top 5 to 4. Sunday's game was played at Upper Falls with the home team winning 10 to 3. Many of the fans at that game were more or less guilty of poor sportsmanship in riding Manager Gilligan and his mates, who took the remarks of the fans in true sportsman fashion.

Each player on the Upper Falls team will receive a medal from the Playground department, signifying membership on the championship outfit. In addition to Manager Thomas Simpson, the following are eligible for medals: Alan McLean, and Neil Mahoney, catchers; Edward Stanton, Charles Bridey, and Leo Crowley, pitchers; Steve Bennett and Al Weston, first basemen; John Simpson, second baseman; John Proctor, third baseman; William Proctor, shortstop; and Michael DeGeorge, Joseph Kerrigan, "Toots" DeGeorge, and Frank McGuinness, outfielders.

Harry B. Thayer, Jr., formerly of West Newton, a former junior champion skipper, was the victor and winner of the Janitor's Cup, offered by the Pleon Club's youthful janitor, Frank S. Deland Jr., in the tournament at Marblehead in the Brutal Beast races. In the final race of the tournament on Wednesday Thayer, sailing the Sea Beast, led his opponent Joseph Langmaid over the finish line by the small margin of seven seconds.

Newton Man Tied

S. K. Kerns of Newton and P. A. Goodale of Arlington tied for the best gross score of 81 at Woods Hole in an 18-hole handicap medal play on the holiday.

Wasilevski is Caddy King

Steve Wasilevski, captain of the Newton High golf team last spring, won the caddy championship of the Charles River Country Club this week Tuesday. Wasilevski was far out ahead of the field. He turned in a 72, a score any member of the club would be glad to make, with his nearest competitor, Paul Yurick, the runner-up, fourteen strokes behind. The championship was held as an adjunct to the annual field day activities.

Newtonville Girl Wins First Prize

Marjorie Gilbert of the Horace Mann school won first prize for all around athletics and swimming for juniors at Camp Sebawish, Bryant Pond, Me., where she has been spending the summer.

There were 36 permits for single dwellings valued at $475,820 and 25 for double dwellings valued at $304,500. Comparison with last year shows a substantial increase in buildings for the first eight months. 1127 permits were issued this year valued at $6,917,880, as compared with 1029 permits valued at $5,619,814 issued in 1927.

MANY FOOTBALL CANDIDATES OUT

Tuesday morning was a busy time in the physical department of the Newton High school when some sixty odd uniforms and other football equipment was given out to the candidates for the Newton high school football eleven. This number was increased to about eighty-five Wednesday morning when the first practice of the season was held on Claffin Field under Coach John L. Sullivan's direction. Another flock of candidates will report next Monday when school opens and sessions for the intermediate, junior, and freshmen elevens will begin. Coach Sullivan's biggest problem is what to do with all the candidates as the excavating and grading work now being done on the development of the proposed athletic plant has taken away much of the space formerly used for practice. The only available space the Newton mentor has to work with is the regular gridiron and it is an impossibility to work with over a hundred candidates without interference. The freshman and junior varsity candidates will probably hold their practice on Cabot Park or some other available gridiron.

At present no attempt has been made to divide the squad into the various groups and only light conditioning practice has been held. Wednesday morning after a grass drill punting and passing was the program. With the erection of the goal posts and tackling dummy and the arrival of the assistant coaches the squad will get down to business in preparation for the opening game of the season three weeks from tomorrow with Belmont High. The latter team is coached by Louis "Polly" Harris, former Newton high and Colgate end.

Several letter men were among the first group of candidates. The arrival of the assistant coaches the squad will get down to business in preparation for the opening game of the season three weeks from tomorrow with Belmont High. The latter team is coached by Louis "Polly" Harris, former Newton high and Colgate end.

fall; Francis Duane, who is expected to be the leading triple threat in the Newton backfield this fall; Philip Andres, who made many gains through the line last fall; Johnny Mullen, whose specialty is end runs; Daniel Harrington, who played brilliantly at guard last fall and who may be shifted to a tackle or to centre this fall; Charles Robblee, a regular tackle last year; Norman Payne and Richard Reynolds, substitute ends on last year's squad. Other veterans who did not get into the games last year enough to earn their letters are Carl Pescosolito, Frank Perry, Harold Ham, William Reilly and William Bell, half backs; Arthur Chamberlain, centre; and William Annesse, guard. Other candidates who looked good in the practice sessions this week are Kenney, a guard; McCarthy, an end; Spencer, a halfback; and Farquhar, Hapgood, Forristall and Barba, linesmen. Forristall is a brother of Joseph Forristall, tackle and end, a few years ago and Hapgood is a younger brother of Ernest Hapgood, tackle on the same team who is now at Brown. Among the men who will report next Monday who are expected to make a strenuous fight for places on the team are the Gardner brothers, linesmen, and Schipper, a centre.

SPORT NOTES

Johnson in Green Squad

Henry L. Johnson, Jr., of Waban,

has definitely given up tennis for the year and will give his time this fall to football. He was among the candidates to report to Jess Hawley, coach of the Dartmouth eleven, at Hanover this week Wednesday. Last fall Johnson was fullback on the freshman team and within the next three years should play a prominent part in the varsity backfield. The major part of the practice on Wednesday Johnson spent sending 50 yard punts up the field. Harold Andres, former Newton high three-sport athlete, who played centre for the Green cups last fall, is expected to report for practice within a few days. Last year's varsity centre was among the graduates giving the Newton youth an excellent chance to break into the varsity line this fall.

The Boys' Division supper, held last Friday night officially brought to a close the summer program.

During the summer months the boys have been greatly interested in the various activities planned and carried out for them. This program has been sufficiently variegated to please the large group of boys that have turned out to participate in each activity.

The trips have pleased the boys, as they were of three types, Industrial, Institutional, and Recreational.

Another activity that has met with great interest from the boys is the Summer Club. This club has held its meetings every Tuesday, and has had many interesting features. The boys made an elemental study of biology with the use of pet rabbits, and also made a study of selected pictures from the Perry Pictures, such as, "The Horse Fair," "Niagara Falls," "Famous People," etc.

The month of August was featured by numerous tournaments, contests, and meets. These were open to all members of the Junior department, and there was a large entry list, in each one. The following tournaments were held: Pool, Ping Pong, and Cue Roque. A Treasure Hunt, Swimming Meet, and Track Meet were other features.

There were many close matches in the Cue Roque tournament, but Paul Mackin emerged the winner after having defeated Walter Leahy in the finals. For close, fast, and interesting play, there was no tournament that surpassed the Ping Pong tournament, in which Herbert McKinney proved himself to be the champion by conquering such sterling players as Dave Jennings and Bussey Earle. The pool tourney was hotly contested all the way, and there were many boys who just missed winning their matches by very close margins. Bill Allen won over Andy Kasper in the finals.

The Treasure Hunt, in which the boys followed all over Newton before they were led to the treasure, brought out a large group of boys and they were all bunched at the last clue, but the sharp eyes of Charley Gallagher enabled him and his partner Norman Anderson to be the first to dig up the buried treasure.

There was a great deal of rivalry in the swimming meet, and all of the events were very close. Herbert Mc-Kinney was the individual star of the meet, winning three first place ribbons.

The summary: 20-yard dash—Herbert McKinney first, Bill Allen second, Frank Manion third.
40-yard dash—Herbert McKinney first, Bussey Earle second, Frank Manion third.

Plunge—Robert Jonah first, Norman Anderson second, Bill Allen third.
Diving—Herbert McKinney first,
Robert Jonah second, Ward Gowing
third.

Underwater swim—Bill Allen first, Bussey Earle second, Robert Jonah
third.

The Track meet was the final contest of the month, and brought out the largest attendance. This meet was a handicap affair to give everyone an equal chance to win. Bussey Earle and Bill Porter proved themselves to be the highlights of the meet, the former winning three first places, and the latter winning a first and two seconds.

The summary: 50-yard dash—Bill
Porter first, Nathan Dolbier second, Zaccanini third.

75-yard dash—Bussey Earle first,
Bill Porter second, Allan Smith third.
220-yard dash—Bussey Earle first,
Bill Porter second, Nathan Dolbier
third.

High jump—Paul Mackin first, Bill
Allen second, Annesse third.
Broad jump—Paul Mackin first, Bill
Allen second, Frank Manion third.

Shot put—Bussey Earle first, Paul Mackin second, Miller third.
After the meet the boys all attended the closing supper of the summer session, following which the prizes for all the events were awarded. Then after a movie show, the summer activities were officially brought to a close.
Now all the boys are looking forward to the opening of the Gym classes, and the winter program. In the meantime there is a swim every afternoon.

EDDY FAMILY ASSOCIATION

The Eddy Family Association, of which Rev. D. Brewer Eddy of Newtonville is president, Mr. Will C.
Eddy of Auburndale, vice president, and George W. Eddy of West Newton treasurer, will hold its annual meeting tomorrow at Hotel Bellevue, Boston. Mr. John H. Eddy of Newton-ville is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

EMBASSY THEATRE

Two full programs will be presented Sunday night at the Embassy, Wal-tham's Wonder theatre, and inaugurate the new policy of presenting two Sunday shows. The first show will start at 6 and the second at 8:30.
There will be a special Sunday night program, with feature photoplay and all-star vaudeville acts.

The program for the first half of the week will include four star vaudeville acts selected particularly for the Embassy. The feature photoplay will be "The Runaway Girl" starring Shirley Mason and Arthur Rankin.

"Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" with Tom Moore and Hester Love will be the feature attraction for the last three days of the week. There will also be a series of feature vaudeville acts of high standard.

At all performances there is a recital on the Embassy organ by J.
Leslie Cahill and jazz numbers on the Embassy Grand orchestra conducted by Charles Hatch.

The moonlight promenade when free cold drinks and cigarettes are given freely to patrons and the free parking space are other features of the Moody street playhouse.

The continuous policy on Saturdays and holidays, when three complete shows are given will be continued throughout the fall and winter. The first will start at 2 o'clock, the second at 5 and the final show at 8 o'clock.

SPORT NOTES

Pals To Have First Practice
On Sunday afternoon the Newton Pals will hold their first football practice at Cabot Park. In the past three years the Pals have made a very enviable record being defeated but one game in twenty five played. The manager is now busy making up the schedule for the season and expects to play every Sunday throughout the season at Cabot Park, starting around the first of October. It is not expected at this time that "Buck" Donahue who has had such great success as coach of the team in the past two years, will again be available, as he is now coach of the Natick High School team. Although the Pals know there isn't another "Buck Donahue" in Newton they have high hopes of getting another coach within a short time. It is hoped that all of last year's players and any new candidates will be at Cabot Park Sunday at two o'clock.

Cape Cod Season Ends
Labor Day marked the end of the Cape Cod league baseball season with Chatham-Harwich, on which team
Frank Spain, the only high school lad in the league, played shortstop, winning from Orleans by a 1 to 0 score.
An error by the Orleans first baseman allowed the only run of the game to cross the plate. During the season Spain's playing was a feature of nearly every game. He was classed as the best shortstop, best at getting on base, possessed the best throwing arm, and one of the headiest players in the league. While not as hard or frequent a hitter as some of the players the Waban lad was a dangerous man at the plate and before the season ended was getting his hits as often as the next man. Playing every day has made a marked improvement in Spain's play and his many friends are hoping to see him advance rapidly into organized baseball.

Jones at First Base
"Jeff" Jones, former Harvard and Philadelphia American first baseman, who was assistant coach of the Newton high baseball team last fall, played the last two weeks of the season at first base for the Chatham-Harwich team of the Cape Cod League. Following the dissolution of the Brookline team in the Greater Boston twight league, of which team Jones was the first baseman, he taught several weeks at the University of Michigan Summer school and coming back caught on with Chatham. During the few weeks he played there he was hitting for 420.

Murphy Loses Crown
Eddie Murphy of Newton Centre lost his crown as golf champion of the White Mountains in the final match of the tourney at the Maplewood Club last week Friday to George Dunlap, Jr., of New York. Murphy, who won the title in 1927, is on the Harvard golf team while Dunlap is a Princeton golfer. In the morning round they were all even and remained so until the 35th hole when Dunlap got a birdie. They halved the final hole to give the New Yorker the match 1 up.

EDITORIAL

We are supporting the candidacy of Mr. Frank L. Nagle of Newtonville for the Republican nomination for the Governor's council, because by business training and experience he is not only well qualified for the office, but he has such a wide acquaintance in social, military and fraternal circles that would be extremely useful in performing the duties of councillor. Moreover, we would emphasize the need of a broad-visioned man in this office. One of the principal duties of the office is to act on nominations submitted by the Governor. Intelligent action on such nominations requires a knowledge of business as well as of political conditions, and women cannot hope to successfully compete with men on this basis, as their political life has been much shorter. Another phase of the work of the Council is on pardons favored by the Governor. Here again is the need of a hard-headed business man, rather than a more sentimental woman. It should also be noted that the larger part of the third councillor district is in Middlesex County and a resident of that county would better represent the district than a resident of Suffolk or Norfolk. Mr. Nagle should receive a heavy vote in this city on these issues alone.

While it was of interest to see Senator Curtis, the Republican candidate for Vice-President, we cannot believe that his speech on the tariff gained him many votes. Tammany and Prohibition are the real issues of the campaign in this state and Republican leaders ought to recognize them as such.

To the Republican Voters of Newton

On September 18th the Republican voters of the State will make their nominations for State offices. One of the most important offices to be filled is that of Lieutenant Governor because of the unwritten rule that the person nominated for Lieutenant Governor shall in later years become the candidate of the party for Governor. Six candidates are seeking that nomination, all of them estimable gentlemen and good Republicans and many of them personal friends. We must however make our nominations not on the basis of personal friendship but on the basis of experience and qualification for office.

We favor the nomination of John C. Hull for Lieutenant Governor and we hope that the reasons which have influenced us to support him will likewise appeal to you.

1. Mr. Hull is a native New Englander, a resident of Massachusetts for thirty-three years, a graduate of one of our best New England colleges, an educator, a lawyer and a man of high intelligence.
2. He has been a member of the Massachusetts legislature for thirteen years. During that long term of service he has been House Chairman of the Committee on Education, Chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary, and for four years Speaker. Thus practical experience has brought him in closest touch with all important legislative problems arising in the reconstruction period following the great war, and few men have served so long and so acceptably as a member of the House of Representatives. The experience thus gained will be invaluable to a Lieutenant Governor or Governor. None of the other gentlemen running for the office can have an equal familiarity with State problems.
3. He is a staunch Republican, standing four square on the National platform, favoring the protection of American industry and the Eighteenth Amendment. Without reservation or qualification he favors Herbert Hoover for President.
4. During his term as Speaker he has loyally co-operated with the Governor on all important State issues.
5. As a member of the legislature and Speaker of the House he has consistently favored the passage of constructive measures for the development of Massachusetts and of its business and industry. This is well instanced in his active support and aid in putting through the following measures:

The Airport Bill for the city of Boston.
The bill to make possible the New Boston & Maine Terminal.
The Branch Banking Bill.
The Compulsory Automobile Insurance Bill.
The East Boston Vehicular Tunnel Bill.
The Gasoline Tax Bill.
The Metropolitan District Water Extension Bill.
The Motor Vehicle Excise Tax.
The Smoke Abatement Act.
The bill for standard city charters.
Important amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act.
State Police for Rural Communities.

If in the future John Hull is elected Governor of Massachusetts the Commonwealth will have still another chief executive of sound common sense, wide grasp of public problems and a desire to maintain the best tradition of the Commonwealth. He will be a worthy successor to Calvin Coolidge, Channing Cox and Alvan Fuller.

Very truly yours,

HERBERT M. COLE LEON B. ROGERS

EDWARD BEECHER BOWEN

Edward B. Bowen, for many years one of Newton Centre's best known residents, died suddenly on August 9th at Oslo, Norway, where he was visiting while on a trip around the world with his wife. He had breakfasted and was taking a stroll when he was seized with an attack of heart failure. His remains were brought to this city and his funeral service was held on August 29th in the Newton Cemetery chapel, Rev. J. C. Masee of Tremont Temple officiating.

Mr. Bowen was born in Allston June 24, 1863, the son of Edward B. and Frances E. Bowen. His parents moved to this city when he was a small child and he received his education in the Newton Schools and at the Allen Classical School in West Newton. He entered the boot and shoe business after leaving school and after traveling to the Pacific coast for ten years as a salesman, he became a commission merchant in shoe and leather products. For many years he did a large export business in these lines and during the World War he made numerous trips overseas through the sub-marine infested areas while engaged in his business affairs with European countries. At the time of his death he was a member of the firm of Bowen-Niditch Corporation of Boston. He married Pamela Dana Whitney of Ellsworth, Maine, and she survives him, as does their one son, Edward Kidder Bowen. He had represented Ward 6 in the Board of Aldermen.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF DANIEL WEBSTER

One of the most scintillating orators America has ever known was Daniel Webster. He was born in Salisbury, N. H., in the comely cottage shown above. The incident that marks Webster as a great orator was his famous debate with Hayne of South Carolina.

WELLESLEY LOWER FALLS

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Well, the vacation season is over—at least for many of the readers of this column. Ahead of us is a hard winter, with a Presidential election on our hands, which will keep us in the trenches—I mean the polling booths—until early November.

I don't know just how you reacted to your vacation. Observation has convinced me that there are two ways: you either come back, exclaiming, "My, didn't we have a good time!" or else you say, "Well, thank heaven that's over." My sincere wish is that you did enjoy yourself and are refreshed and benefited. I wasn't able myself to get away except for a memorable week-end, but I found Newton remarkably attractive and as inviting as ever for stay-at-homes.

I got in not a few strolls, largely by myself, and, although I admit I might have had better company, it was a delightful relaxation. My favorite walk invariably included Cotton street—the whole stretch from Waverley Avenue to Centre street—for there is a suggestion of the rural atmosphere and scenery that strongly appeals to me. It seems altogether remote and genuinely picturesque—as if you had stumbled upon the back road leading over the hills to a tucked-away village. I think I prefer strolling at such a time. Certainly, I want no strangers in automobiles to spoil the illusion. If I can't arrange for an early morning walk I usually wait until well into the afternoon.

Some years ago I found an absorbing bit of rustic road that led by a pasture. This was in Western Massachusetts, by the way. I stopped at a spring and there rested. Soon the faint notes of tinkling cowbells reached me and I lay soothed by their gentle rhythm. To me nothing earthly had more of eternal promise to offer. The cows were making their way to the pasture bars—there to wait for the farmer who was to come and drive them home. The day's end was approaching. In reverence I viewed the sunset and the majesty of Nature. Never shall I forget that hour of true peace.

A written suggestion has been made that this column print something about the candidates in the State primaries, stressing my own personal views of the individual merits of the contestants. Naturally, the delicate tribute caused me to blush for I looked upon the idea as a great honor. The writer of the letter, a woman, assured me that it would help her if I should see fit to guide her in selecting worthy nominees of the Republican party. "You must know them all," said she, "and should be able to tell us for whom to vote."

Although highly flattered I decline to yield. I will admit that many of those in the running are friends of mine and if it means anything I can call most of them by their first names and get away with it. But why disclose my own opinions? And why discriminate between Democrats and Republicans?

There is something in the way of advice, however, which I would submit and which may be applied to both parties. Don't listen to stories which are told against a man for the purpose of disparaging support of his candidacy. It is inevitable that you should hear mean pieces of gossip which have no foundation in fact. Political campaigns are invariably accompanied by charges. These run from tales of public graft down to private behavior. Usually a little investigation will prove that there is nothing whatever in them. Often you will find the circumstances of some heinous have been so distorted that their real significance has been submerged and the truth so completely buried that it is barely able to rise again.

Because of this I can only urge my friends to determine for themselves a candidate's qualifications by examining his record, studying his speeches and observing the character of his following. Not too much attention should be paid the latter point as many a good man suffers because of his adherents. Yet a man's record will speak for him and after all should be more eloquent than malicious chatter.

While we are on this very subject I should like to express my disapproval of the tactics of certain of the candidates in both parties. They seem to be running amuck with typewriters, if it is possible to do that. At any rate some of these ambitious office seekers are condemning opponents for all sorts of things. There seems to be no limit of "I charge that you have—" and "I emphatically deny this base slander which my opponent knows is not true, etc., etc."

For my own part I am rather weary of attacks and counter-attacks. I know it makes the campaign lively but it doesn't do any particular harm. In my judgment mud-slinging is dangerous in that one who indulges in such a practice is likely to become bespattered himself. Seldom does it fail.

There is a bit of philosophy contained in a song that was sung by the late Bert Williams, one of the greatest colored comedians and one of the greatest of all comedians of his time. The theme was the risk one takes in criticising another and the possibility of an unexpected and embarrassing comeback. Bert used to draw, in his inimitable way, "Boy, mind how you throw them rocks!"

Well, let us be specific and turn to the avalanche of charges in which numerous Republican candidates are shooting at each other through the medium of hard-working press agents. I know it isn't going to do the party any good and I know it will help the other side. If you won't take my word for it let me prove my point by an incident that occurred the other day.

I was talking to a very prominent Democrat who was smiling at some front page mud-slinging between Republicans.

"That seems to be an everyday occurrence among Republicans," said I. "Yes," said he, with a chuckle, "and all for the glory of the Democratic party."

It never occurred to me that I should sometime hear complaint of the night noises in Newton. But at least one night noise has turned up and the police are powerless to stop it, although they admit its existence.

"I live in the neighborhood of a police signal box," said a friend of mine recently, "and I wish I didn't. It's fine to think of the advantage of police protection that I receive, but there is one decided drawback. In the middle of the night the people in the vicinity are sure to be waked up from a sound sleep by a policeman shouting over the signal box telephone. The officers tell me the service is antiquated and so poor they can't make themselves heard unless they yell. How long must we put up with this? Wasn't there a lot of talk in the Board of Aldermen about giving us a new fire alarm and police signal system? Or has it all blown over like much of the City Hall hot air?"

"If it is necessary for the police to shout themselves hoarse over their own telephone in these patrol boxes I am in favor of having the whole police force arrested for disturbing the peace and the Aldermen charged with accessory before and after the fact."

I have high hopes for the new system of mail distribution in this city. Instead of rushing to give my opinion I prefer to wait until it has had a trial. I ask something that will be convincing one way or the other. That is likely to require weeks or may be months to produce. There is no question but what Newton is growing and that increased facilities should be provided for handling letters. Any attempt to set up a more efficient system should receive the enthusiastic endorsement. Still, we have a right to expect proof and that, of course, is a matter of time.

While withholding my modest decision I should like to remark that the peculiar geographical make-up of our various villages, and therefore our postal districts, is most understood by residents of Newton and seldom fully appreciated by outsiders. There are those who have lived in adjoining municipalities all their lives and who firmly believe that Newton Centre is the largest village and a sort of hub. It appears to be their view that once in Newton Centre you have reached the most vital part of the city and that all other sections are smaller and subordinate in size and importance.

The fact that Newton Centre is one of the most distinctive and attractive parts of our city does not justify the assumption that it is the most centrally located of our villages. There are officials who still hold that view, however, and I doubt if they can ever be persuaded to change it.

We were talking of our new mail delivery system—well, now let us be judicial, getting as much unprejudiced information as possible and observe carefully the results.

If criticism could be made a forceful power in the matter of street widening there would be a wider corner at Centre and Elmwood streets than is now proposed. Arguments in favor of the taking of more land at this point are heard more frequently than those against. I am told, however, and the city fathers reasoned that it would be useless to take off a large slice of the corner where stood the Eliot block unless the entire length of Elmwood street was widened. I suppose that settles it, and the vote cannot be rescinded.

Inasmuch as efforts to bring about an extensive improvement at this point have resulted in little or nothing and a new building is going up we may not look forward to anything like the beginning of a solution of the traffic problem in this part of the city. It is a matter of regret and one which, I am sure, will always be a source of adverse comment. "Too bad!" we will say to each other, over and over again, as the years roll onward. "Too bad that corner was left when they had a chance to make a fine wide street there! What an opportunity to prevent accidents!"

It seems almost too solemn a matter for jest and I am not seeking to be facetious when I say we may expect trouble in the days to come. The city of Waltham has its "Piety Corner" and its "Nightcap Corner." Perhaps Newton will have its "Sorrowful Corner."

COTTON—BROOKS

A wedding of unusual charm and dignity, was that of Miss Mabel Elizabeth Brooks, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Brooks of 21 Pilgrim road, Waban, Mass., on Wednesday evening, September 5, at eight o'clock in the Union Church of Waban, when she became the bride of Mr. Charles Leonard Cotton, son of Mrs. Helen L. Cotton and the late Mr. Leonard M. Cotton, formerly of Beacon street, Waban, but now residing at 53 Strathmore road, Brookline, Mass.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Dr. MacDonald, pastor of the Union Church, in the presence of an audience which nearly filled the edifice. The bride wore a gown of Leucan lace and eggshell taffeta, fashioned with long pointed sleeves and court train. The bridal veil was of rare old lace, an heirloom of the family, she wore orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and calla lilies. The maid of honor was Miss Barbara Hudson of Boston who was daintily gowned in orchid chiffon and carried a shower bouquet. The bridesmaids were Miss Phyllis Cotton of Brookline, a sister of the bridegroom, Miss Dorothy Gourley of Waban, who were gowned in blue chiffon, Mrs. Wendell Bauckman of Newton Centre, and Miss Frances Keene of Brighton, who wore gowns of yellow chiffon. The gowns were a charming creation, fashioned from an early period design. They carried shower bouquets which harmonized with their gowns most splendidly.

The best man was Mr. Herbert Jones of Waban. The ushers were Mr. David Hamilton of Waterbury, Connecticut, Mr. Frederick Holden of Middleboro, Mass., Mr. Irving Munroe of Brighton, Mr. James Dow, Jr., of Waban, Mr. Norman Briggs of Hollywood, California, and Mr. Wendell Bauckman of Newton Centre. The bride was led to the altar by her father Mr. Charles William Brooks, who gave his daughter in marriage. Mr. Dittmars, organist of the Union Church presided at the organ. The church was most artistically decorated with ferns and palms. After the wedding service, a reception was held at the home of the bride at 21 Pilgrim road, Waban. In the receiving line with the bride and groom, were Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Brooks and Mrs. Helen L. Cotton. Mrs. Brooks was charmingly gowned in black point d'esprit over gold. Mrs. Cotton was becomingly gowned in orchid chiffon. A bank of ferns and palms as a background, presented a most pleasing picture.

Mrs. Cotton, who is a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art, in the class of '27, has been one of the popular young women in the younger circle, and her charming personality has won for her ardent friends and admirers. Mr. Cotton who is a past student of Norwich Military College and a member of the Theta Chi fraternity, is associated with the A. C. Lawrence Leather Company of Boston.

A dinner party was given at the Blue Burn Country Club for the bridal party, the night before the wedding, which was one of the pretty occasions connected with the wedding. After a trip through Maine and New Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. Cotton will be "at home" after September 15, at 73 Erie avenue, Newton Highlands, Mass.

Interesting Matters Considered At Meeting Of City Government

New Polling Places, Proposed New Fire Station and New Traffic Tower Part of a Long Docket

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday evening. Eighteen members attended, the absentees were Aldermen Baker, Gordon and Prior.

Residents of Newton Upper Falls will continue to have the Wade School as their moving picture house. This building was abandoned years ago for school purposes but it has been used for the exhibition of "movies." Some months ago the School Committee recommended that the old building be torn down to provide added playground space for the children attending the Wade School. A petition signed by hundreds of Upper Falls residents was presented to the Aldermen protesting against the razing of the old building. As a result, the Public Buildings Committee of the Aldermen reported on Monday night that the request of the School Committee for the razing of the building be deemed inexpedient.

The Board voted to change the polling places in Ward 7 from the Newton Library and Engine 1 House to the Underwood School. Heretofore Precinct 1 of Ward 7 voted at the fire station and Precinct 2 voted in the basement of the library building. The firemen objected to the intrusion at their quarters and the space for the voting there was not sufficient. The library building is being altered so it will not be practicable to use it for voting purposes this year. So, both precincts will vote at the Underwood School.

Alderman Powers asked Alderman Grebenstein, chairman of the Traffic Committee if he had been consulted in the matter of the arrangement of the proposed traffic tower and lights at Nonantum Square? A conference on this matter was held recently between the Street Commissioner, the Chief of Police, a representative of the Edison Company and an official from the State Department of Public Works. The Massachusetts Legislature, this year, passed a law which requires all traffic signals in this state to meet specifications ordered by the state authorities to have uniform traffic signals in Massachusetts. Alderman Grebenstein replied that he had not been consulted regarding the signals and tower at Nonantum Square and does not know what the plans are. Alderman Powers, who is also a member of the Traffic Committee, suggested that before any definite plans are made for the installation of the tower and lights at Nonantum Square, suggestions should be obtained from the traffic officers assigned to this spot, and also possibly from the Traffic Committee. He commented that by doing this, a repetition of the impracticable layout made in the traffic signals at Newtonville Square may be avoided.

Alderman Gallagher requested that Buildings Commissioner Chadwick be asked to come to the Aldermanic Chamber and when that official arrived, the Ward 1 alderman started to question him regarding the plans of the new fire station which will be erected on Washington street near Centre avenue to quarter Engine 1 and Ladder 3. Alderman Gallagher stated that he had been informed through a reliable source that the new fire station will have dormitories instead of smaller rooms where a couple of the firemen can sleep. He denounced such a plan, asserting that it would be a menace to the physical

School Attendance Smaller Than Usual

Parents of Grade School Children Evidently Dread Infantile Paralysis

When the Newton schools opened last Monday the attendance totalled 9061 as compared with 9619 for the opening day last year. While the fact that the Oak Hill school is not opened as yet accounts for a small percentage of the falling off in the attendance record, the principal cause is the fear on the part of many parents of that dread disease, infantile paralysis, which has appeared recently in this and neighboring communities. A number of Newton families are still at their summer homes, waiting for cooler weather before returning to Newton. Others, who have returned, are keeping their children away from school. When the severe outbreak of infantile paralysis occurred in 1916, Federal and State health officials advised that the schools be opened, as in their opinion a child is in no more danger of catching this disease in school than out of school. The neighboring city of Waltham where the disease was prevalent during the past few months was advised to open its schools at the usual time this month, and did.

Watertown also was advised by the State health authorities to open its schools last week, but because 5 new cases of the disease were reported in Watertown a day or two after this advice was received, the local health authorities of Watertown decided not to open the schools there until October 1. In Watertown 60 children displayed symptoms of poliomyelitis and received treatment. Of this number less than 20 developed positive cases and became paralyzed. The other children, whose parents took precautions in time and had serum treatment administered, escaped the feared results of the sickness.

Attention is called to the letter on the subject of infantile paralysis by Dr. Francis G. Curtis, chairman of the Newton Board of Health, on page fourteen of this issue.

School Conditions Queried By Aldermen

Basement of New John Ward School And Gymnasium Floor at High School Under Discussion

An interrogation of Buildings Commissioner Chadwick by Alderman Heathcote was started at the meeting of the aldermen on Monday night as a result of a question put to the Buildings Commissioner by Alderman Ball. The latter alderman took the floor when the meeting was about ready to adjourn and asked Mr. Chadwick regarding the alleged damp condition in the basement of the new John Ward School near Chestnut Hill. Mr. Ball referred to whisperings about the city regarding the condition at certain schools. Mr. Chadwick replied that the basement at the Ward school is not damp and that the moisture there was caused by condensation.

At a recent meeting of the aldermen, Alderman Heathcote had asserted that the Ward school basement was very moist and naturally, the Ward 4 alderman construed Alderman Ball's remarks as a contradiction of the statement he had made. He started to question Commissioner Chadwick regarding a large quantity of sawdust which he asserted had been sprinkled on the floor of the basement at the Ward school a day or two after he had spoken in the aldermanic meeting of the condition at that building. The Buildings Commissioner denied that any appreciable amount of sawdust had been sprinkled in the Ward school basement and stated that sawdust is sprinkled on the floors in the basements of a number of school buildings in the city.

Mr. Heathcote next questioned Mr. Chadwick on the matter of relaying the defective floor at the new high school gymnasium. The Ward 4 alderman contended that the $5300 expended on this work had been illegally diverted from money expressly

Water Rate Increase Proposed At City Hall

Aldermen to Consider An Increase Of 20 Per Cent Over Present Figures

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, Alderman Ball, chairman of the Special Committee on Water reported that as a result of deliberations by that committee, the Public Works Committee and the Finance Committee, he would ask the Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen to consider at its next meeting the matter of recommending increases in the rates charged for water in Newton so that the full Board can take action on such increases at the next regular meeting. Alderman Ball stated that the rates in this city were reduced 10 years ago but because of the large amount of work done in the past few years to improve the local water supply, and the probability that Newton's share of the Metropolitan Water system cost because of the big Ware River water supply project it will be necessary to increase the rates.

Alderman Powers asked if the city had not made a profit on its water department in past years? Alderman Ball replied that several years ago the Water Department did apparently show profits but the work done during the past three years has exhausted the profits made and the continuation of work necessary will cause a deficiency if the present rates are continued. He asserted that the cost of new water mains should be defrayed from profits made by the city in the sale of water and not from the issuance of bonds.

Alderman Powers replied that the question of water is one of growing importance, especially since 1919, and that nothing should be done to discourage the increased use of water. He contended that the present expenses of the Water Department are unusual, that the cost of laying new

The State Primary Next Tuesday Will Settle Hard Fought Contests

Republicans Have a Majority of Fights as Their Nominations Will Probably be Elected in November

Next Tuesday the 23,000 voters of Newton will have an opportunity to show their public spirit by participating in the selection of Republican and Democratic candidates for public office, preliminary to the regular election on November 6th. For many of the offices the selection taken next Tuesday will be virtually the election as the Republican nomination will be undoubtedly successful.

On the Republican side, there are two candidates for governor: Lieut. Governor Frank G. Allen, who has had a long experience in state affairs, having served in the House as president of the Senate and for four years as lieutenant governor. He is also a man of wide business experience. He is opposed by Frank G. Goodwin, former registrar of motor vehicles, where he made a splendid record, but his subsequent actions and opinions have not been so convincing.

There are eight candidates for lieutenant governor, four of whom have been making an active canvass all over this state. George A. Bacon of Springfield, a former chairman of the Republican State Committee, Peir G. Holmes of Worcester, present member of the Governor's Council, Charles L. Burrill, a former state treasurer and a former councillor and Wyllie C. Marshall are candidates who are not expected to poll much of a vote. Of the remainder, John C. Hull, now Speaker of the House, is one of the leaders, notwithstanding the recent characterization of the Anti-Saloon League of his prohibition record as merely "fair." General John H. Sherburne is another leader whose splendid record in the World's War is bringing many votes to his candidacy. Robert M. Leach running as a business man, has probably the strongest organization among the influential members of the party of all the candidates and will poll a heavy vote in consequence. State Treasurer William S. Youngman is the last candidate alphabetically but his campaign has been active for nearly two years and he will be a large factor in the result next Tuesday.

State Secretary Frederic W. Cook's excellent record in office will give him an unopposed and well deserved renomination, and a subsequent election. For State Treasurer, there are four candidates. Fred J. Burrell, who was State Treasurer for nine months some years ago resigning after much criticism of his conduct of that office, is again a candidate, but will probably receive little support. Former State Senator John W. Haigis, should be the winner if results are based on efficiency and ability. Mr. Haigis is president of the bank at Greenfield, and has a long record of fine public service. J. Ernest Kerr, is the secretary of the Republican Club of Massachusetts, and that is about the extent of his availability as a candidate. Russell A. Wood, a leading Progressive, of

NEWTON ELEVEN TO BE ROAD TEAM

With but three home games on a schedule of nine the Newton High school football eleven should be well accustomed to traveling this fall. It is frequently said that a school football team, or most any athletic team for that matter, plays better before a home crowd than before the fans of its opponents but with the six trips to foreign fields the orange and black should soon get over the strange feeling and not be in the least flustered. Newton fans will journey to Claffin field but three times in the next two months and in the three opponents to be played there not one can be called a major attraction, although two of the games will be Suburban league contests.

The first game of the season will be played on September 29th at Claffin Field against the Belmont High school eleven, coached by Lewis "Polly" Harris, a former Newton high and Colgate end. Harris was an end on the teams of 1913 and 1914 which were captained by Charles Brady and Raymond Van Tassel in the days of the Triangular league made up of Newton, Brookline and Cambridge Latin. In addition to being a star end Harris possessed an educated toe that scored many points for Newton by the field goal route. Harris later was an end on the Colgate University eleven and a few years ago assumed the coaching position at Belmont high. While at Belmont the former Newton athlete has turned out some fine teams which have ranked well among the smaller school teams and which has won several championships in its league. The Belmont eleven can be depended upon to give Newton a stiff opening contest.

The following Saturday, October 6th, Newton and Cambridge open the 1928 Suburban league season at Russell Field, Cambridge in a morning game scheduled to start at 10 o'clock. The annual game on Columbus Day, Oct. 12th, with Everett will be played at Everett this fall under the alternate home and home rule of the Suburban league. Both Cambridge Latin and Everett played at Claffin Field last season.

On the 20th of October Newton will travel to Beverly for the longest trip of the season. Beverly has the same school colors, orange and black, as Newton although the uniforms are not near enough alike to cause any confusion. Beverly came to Newton last fall in the first game of a two-year agreement for a game in each city. Although last year's game with Beverly was a good middle season game the contract will in all probability not be extended.

The second home game of the season will be that with Somerville on October 27th. This is the third league game this year as usual and is alternately played here and at Somerville. Medford has been given the first November date which for the past two years was held by Lawrence under a two-year agreement. Although Medford dropped out of the Suburban league a few years ago there is still great rivalry between the two teams. Last year Medford played at Newtonville and won through two long runs by its star Bud Edgerly and another halfback named Uanna. There will be many local fans take the trip to Medford this fall to see the game.

The third and final home game of the season will be that with Rindge Technical school on November 10th. This game is usually the game in which the Newton eleven is given its final test for the annual Thanksgiving

Day game with Brookline. But as Thanksgiving Day comes unusually late this year, Nov. 29th, thus giving another Saturday to arrange a game and still leave a ten-day period before the season's climax the authorities have scheduled a game with Waltham. Waltham on Nov. 17th and Brookline on the 29th will end the 1928 season. The last Waltham game, that of 1925, was played at Waltham and prior to that year was alternately played on the field of each team. Accordingly this year's contest should have been played at Claffin field but because of the inadequate seating accommodations at Newton the game will be played on the Watch City gridiron. The seating capacity of Newton's stands is considerably below 5000 and in all probability there will be twice that number desiring to see the game.

Practically the same situation applies to the Turkey Day game with Brookline, the final and quite often a decisive Suburban league game. Last fall Brookline dedicated its new stands and while they were completely filled on Thanksgiving Day the conditions were far from satisfactory. Permission of the Suburban league officials was sought to set aside the alternate year rule and obtained so that Newton fans will again have to make the trip to the Wealthy Town.

Meanwhile Coach Sullivan has had a large flock of candidates at the daily practice sessions. One hundred and twenty-five were out during the first of the week for the varsity, intermediate and junior varsity teams. The freshmen candidates have not yet been called out. Wednesday the first cut was made in the squad so that it is now possible for the Newton mentor and his assistants to give more individual instruction. Scrimmages have been held and before another week rolls around the varsity squad will probably have been chosen. With more veterans on hand than is usual and several likely looking prospects among the new men the orange and black should have a team of at least usual strength and ability.

SPORT NOTES

Williamson A. N. U. Track Prospect
Carleton Williamson, a sophomore at Northeastern University, is one of the foremost prospects for the fall track team at that school. The Huskies, with several veteran performers are expected to have a strong team of point scorers against Tufts in a dual meet next month.

Martin Loses in Finals

Donald Martin, local youth and captain of the Boston University tennis team was within a few games of annexing the South Shore tennis singles championship last week Saturday in the finals at the Hatherly Country Club. Martin was pitted against H. G. Soule of Belmont who captured the match and title after a five set struggle, 2-6, 6-4, 1-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Andres Has Competition

Harold Andres, former Newton high three-sport athlete who is a candidate for centre on the Dartmouth varsity this fall has considerable competition in the fight for the berth. Andres won his numerals last year in three sports, football, hockey and baseball, as a freshman at the Hanover institution. Coach Jess Hawley of the grid team has tentatively named Sam Adams of Oak Park, Illinois, as the first team centre but it is possible that a recent operation for appendicitis may cause him some trouble. There is a wealth of centre material, however, with Andres, Henry Burroughs of Manchester, N. H., and Paul Crehan of Roxbury ready any time.

Miss Virginia Rice, Newton Centre girl, and her partner Evelyn Parsons reached the semi-finals in the girls' national doubles tennis tournament at Philadelphia last week but were eliminated in that round by Charlotte Miller and Virginia Hilleary in straight sets, 6-6, 6-1. The winning pair were defeated in the final by the Palfrey sisters, Sarah and Mianne.

Six Local Youths in Bowdoin Squad
Forty-one suits were given out to candidates for the Bowdoin College football team on Monday of this week. Of this number six were issued to lads well-known in Newton. Among the veterans to report were Captain Winslow Howland of Auburndale; Robert Adams, of Needham, former Newton high captain and end; Stuart Stone of West Newton; and Harry Thayer of Marblehead, a former Waban resident. George H. Souther of Waban, freshman back last fall, and Herbert H. Smith are among the promising candidates with either freshman experience or who were on the varsity squad last year.

POLICE NEWS

Frederic A. Lyman of Somerville was sentenced to 30 days in the Middlesex county jail on Monday, fined $50 for going away after an accident without making himself known, and fined $10 for drunkenness. A couple of months ago Lyman, while intoxicated, drove a car down Washington street and after hitting and injuring George Luchini of Thornton street, Newton, as the latter was crossing Washington street, Lyman continued on his wobbly way to collide with two automobiles at Newton Corner. He then attempted to escape but was caught by Patrolman McDonough. He was released on bail from the Newton police headquarters and when his trial was called in the Newton court he did not appear and was defaulted. It was subsequently learned that he had gone to California. When the Newton police found he had returned, they arrested him.

Mary Maruzzo, 16, of 260 River street, West Newton, employed as a maid by Mrs. Madison Gilman of Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville, was arrested Monday night charged with the theft of a $300 diamond ring and $10 in money from her former employer. The theft was discovered after the girl had left the employ of Mrs. Gilman. The ring was recovered. The girl will be tried on September 14.

Frank Sullivan of 930 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, was arrested Wednesday by Motorcyclist Officer O'Donnell charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His case will be tried on September 28.

Robert Rockwell of 47 Butts street, Upper Falls, was arrested yesterday morning by Serg. Crowley and Patrolman Cummings and surrendered to a Lowell policeman. He is wanted in that city for non-support of a minor child.

John Wakefield of 55 Prescott street, Newtonville, was fined $5 in the Newton court yesterday for driving a car without proper lights.

Mark Cooper of Prospect street, West Newton, arrested last week for carrying a revolver without a permit was found not guilty in court yesterday because of insufficient evidence. It was alleged that Cooper drew the gun to emphasize matters during an argument.

Bernard Wicks, Jr., of Dorchester was fined $10 by Judge Weston on Tuesday for operating an automobile without proper number plates. Wicks was arrested on a default warrant after he had failed to appear in the Newton court to answer charges brought by Officer Taffe. Taffe told Judge Weston that he had caught Wicks driving a car through Nonantum square bearing paper number plates, which, upon investigation, were found to be unauthorized.

William Ross of 76 Bennington street, Newton, was in court Wednesday charged with operating an uninsured car and with using number plates not assigned to it. Both charges were placed on file when young Ross informed the judge that the registration and insurance of another car had been transferred to the car he was operating but there had been a delay in recording the transfer at the office of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles.

Irene Mulvey of Walk Hill street, Mattapan, was fined $10 in the Newton court on Wednesday for speeding. Irene wanted to plead nolo, but Judge Weston refused to let her off so easily.

Walter Wells of Mattapan was fined $10 by Judge Weston on Wednesday for speeding and $10 for driving without a license in his possession. Other speeders fined $10 on that day were Lester Rowe of Framingham and Charles Cassidy of Roslindale. Fred Chevallier of Holliston was fined $5 for speeding and another $5 for driving without proper lights.

appropriated for repairs on other school buildings. He asked the Building Commissioner to give a detailed report of the various repair jobs done on the school buildings to prove that the work which the Finance Committee had authorized in the budget had been accomplished. Mr. Heathcote asked City Solicitor Bartlett for a ruling on the contention of Alderman Pitts, chairman of the Public Buildings Committee, that the work of laying a new floor at the high school gymnasium could be considered as maintenance of buildings rather than replacement of defective construction. Mr. Bartlett gave the opinion that Mr. Pitts' contention was correct. The latter alderman explained that Mr. Chadwick has been able during the past year to save considerable money by having some of the repairs on school buildings done for smaller sums than had been estimated in the budget figures and thus had a surplus which he was able to use for the work on the gymnasium floor. Mr. Pitts asked Mr. Chadwick if all the work specified in the conferences with the Finance Committee and which the latter had recommended appropriations for, has been accomplished. Mr. Chadwick replied in the affirmative. He also stated that he will gladly furnish Mr. Heathcote with the report asked for regarding the detailed repairs made and the costs thereon.

MEETING OF ALFRED E. SMITH CLUB

The Alfred E. Smith Club of Newton will hold a meeting next Wednesday evening in Bay State Hall at Centre and Elmwood streets, Newton Corner. The club has been active since its formation last month in registering many new voters. The meeting next Wednesday will formulate plans for intensive work during the next few weeks.

and mental welfare of the firemen, would prevent them obtaining proper sleep because a couple of loud snorers would keep their comrades awake, and resorting to dormitories is a step backwards and contrary to modern ideas. Commissioner Chadwick stated that nothing definite has been done regarding the plans of the new fire station, but he did not convince the Ward 1 member of the Board.

Alderman Ball said that the matter is one for the Public Buildings Committee to consider and it should not be argued by the full Board. Alderman Pitts, chairman of the Public Buildings Committee stated that his committee had not seen any plans of the proposed fire station and that nothing definite has been decided upon. Alderman Heathcote commended Alderman Gallagher for bringing the matter before the Board, asserting that the Board should be on its guard regarding work done on public buildings and he referred to the relaying of the floor of the gymnasium at the new high school building as an instance of work done without the knowledge of all the members of the Finance Committee. Alderman Gallagher said that while he apparently had been misinformed regarding the acceptance of plans for the new building, he still thought it was "to be cut and dried" that dormitories should be used, and he did not retract one word of what he had said.

Clement Hernandez appeared to favor the petition of Stanley Arend for a 3 car garage at 61 Sheffield road, Newtonville. No opposition appeared against this petition or those of B. Ebel for a permit to build a 3 car garage at 1024 Chestnut street, Upper Falls; George B. Kimball for a permit to build a 5 car garage at 350 Chestnut street, West Newton; Louis Boudrot for a permit to build a 30 car public garage and repair shop at 112 Needham street, Newton Highlands; Central Congregational Church for a permit to store oil in a 2000 gallon tank.

On the petition of Joseph P. Switzer for a permit to conduct a gasoline station at 441 Watertown street, Nonantum and to erect a 25 car garage and repair shop at the rear of that location, Attorney James P. Gallagher for the petitioner explained that the lot has 110 feet frontage on Watertown street, is 100 feet deep, in a manufacturing district, and the building will be used for repair purposes rather than for the storage of automobiles. The petitioner has conducted a repair business at Nonantum for 8 years and needs larger quarters. Mr. Gallagher read a letter from an abuttor favoring the petition. City Clerk Grant read a letter from another abuttor, Annie V. Quinn, protesting against the granting of the petition.

Attorney John Finelli, who stated he represented no person in particular, but who was actuated because of his interest in the welfare of the community, protested against the permit being granted. He contended that to allow a gasoline station at the location sought will cause danger to children using the Hawthorne street playground nearby and that there are enough gasoline stations in the Nonantum district now. He asserted that the property is not, as yet, owned by Mr. Switzer, and that if he desires to expand his business he can purchase land adjoining his present location. Loreto Gentile of Watertown street also objected to the granting of the petition.

No opposition developed to the petitions of the Edison Company for pole locations on Dorset road, Southwick road, Tolman street and Willow street. Frank W. Wise of 62 Prince street objected to a permit being granted to erect a pole on that street near Sewall street. He argued that Prince street has been kept attractive by having been kept free from poles, that the telephone company was forced to lay its wires underground and that the house for which electric service is desired can be supplied by wires from poles in its rear, located on private property, as are the poles which hold the wires supplying electricity to Mr. Wise's house. Clarence G. Haskell also objected to the granting of a pole location on Prince street.

The appointment of John J. Miskella as an election officer in Precinct 3 of Ward 2 was confirmed. Mr. Miskella has served for some years in this capacity but when the list of officers appeared this year his name was not included by error.

A number of names were drawn, the owners of said names to serve as jurors at coming sessions of the Superior Court to be held at Cambridge next month. The names drawn were Kenneth Holden, 1881 Beacon street; Harold Sherman, 264 Mill street; Walter Broderick, 130 Randlett park; Henry McLure, 85 Berkshire road; James A. Mitchell, 60 Clyde street; William H. Segreve, 15 Crescent square; Harold Temperly, 150 Gibbs street; Leo McAleer, 4 Conley street.

The committee on Franchises and Licenses reported favorably on the granting of the following petitions: Harry J. Guerin, 64 Perkins street, Ward 3, 2-car garage.

Thomas A. Dewire, 4 Monadnock road, Wd. 6, 3-car garage.

George E. Eustis, 191 Pearl street, one 2nd-class taxi license.

Agnes Boudreau, Common Victualer license, 1276 Washington street, Wd. 3.

William LeVert, one trucking license, 87 Freeman street, Wd. 4.

C. O. Ashforth and G. H. Barthelme, 11 West street, Wd. 1, one Express truck license.

Peter F. Donnan, changing location of garage, 806 Watertown street, Wd. 3.

D. Bradley Rich, 193 Gibbs street, Wd. 6, renewal auctioneer license.

Gulf Refining Co., permit to install two additional gasoline pumps, corner River and Lexington streets. No additional gasoline storage.

Waldorf System, Inc., Common Victualer license, at Boston College, Wd. 6, in present college building only.

Thomas F. O'Brien, 1 additional pool table, 2289 Washington street, Wd. 4.

Boston, Worcester & New York St. Rwy. Co., permit to attach wires to poles of Edison Co., on Homer street, Walnut street and Hartford street.

The committee also reported favorably on petitions from 42 applicants for permits to erect private garages.

Petitions which were not acted upon favorably by the committee and which were turned down by the Board were those of Frank Perkins for a 3 car garage at 186 Woodward street, Newton Highlands, Peter Jones of Watertown for a junk collector's license, and Rose Dearborn for 10 bowling alleys on Bacon street, Newton.

Mr. Perkins desired a large garage to contain, among other automobiles a huge vehicle used as a "house on wheels." Many objections were received from neighbors against a permit being granted for this garage. The practice has been not to grant junk licenses to non-residents of Newton and no exception was made in the case of Jones. Rose Dearborn had been twice refused a license this year for bowling alleys, before presenting a petition for the third time. Residents of Bacon and Peabody streets have been protesting against this petition.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Abner K. Pratt, quietly observed the golden anniversary of the marriage last Sunday and informally received a number of friends and neighbors who called to congratulate them on the event.

Mr. Pratt and Miss Jennie Woodman of Dover, N. H., were married in Boston, Sept. 9, 1878, and made Newton Centre their home two years later, their present home being at 129 Gibbs street.

For Mr. Pratt this is another notable time of the year for 50 years ago he began his business career with the J. L. Fairbanks Co. of Boston, and of which he is now the owner.

Mr. and Mrs. Pratt have one son, former president of the board of aldermen, George W. Pratt, who is also a resident of Newton Centre and associated with his father in the Fairbanks Co.

NEWTON ELEVEN TO BE ROAD TEAM

With but three home games on a schedule of nine the Newton High school football eleven should be well accustomed to traveling this fall. It is frequently said that a school football team, or most any athletic team for that matter, plays better before a home crowd than before the fans of its opponents but with the six trips to foreign fields the orange and black should soon get over the strange feeling and not be in the least flustered. Newton fans will journey to Claffin field but three times in the next two months and in the three opponents to be played there not one can be called a major attraction, although two of the games will be Suburban league contests.

The first game of the season will be played on September 29th at Claffin Field against the Belmont High school eleven, coached by Lewis "Polly" Harris, a former Newton high and Colgate end. Harris was an end on the teams of 1913 and 1914 which were captained by Charles Brady and Raymond Van Tassel in the days of the Triangular league made up of Newton, Brookline and Cambridge Latin. In addition to being a star end, Harris possessed an educated toe that scored many points for Newton by the field goal route. Harris later was an end on the Colgate University eleven and a few years ago assumed the coaching position at Belmont high. While at Belmont the former Newton athlete has turned out some fine teams which have ranked well among the smaller school teams and which has won several championships in its league. The Belmont eleven can be depended upon to give Newton a stiff opening contest.

The following Saturday, October 6th, Newton and Cambridge open the 1928 Suburban league season at Russell Field, Cambridge in a morning game scheduled to start at 10 o'clock. The annual game on Columbus Day, Oct. 12th, with Everett will be played at Everett this fall under the alternate home and home rule of the Suburban league. Both Cambridge Latin and Everett played at Claffin Field last season.

On the 20th of October Newton will travel to Beverly for the longest trip of the season. Beverly has the same school colors, orange and black, as Newton although the uniforms are not near enough alike to cause any confusion. Beverly came to Newton last fall in the first game of a two-year agreement for a game in each city. Although last year's game with Beverly was a good middle season game the contract will in all probability not be extended.

The second home game of the season will be that with Somerville on October 27th. This is the third league game this year as usual and is alternately played here and at Somerville.

Medford has been given the first November date which for the past two years was held by Lawrence under a two-year agreement. Although Medford dropped out of the Suburban league a few years ago there is still great rivalry between the two teams. Last year Medford played at Newtonville and won through two long runs by its star Bud Edgerly and another halfback named Uanna. There will be many local fans take the trip to Medford this fall to see the game.

The third and final home game of the season will be that with Rindge Technical school on November 10th. This game is usually the game in which the Newton eleven is given its final test for the annual Thanksgiving

Day game with Brookline. But as Thanksgiving Day comes unusually late this year, Nov. 29th, thus giving another Saturday to arrange a game and still leave a ten-day period before the season's climax the authorities have scheduled a game with Waltham. Waltham on Nov. 17th and Brookline on the 29th will end the 1928 season. The last Waltham game, that of 1925, was played at Waltham and prior to that year was alternately played on the field of each team. Accordingly this year's contest should have been played at Claffin field but because of the inadequate seating accommodations at Newton the game will be played on the Watch City gridiron. The seating capacity of Newton's stands is considerably below 5000 and in all probability there will be twice that number desiring to see the game.

Practically the same situation applies to the Turkey Day game with Brookline, the final and quite often a decisive Suburban league game. Last fall Brookline dedicated its new stands and while they were completely filled on Thanksgiving Day the conditions were far from satisfactory. Permission of the Suburban league officials was sought to set aside the alternate year rule and obtained so that Newton fans will again have to make the trip to the Wealthy Town.

Meanwhile Coach Sullivan has had a large flock of candidates at the daily practice sessions. One hundred and twenty-five were out during the first of the week for the varsity, intermediate and junior varsity teams. The freshmen candidates have not yet been called out. Wednesday the first cut was made in the squad so that it is now possible for the Newton mentor and his assistants to give more individual instruction. Scrimmages have been held and before another week rolls around the varsity squad will probably have been chosen. With more veterans on hand than is usual and several likely looking prospects among the new men the orange and black should have a team of at least usual strength and ability.

Williamson A. N. U. Track Prospect
Carleton Williamson, a sophomore at Northeastern University, is one of the foremost prospects for the fall track team at that school. The Huskies, with several veteran performers expected to have a strong team of point scorers against Tufts in a dual meet next month.

Martin Loses in Finals

Donald Martin, local youth and captain of the Newton University tennis team was within a few games of annexing the South Shore tennis singles championship last week Saturday in the finals at the Hatherly Country Club. Martin was pitted against H. G. Soule of Belmont who captured the match and title after a five set struggle, 2-6, 6-4, 1-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Andres Has Competition

Harold Andres, former Newton high three-sport athlete who is a candidate for centre on the Dartmouth varsity this fall has considerable competition in the fight for the berth. Andres won his numerals last year in three sports, football, hockey and baseball, as a freshman at the Hanover institution. Coach Jess Hawley of the grid team has tentatively named Sam Adams of Oak Park, Illinois, as the first team centre but it is possible that a recent operation for appendicitis may cause him some trouble. There is a wealth of centre material, however, with Andres, Henry Burroughs of Manchester, N. H., and Paul Crehan of Roxbury ready any time.

Miss Rice And Partner Reach Semi-finals

Miss Virginia Rice, Newton Centre girl, and her partner Evelyn Parsons reached the semi-finals in the girls' national doubles tennis tournament at Philadelphia last week but were eliminated in that round by Charlotte Miller and Virginia Hilleary in straight sets, 8-6, 6-1. The winning pair were defeated in the final by the Palfrey sisters, Sarah and Mianne.

Six Local Youths in Bowdoin Squad

Forty-one suits were given out to candidates for the Bowdoin College football team on Monday of this week. Of this number six were issued to local youths to report were Captain Winslow Howland of Auburndale; Robert Adams, of Needham, former Newton high captain and end; Stuart Stone of West Newton; and Harry Thayer of Marblehead, a former Waban resident. George H. Souther of Waban, freshman back last fall, and Herbert H. Smith are among the promising candidates with either freshman experience or who were on the varsity squad last year.

The new Buick is the New Style

Graceful contours instead of straight lines—the gleam and sparkle of brilliant colors and chrome plating instead of drab effects... the most beautiful bodies ever built... Buick's masterpiece bodies by Fisher

At a time when motor car beauty was practically standardized—when imitation was the vogue—when there was a glaring lack of originality in body design—Buick has swept far beyond the commonplace and achieved a style which the entire country is acclaiming as the most distinctive and beautiful ever shown!

Fisher, the world's foremost builder of automobile bodies, has cooperated with Buick, the world's foremost builder of fine cars, to create a new mode—a new fashion—and so luminous is the result and so eagerly is the public welcoming it that Buick's great factories have reached new production levels in an effort to keep pace with an ever increasing demand!

Inside and out, the new Buick bodies by Fisher are the most beautiful ever built. Together with the wonderful new standards of performance introduced by the Silver Anniversary Buick, they are winning the greatest demand and the greatest preference ever enjoyed by any fine car!

The new Buick is the new style! And by that is meant, not merely a new type of beauty—not merely a thrilling turning point in body design—but a great countrywide vogue!

POLICE NEWS

Frederic A. Lyman of Somerville was sentenced to 30 days in the Middlesex county jail on Monday, fined $50 for going away after an accident without making himself known, and fined $10 for drunkenness. A couple of months ago Lyman, while intoxicated drove a car down Washington street and after hitting and injuring George Luchini of Thornton street, Newton, as the latter was crossing Washington street, Lyman continued on his wobbly way to collide with two automobiles at Newton Corner. He then attempted to escape but was caught by Patrolman McDonough. He was released on bail from the Newton police headquarters and when his trial was called in the Newton court he did not appear and was defaulted. It was subsequently learned that he had gone to California. When the Newton police found he had returned, they arrested him.

Mary Maruzzo, 16, of 260 River street, West Newton, employed as a maid by Mrs. Madison Gilman of Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville, was arrested Monday night charged with the theft of a $300 diamond ring and $10 in money from her former employer. The theft was discovered after the girl had left the employ of Mrs. Gilman. The ring was recovered. The girl will be tried on September 14.

Frank Sullivan of 930 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, was arrested Wednesday by Motorcycle Officer O'Donnell charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His case will be tried on September 28.

Robert Rockwell of 47 Butts street, Upper Falls, was arrested yesterday morning by Serg. Crowley and Patrolman Cummings and surrendered to a Lowell policeman. He is wanted in that city for non-support of a minor child.

John Wakefield of 55 Prescott street, Newtonville, was fined $5 in the Newton court yesterday for driving a car without proper lights.

Mark Cooper of Prospect street, West Newton, arrested last week for carrying a revolver without a permit was found not guilty in court yesterday because of insufficient evidence. It was alleged that Cooper drew the gun to emphasize matters during an argument.

Bernard Wicks, Jr., of Dorchester was fined $10 by Judge Weston on Tuesday for operating an automobile without proper number plates. Wicks was arrested on a default warrant after he had failed to appear in the Newton court to answer charges brought by Officer Taffe. Taffe told Judge Weston that he had caught Wicks driving a car through Nonantum square bearing paper number plates, which, upon investigation, were found to be unauthorized.

William Ross of 76 Bennington street, Newton, was in court Wednesday charged with operating an uninsured car and with using number plates not assigned to it. Both charges were placed on file when young Ross informed the judge that the registration and insurance of another car had been transferred to the car he was operating but there had been a delay in recording the transfer at the office of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles.

Irene Mulvey of Walk Hill street, Mattapan, was fined $10 in the Newton court on Wednesday for speeding. Irene wanted to plead nolo, but Judge Weston refused to let her off so easily.

Walter Wells of Mattapan was fined $10 by Judge Weston on Wednesday for speeding and $10 for driving without a license in his possession. Other speeders fined $10 on that day were Lester Rowe of Framingham and Charles Cassidy of Roslindale. Fred Chevalier of Holliston was fined $5 for speeding and another $5 for driving without proper lights.

appropriated for repairs on other school buildings. He asked the Building Commissioner to give a detailed report of the various repair jobs done on the school buildings to prove that the work which the Finance Committee had authorized in the budget has been accomplished. Mr. Heathcote asked City Solicitor Bartlett for a ruling on the contention of Alderman Fitts, chairman of the Public Buildings Committee, that the work of laying a new floor at the high school gymnasium could be considered as maintenance of buildings rather than replacement of defective construction. Mr. Bartlett gave the opinion that Mr. Fitts contention was correct. The latter alderman explained that Mr. Chadwick has been able during the past year to save considerable money by having some of the repairs on school buildings done for smaller sums than had been estimated in the budget figures and thus had a surplus which he was able to use for the work on the gymnasium floor. Mr. Fitts asked Mr. Chadwick if all the work specified in the conferences with the Finance Committee and which the latter had recommended appropriations for, has been accomplished. Mr. Chadwick replied in the affirmative. He also stated that he will gladly furnish Mr. Heathcote with the report asked for regarding the detailed repairs made and the costs thereon.

MEETING OF ALFRED E. SMITH CLUB

The Alfred E. Smith Club of Newton will hold a meeting next Wednesday evening in Bay State Hall at Centre and Elmwood streets, Newton Corner. The club has been active since its formation last month in registering many new voters. The meeting next Wednesday will formulate plans for intensive work during the next few weeks.

MEETING OF ALDERMEN

and mental welfare of the firemen, would prevent them obtaining proper sleep because a couple of loud snorers would keep their comrades awake, and resorting to dormitories is a step backwards and contrary to modern ideas. Commissioner Chadwick stated that nothing definite has been done regarding the plans of the new fire station, but he did not convince the Ward 1 member of the Board.

Alderman Bail said that the matter is one for the Public Buildings Committee to consider and it should not be argued by the full Board. Alderman Fitts, chairman of the Public Buildings Committee stated that his committee had not seen any plans of the proposed fire station and that nothing definite has been decided upon. Alderman Heathcote commended Alderman Gallagher for bringing the matter before the Board, asserting that the Board should be on its guard regarding work done on public buildings and he referred to the relaying of the floor of the gymnasium at the new high school building as an instance of work done without the knowledge of all the members of the Finance Committee. Alderman Gallagher said that while he apparently had been misinformed regarding the acceptance of plans for the new building, he still thought it was "to be cut and dried" that dormitories should be used, and he did not retract one word of what he had said.

Clement Hernandez appeared to favor the petition of Stanley Arend for a 3 car garage at 61 Sheffield road, Newtonville. No opposition appeared against this petition or those of E. Ebel for a permit to build a 3 car garage at 1024 Chestnut street, Upper Falls; George B. Kimball for a permit to build a 5 car garage at 350 Chestnut street, West Newton; Louis Boudrot for a permit to build a 50 car public garage and repair shop at 112 Needham street, Newton Highlands; Central Congregational Church for a permit to store oil in a 2000 gallon tank.

On the petition of Joseph P. Switzer for a permit to conduct a gasoline station at 441 Watertown street, Nonantum and to erect a 25 car garage and repair shop at the rear of that location, Attorney James P. Gallagher for the petitioner explained that the lot has 110 feet frontage on Watertown street, is 100 feet deep, in a manufacturing district, and the building will be used for repair purposes rather than for the storage of automobiles. The petitioner has conducted a repair business at Nonantum for 8 years and needs larger quarters. Mr. Gallagher read a letter from an abettor favoring the petition. City Clerk Grant read a letter from another abettor, Annie V. Quinn, protesting against the granting of the petition.

Attorney John Phell, who stated he represented no person in particular, but who was actuated because of his interest in the welfare of the community, protested against the permit being granted. He contended that to allow a gasoline station at the location sought will cause danger to children using the Hawthorne street playground nearby and that there are enough gasoline stations in the Nonantum district now. He asserted that the property is not, as yet, owned by Mr. Switzer, and that if he desires to expand his business he can purchase land adjoining his present location. Loreto Gentile of Watertown street also objected to the granting of the petition.

No opposition developed to the petitions of the Edison Company for pole locations on Dorset road, Southwick road, Tolman street and Willow street. Frank W. Wise of 62 Prince street objected to a permit being granted to erect a pole on that street near Savall street. He argued that Prince street has been kept attractive by having been kept free from poles, that the telephone company was forced to lay its wires underground and that the house for which electric service is desired can be supplied by wires from poles in its rear, located on private property, as are the poles which hold the wires supplying electricity to Mr. Wise's house. Clarence G. Haskell also objected to the granting of a pole location on Prince street.

The appointment of John J. Miskella as an election officer in Precinct 3 of Ward 2 was confirmed. Mr. Miskella has served for some years in this capacity but when the list of officers appeared this year his name was not included by error.

A number of names were drawn, the owners of said names to serve as jurors at coming sessions of the Superior Court to be held at Cambridge next month. The names drawn were Kenneth Holden, 1881 Beacon street; Harold Sherman, 264 Mill street; Walter Broderick, 130 Randlett park; Henry McLure, 85 Berkshire road; James A. Mitchell, 60 Clyde street; William H. Segreve, 15 Crescent square; Harold Temperly, 150 Gibbs street; Leo McAleer, 4 Copley street.

The committee on Franchises and Licenses reported favorably on the granting of the following petitions:—

Harry J. Guerin, 64 Perkins street, Ward 3, 2-car garage.

Thomas A. Dewire, 4 Monadnock road, Wd. 6, 3-car garage.

George E. Eustis, 191 Pearl street, one 2nd-class taxi license.

Agnes Boudreau, Common Victualer license, 1276 Washington street, Wd. 3.

William LeVert, one trucking license, 87 Freeman street, Wd. 4.

C. O. Ashforth and G. H. Barthelme, 11 West street, Wd. 1, one Express truck license.

Peter F. Donovan, changing location of garage, 806 Watertown street, Wd. 3.

D. Bradley Rich, 193 Gibbs street, Wd. 6, renewal auctioneer license.

Gulf Refining Co., permit to install two additional gasoline pumps, corner River and Lexington streets.

Waldorf System, Inc., Common Victualer license, at Boston College, Wd. 6, in present college building only.

Thomas F. O'Brien, 1 additional pool table, 2289 Washington street, Wd. 4.

The committee also reported favorably on petitions from 42 applicants for permits to erect private garages.

Petitions which were not acted upon favorably by the committee and which were turned down by the Board were those of Frank Perkins for a 3 car garage at 186 Woodward street, Newton Highlands, Peter Jones of Watertown for a junk collector's license, and Rose Dearborn for 10 bowling alleys on Bacon street, Newton.

Mr. Perkins desired a large garage to contain, among other automobiles a huge vehicle used as a "house on wheels." Many objections were received from neighbors against a permit being granted for this garage. The practice has been not to grant junk licenses to non-residents of Newton and no exception was made in the case of Jones. Rose Dearborn had been twice refused a license this year for bowling alleys, before presenting a petition for the third time. Residents of Bacon and Peabody streets have been protesting against this petition.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Abner K. Pratt, quietly observed the golden anniversary of the marriage last Sunday and informally received a number of friends and neighbors who called to congratulate them on the event.

Mr. Pratt and Miss Jennie Woodman of Dover, N. H., were married in Boston, Sept. 9, 1878, and made Newton Centre their home two years later, their present home being at 129 Gibbs street.

For Mr. Pratt this is another notable time of the year for 60 years ago he began his business career with the J. L. Fairbanks Co. of Boston, and of which he is now the owner.

Mr. and Mrs. Pratt have one son, former president of the board of aldermen, George W. Pratt, who is also a resident of Newton Centre and associated with his father in the Fairbanks Co.

EDITORIAL

The primary election next Tuesday is of great importance for the nominations for the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, state secretary, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, councillor, state senator, representatives and all uncontested offices made by the Republican party on that date will undoubtedly be overwhelmingly elected in November. It is therefore

JOHN C. HULL For Lieutenant Governor

On September 18th the Republican voters of the State will make their nominations for State offices. One of the most important offices to be filled is that of Lieutenant Governor because of the unwritten rule that the person nominated for Lieutenant Governor shall in later years become the candidate of the party for Governor.

Eight candidates are seeking that nomination, all of them estimable gentlemen and good Republicans and many of them personal friends. We must however make our nominations not on the basis of personal friendship but on the basis of experience and qualification for office.

We favor the nomination of John C. Hull for Lieutenant Governor and we hope that the reasons which have influenced us to support him will likewise appeal to you.

1. Mr. Hull is a native New Englander, a resident of Massachusetts for thirty-three years, a graduate of one of our best New England colleges, an educator, a lawyer and a man of high intelligence.
2. He has been a member of the Massachusetts legislature for thirteen years. During that long term of service he has been House Chairman of the Committee on Education, Chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary, and for four years Speaker. Thus practical experience has brought him in closest touch with all important legislative problems arising in the reconstruction period following the great war, and few men have served so long and so acceptably as a member of the House of Representatives. The experience thus gained will be invaluable to a Lieutenant Governor or Governor. None of the other gentlemen running for the office can have an equal familiarity with State problems.
3. He is a staunch Republican, standing four square on the National platform, favoring the protection of American industry and the Eighteenth Amendment. Without reservation or qualification he favors Herbert Hoover for President.
4. During his term as Speaker he has loyally co-operated with the Governor on all important State issues.
5. As a member of the legislature and Speaker of the House he has consistently favored the passage of constructive measures for the development of Massachusetts and of its business and industry. This is well instanced in his active support and aid in putting through the following measures:

The Airport Bill for the city of Boston.
The bill to make possible the New Boston & Maine Terminal.
The Branch Banking Bill.
The Compulsory Automobile Insurance Bill.
The East Boston Vehicular Tunnel Bill.
The Gasoline Tax Bill.
The Metropolitan District Water Extension Bill.
The Motor Vehicle Excise Tax.
The Smoke Abatement Act.
The bill for standard city charters.
Important amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act.
State Police for Rural Communities.

If in the future John Hull is elected Governor of Massachusetts the Commonwealth will have still another chief executive of sound common sense, wide grasp of public problems and a desire to maintain the best tradition of the Commonwealth. He will be a worthy successor to Calvin Coolidge, Channing Cox and Alvan Fuller.

Very truly yours,

HERBERT M. COLE

The State Primaries take place on September 18th. There are eight candidates for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor, an unusual and dangerous situation.

The undersigned advocate the nomination of John H. Sherburne, a man who has given many years of service to the Commonwealth as a member of the Legislature, as Food Administrator and in the World War. We believe him as a man of ability and strong principles to be the best fitted of the candidates for this office.

We believe that his nomination will strengthen the Republican party in Massachusetts and assist in the election of Hoover and Curtis and the other Republican candidates.

We urge you to vote for him at the Primary election on September 18th.

Keep An Efficient Woman On The Governor's Council

Mrs. Esther M. Andrews OF BROOKLINE
Councillor for Third District

"Governor Fuller has made a ten-strike, in our judgment, in naming Mrs. Esther M. Andrews to the vacancy in the Governor's Council, occasioned by the death of Charles Sumner Smith of Lincoln. Mrs. Andrews possesses very marked qualifications for performing the duties of this office in the investigation of the various state institutions, which are really under the charge of the council."

man, from one of the small towns in the district who has never held even a town office. We have heard Mr. Hollis criticised because of his vote on the unpopular side of one or two matters. In our opinion, independence of this sort is valuable in a legislator and indicates that its possessor has a mind of his own and the courage to express it. For representatives, 4th district, William B. Baker and Rupert C. Thompson, are gentlemen who have had valuable experience in public life and should be nominated. In another column we have epitomized the above opinion for convenience at the primary.

Older residents of the city will be interested to learn that William Tudor Gardiner, who has just been elected governor of Maine is the son of the late Robert H. Gardiner, a former resident of Chestnut Hill, and for many years chairman of the Republican city committee of Newton. The governor-elect was born at Chestnut Hill on June 12, 1892.

Don't be misled by eleven hour rumors regarding candidates to be nominated next Tuesday. Use your common sense and realize that all such rumors are either false or only half truths at the best.

Parents interested in the prevalence of infantile paralysis should read the letter from Dr. Curtis, chairman of the Newton board of health, to be found in another column.

PRIMARY ELECTION

years ago, is the fourth candidate and has been a persistent office seeker for some years without much success.

There are five persons contesting with Alonzo B. Cook for his present office of State Auditor. Mr. Cook ought to be defeated on his record but with opposition divided among so many candidates, his renomination is certain. The candidates include Dwight L. Allison of Watertown who has no public record within our knowledge, Julia B. Buxton of Springfield, ditto, Roland H. Choate of Milton, who has some good endorsements including the Roosevelt Club, Harvey E. Frost of Somerville, a former member of the House, and Roswell F. Phelps of Dedham, who has had considerable experience at the State House. Mr. Cook is also a candidate.

For Attorney General, Joseph E. Warner, who has no record, is the only candidate following the resignation of Mr. Reading, is opposed by Clarence A. Barnes of Mansfield. Mr. Warner should win this contest by a wide margin.

There are three candidates for the nomination for United States Senator, and the winner must contest with Senator David I. Walsh at the subsequent election. Former Congressman and Major General Butler Ames of Lowell heads the list. He has the unique distinction of being the son of a Major General and a grandson of another Major General. He is also a grandson of former Governor Benjamin F. Butler. Former State Senator Eben S. Draper is second on the list and has the endorsement of the Constitutional Liberty League, the leading "wet" organization of the State, a fact which will not meet the approval of most of the women of the state. Former Speaker B. Loring Young of Weston is the third and probably the leading candidate for the nomination, as he has a fine record of public service and possesses a pleasing personality and is an effective public speaker.

Congressman Robert Luce is unopposed for renomination. Five candidates are in the field for Councillor from this district. Mrs. Esther M. Andrews who is the present councillor, due to appointment by Governor Fuller, after Councillor Smith died last year, is appealing to the women voters for the nomination and is being opposed on the ground that the office is no place for a woman, by four male candidates. Philip R. Amidon, former president of the Republican city committee of Cambridge and former representative Ralph R. Stratton are dividing the vote of Cambridge and a colored physician, Benjamin E. Robinson resides in the Back Bay of Boston. Newton people will be more interested in the candidacy of Frank L. Nagle of Newtonville, who has a wide acquaintance in the district among the military and fraternal bodies.

For State Senator, Arthur W. Hollis, now a representative from Newton ought to be nominated, as he has made a good record at the state house during his four years of service. His opponent Harold W. MacKelvey resides in Wayland and has no public experience whatever. He is being endorsed by the Anti Saloon League.

For voters on the north side of the city, there are three candidates for the two nominations for representatives to the General Court. Rupert C. Thompson is a candidate for renomination and Alderman William B. Baker and Hugh S. Boyd are contesting for the place left vacant by Mr. Hollis' withdrawal to run for the senate. Mr. Baker ought to win.

On the south side of the city Representatives Luitweiler and Saltonstall are unopposed.

The following candidates are unopposed for renomination: County Commissioners Walter C. Wardwell of Cambridge, and Nathaniel I. Bowditch of Framingham, Clerk of Courts Ralph N. Smith of Arlington, Register of Deeds Thomas Leighton of Cambridge, and State Committeeman Edward E. Clark of Framingham.

For Associate County Commissioner, the present incumbent, Melvin G. Rogers is being opposed by Daniel D. Gorman, and just why anyone wants this office is a conundrum.

In each ward except ward one, there are unopposed candidates for ward committees and for delegates to the state convention. Failure to file such lists in ward one leaves blank places on the ballot. A ward committee and delegates can be elected in this ward provided the names are written in at the proper place, and receive at least five votes for either office.

The Democratic ticket contains less names than the Republican.

General Charles H. Cole is being opposed by John J. Cummings for the nomination for governor.

John F. Malley of Chestnut Hill and Charles S. Murphy are after the nomination for lieutenant governor.

Joseph Santosuosso for state secretary, Senator David I. Walsh for senator, Thomas D. Lavele for Congressman, Henry W. Brett for Councillor and John C. Kelcher for Register of Deeds are unopposed.

James P. Berghin and Daniel England want the treasurer's office, Strabo V. Claggett of Auburndale, Irving Lewis and Francis J. O'Gorman both of Boston hope to be state auditor, Edward P. Barry and William Scharton seek to be attorney general, Robert T. Allen of Newton and Edward J. Cary of Framingham are looking for the office of state senator, James P. Gallagher and Daniel O'Connell want to be representatives from district 4 and George L. Colson and Daniel F. McBride want to run for County Commissioner.

The polls will be open from 6 in the morning until 4:30 in the afternoon at the following places.

Wd. 1, Pet. 1, Stearns School Basement, 295 Watertown street.

Wd. 1, Pet. 2, Police Station, 332 Washington street.

Wd. 2, Pets. 1 & 2, Associates' Block, 283 Walnut street.

Wd. 3, Pets. 1 & 3, City Hall Annex, 1325 Washington street.

Wd. 3, Pet. 2, Pierce School Basement, 88 Chestnut street.

Wd. 4, Pets. 1 & 3, Fire Station, 425 Auburn street.

Wd. 4, Pet. 2, Library, 677 Grove street.

Wd. 5, Pet. 1, Emerson School Basement, 41 Pettee street.

Wd. 5, Pets. 2 & 4, Hyde School Basement, 68 Lincoln street.

Wd. 5, Pet. 3, Angier School, 1697 Beacon street.

Wd. 6, Pets. 1 & 2, Newton Centre Women's Club, 1280 Centre street.

Wd. 6, Pet. 3, Parish House, Church of the Redeemer.

Wd. 7, Pets. 1 & 2, Underwood School, Vernon street.

The only change in the above list from last year is at Chestnut Hill, where the polling place is in the parish house of the Church of the Redeemer and in ward 7 where both precincts will vote at the Underwood school hall.

FAVORS GENERAL SHERBURNE

To the Editor of the Graphic:

Will you permit me through the columns of your paper to say a few words to the voters of Newton in behalf of General John H. Sherburne, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

I have known him intimately ever since he came to the Bar in 1901. He was born in Boston, is a graduate of Harvard and its law school, and is now 51 years of age. He has had a remarkable career both in civil and military life. From 1912 to 1917 he represented Brookline in the General Court, and was one of the most influential members of the Legislature during that period. He was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1924. For 25 years he was in the continuous service of the National Guard of Massachusetts, ten years as an enlisted man, advancing through successive grades to the rank of Brigadier General. He was Colonel commanding the First Regiment of Field Artillery from Massachusetts in the Mexican Border service. He left his wife and young children at the breaking out of the World War, and was commissioned Colonel of the 101st Field Artillery of the 26th Division. He was promoted to Brigadier General while in France, commanding Field Artillery of the 92d and 26th Divisions, and took part in the Chateau Thierry and Meuse Argonne offensives, serving in the front line for seven months. When he returned from the war he was made chairman of the Commission on Necessaries of Life, and Federal Food Administrator during the years 1919 and 1920. In 1924 he was made chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Highways and Motor Laws. He is a man pre-eminently qualified for public service. He possesses administrative qualities in the highest degree, and is thoroughly public spirited, as his record demonstrates.

I have taken no active part in politics for many years past, and should not do so now did I not feel it my duty to say this much in favor of a candidate who by character, training and achievement is pre-eminently fitted for the office for which he is a candidate.

A New Broom

Some years ago we suffered deeply in a personal way from automobile accidents, and bitterly resented the attitude of state officials in control of highways. Then FRANK A. GOODWIN was put in charge of this most important department. What "couldn't be done" he did. The complete devotion he gave to making our highways safe, the direct honesty and great capacity he showed in this work roused our gratitude and high esteem. Hundreds walk our streets today saved from death by his personal efforts. His most effective weapon in this great work was complete publicity.

We feel that just now Massachusetts needs publicity and progress in matters of state business, more than she needs the orderly mechanical movement of the Republican Machine. Progress with routine is possible, but desperately slow. Publicity is

FRANK A. GOODWIN's middle name. We want to know about our public service corporations. Each time we pay bills for gas and electricity, or ride on the cars, this desire increases. With FRANK A. GOODWIN as Governor we shall have light on many things.

It will be a period of stress and strain, with much upsetting of tradition in our dignified and cautious state, but a quiet succession in politics is costly, both in cash and carry-on. The determined and rather unsuccessful efforts of those in charge of party meetings to elbow FRANK A. GOODWIN off the platform, is proof of his complete independence. He is strong, capable, open, free, and we think that Massachusetts will be a better state to live in after he has kept house a year or two on Beacon Hill.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

This year, as in former years when a national campaign was being waged to elect a President, Senators and other political leaders, those managing the campaign in this and other states have met, and will meet, in their neighborhoods or communities because those who know them well have long since had ample opportunities to "size them up" and become wise to their scheming and duplicity. The peculiar thing is—that the "astute" leaders of the big political parties fall for the buncombe of these fakirs and either give them liberal sums for "political expenses" or reward them with public jobs.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC reaches the far corners of this earth. A few days ago a request came from Rhodesia in South Africa for several extra copies of one issue of the Graphic.

We have received a pamphlet from a candidate for nomination to an utterly inexperienced candidate for office, because his opponent, a man of high character, of long experience in public life, in the exercise of his honest judgment saw fit to vote against the wishes of this organization on certain matters regarding the liquor question, is something that we cannot understand. Many sincere folks in this country of ours are led all too easily by fanatics and professional reformers.

The traffic signal at the corner of Centre street and Centre avenue has not been working properly for several days. This is a dangerous corner and the signal there should be maintained in proper working order. It is probable that a different type of signal will be placed at this point.

Newton Business Associates meet

Wednesday evening 25 members of the Newton Business Associates held an informal meeting at the Sargent Coffee Shop on Centre street and discussed matters of interest to Newton Corner. President Harold Moore presided and asked for suggestions as to what might be accomplished during the coming year. Among the improvements needed at Newton Corner were mentioned—more and better street lights around Nonantum Square and along Washington and Centre streets. It was argued that the business section of Newton Centre, which caters to much less business nights, and where there is much less automobile and foot traffic after dark than at Newton Corner, is far better lighted than is the latter district. It was also contended that the section of Centre street from Sargent street south for a few hundred yards is considerably lighted than is the Newton Corner business district.

The business men will ask the city to keep the parking spaces, cross walks and traffic instructions at Newton Corner clearly painted at all times. A convenience station at Nonantum Square will also be sought and the speedy installation of the traffic tower there will be requested. In view of the proposed new bank on the south side of the tracks at Newton and the transfer of the postoffice to that section, the defining of parking spaces on Centre street, south of the bridge will be asked for and also the enforcement of the limited parking privileges.

A campaign for increased membership will be started and it is expected that the coming year will be both an active and a successful one for the organization.

Mr. Graves was born in Weathersfield, Vermont, in 1840 and for many years conducted a grocery business. He was a civil war veteran and a member of the Killington Commandery, Knights Templars, at Rutland, Vermont. For the past twenty years he has made his home in Newtonville. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Albert D. Allison of 230 Walnut street, Newtonville, and Mrs. Earle D. Wickman of Detroit, Michigan.

ASKS FOR IMPROVEMENT OF BOYD PARK

At the meeting of the aldermen on Monday night Alderman Powers of Ward 1 spoke regarding the condition of the Boyd Park playground and Laundry Brook which runs through it. He stated that he had been through the playgrounds and had seen that the brook running through this playground fenced in. It was supposed that this improvement would be made this year but from present indications this year will not be done. The playground is in the midst of one of the most thickly populated sections of Newton and would be much more used if the brook would be covered. Under existing conditions many children and young people who reside near Boyd Park travel to Burr Playground on Park street to play or to indulge in tennis games. The Ward 1 alderman called attention to the appropriation of over $15,000 made to cover Dicker man brook at Newton Highlands and to the fact that a number of other brooks in the city have been covered in recent years. He said that Laundry Brook has been covered for nearly its entire length north of Bulfinch Pond except for that section along Jackson road and through Boyd park. This brook was formerly known as Smelt Brook, but now is referred to by residents of Jackson road as Smelt Brook. It has been in a neglected condition for some years and should be covered.

Alderman Earle, chairman of the Public Works Committee, answering Alderman Powers stated that there is a possibility that work on covering the brook through Boyd Park may be started before the end of this year. He explained that because of the rapid growth of the city, the City Engineer's department has not been able to keep up with the work before it. Certain needed improvements have been delayed because of other and more pressing demands on the City Engineer's Force.

WANTS WATER RATES INCREASED

mains to provide for the new streets of this city should not be imposed on present users of Newton water but should be paid for by issuing bonds, and that the matter of raising the rates should be considered very carefully.

Alderman Collins, chairman of the Finance Committee, agreed with Alderman Ball that the rates should be increased. He stated that work which should have been performed in maintaining properly the water system of Newton was not done in the years when the department apparently showed profits. This work had been done partially during the past couple of years, but is not completed. When it is finished, the profits which apparently existed, will be wiped out. He also stated that the matter of increasing the water rates has been considered for several years.

Asked by Alderman Noone what the proposed increases will be, Alderman Ball gave the information that to bring in the $50,000 additional revenue needed, the rates will be increased about 20%. The minimum rate will be raised from $9.00 to $10.80, the amount in excess of minimum from 20 cents to 24 cents per 100 cubic feet and the whole rate from 8 cents to 10 cents per 100 cubic feet. Replying to a question by Alderman Noone, Alderman Collins gave the information that the increased revenue derived by the city since the ordinance was changed this year which compels property owners to pay for the cost of laying connections from building connections to the water mains will amount to $15,000 or $20,000. Formerly the city paid for such connections.

The matter was referred to the Claims and Rules Committee for consideration.

Recent Deaths

DEATH OF MR. BAILY

Mr. Henry Baily, chairman of the board of assessors of Newton, died at the Newton Hospital on Tuesday morning following a few days illness at his home on Centre street, Newton Centre.

Mr. Baily was born at Newport, Pa., on January 18, 1857. He was educated at Haverford College, Pa., graduating in 1878. He took a degree at Harvard and at Boston University Law School and was admitted to the Suffolk bar in 1892. Before taking up the practice of law he taught for several years in the Chauncy Hall school.

In 1896 he represented Ward 6 in the old Common Council and was a member of the board of aldermen in 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901, serving as president the last two years. He was also a candidate for mayor when Mayor John W. Weeks was elected.

In 1909 he was appointed a member of the board of assessors and on the death of Mr. Lewis E. Coffin in 1917 he was designated as its chairman.

He was interested in the University Club, the Appalachian Mountain Club, the Newton Squash Tennis Club, and the Villagers.

He was a member of the Society of Friends but during his long residence in Newton Centre, he was associated with the First Church.

He married Miss Frances Emerson who died some two years ago and is survived by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Baily, with whom he has lived since the death of his wife.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, and were attended by a large number of friends and City Hall officials. Rev. Dr. Edward M. Noyes of the First Church officiated.

DEATH OF MR. PROCTOR

Mr. Frederick E. Proctor, for many years a resident of Newtonville, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon at the Newton Hospital, where he had been taken following a heart attack while on the train on his way home.

Mr. Proctor was born in Athol, Mass., and was 73 years of age.

He had been employed in the firm of Jones, McHaffie & Stratton Co. of Boston for 57 years and was a director in that company. His first wife, who was Sarah Fennell of Revere, died some time ago. He is survived by his second wife, Mrs. Martha (Cunningham) Proctor, formerly of Wiscasset, Me., four sons, Ralph S. Proctor of Baltimore, Md., Donald Proctor of Providence, R. I., Joseph Proctor of Newtonville and Roger Proctor, also of Newtonville, and two daughters, Mrs. Lucia Gibbs of East Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Paul Wood of Newtonville.

MRS. ANNIE B. TURNER

Mrs. Annie B. Turner of 24 Albion street, Newton Centre, wife of Philip Turner, died at her late home on Sunday following a long illness. She was born 75 years ago in Wexford, Ireland, and has resided in Newton for 56 years. Mrs. Turner was the mother of 12 children, eight of whom survive. She was also a second mother to many other children at Newton Centre, her knowledge of children and her willingness to assist other little ones than her own winning for her from her numerous little friends the title "Ma" Turner. About 25 years ago when Mrs. Turner was a resident of White avenue, Newton Centre, her unusual strength and courage saved the life of a two year old girl who fell into a deep well in that neighborhood. When Mrs. Turner was acquainted with the fact that the little one was drowning in the well, she descended over 20 feet into the well, a task doubly difficult because of the fact she was a woman of large physique, and held the baby above water until she and the little one were assisted to the surface. She then resuscitated the child. For this feat she received a citation for bravery from the Massachusetts Humane Society.

Her funeral service was held Wednesday morning at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Newton Centre. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. Besides her husband Mrs. Turner is survived by three sons, Captain Michael S. Turner of Truck 2, Newton Highlands, William J. Turner of Lawrence and Harold D. Turner, manager of the First National Bank at Los Angeles, and five daughters—Mrs. John F. Gallagher of Newtonville, Mrs. William Warner of Newton Centre and the Misses Mary E., Ella M., and Katherine A. Turner of Newton Centre.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT

He is survived by his widow Joanna and one daughter, Mrs. Weston W. Barbrick of Needham street.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at Newton Cemetery chapel. Rev. Dr. S. H. Woodrow, officiating.

INDEPENDENCE HALL

In this old "State House" built in 1734 in Philadelphia, now known as Independence Hall, the Declaration of Independence was signed. In its balcony hung the famous "LIBERTY BELL." The building is now a museum where some of the most treasured relics of American history are kept.

Each ceremony is one of marked dignity and charm made possible by the experience and courtesy of our staff.

CITY AFFAIRS

Buildings Commissioner Chadwick yesterday sent out invitations to contractors to submit bids on the new school to be erected on Parkview avenue, near Cabot street at Newtonville, and for the new house for the fire apparatus at Newton Corner. The architects' sketch of the proposed school shows an attractive building with a small tower. The preliminary plans for the new fire station show a practical structure.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the following appropriations were voted:—City Clerk's Department, for registering voters, $200; Library Department, new truck, $89; Water Department, new mail on Bonad road and other streets, $9350; Street Department, sewer in Englen road, $3520, laying out and acceptance of Glen road, Westminster road, Tyler terrace and Stiles terrace under the Betterment Law, $25,089; Street Department, building drain at Dickerman Brook, Newton Highlands, $15,840. The drain for Dickerman Brook was deemed necessary because a number of houses near this brook have had their cellars flooded after storms.

Fiorangelo Gasbarri of 34 Jackson road asks for a common victualler's license at that place. Other petitions received by the Aldermen are from Margaret Bridg for relocation of Edison pole on Chestnut street near Elliot street, Upper Falls; Domenico Bianchi, 201 Adams street, one 2nd class taxi license; Newton Yellow Cab Company, one additional 1st class taxi license; Helen Schurer permit for 3 car garage at 53 Churchill street, Newtonville; Thomas F. Dolan permit for 3 car garage at 145 Sargent street, Newton.

Arthur L. Lewis of 432 Dedham street, Oak Hill has petitioned the aldermen for a permit to erect a large henhouse at 26 Greenwood street, in that district. Mr. Lewis owns a large area of land there; 33 acres in all. A hearing was held on this matter before the Claims and Rules Committee at City Hall on Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. James W. Spring of Dudley road, Oak Hill, appeared to obtain information regarding the location and size of the proposed henhouse. As Mr. Lewis was late in arriving at the hearing, Mr. Spring departed without the desired information, but when Mr. Lewis did arrive, he assured the committee that the proposed pullet dormitory will be 250 or 300 feet removed from the Spring residence, and that, furthermore no roosters will be kept to disturb the sleep of the surrounding community. A letter of protest was received from William H. Wales of 26 Greenwood street.

Another hearing before the Claims and Rules Committee was on the petition of Herbert Walley for a permit to change a single residence to a two family residence at 64 Hillside avenue, West Newton, in a single residence district. Mr. Walley assured the committee that the dwelling will not be changed in its outward appearance, and that both the house and the surrounding grounds will be kept in attractive condition. A protest was entered by Mr. James H. McNaughton, owner of an adjoining property, who, while willing to admit that the petitioner would keep the place in good condition, feared that it might eventually be sold to some less particular person, and that to permit one residence in the neighborhood to be converted into a two-family dwelling, would establish a precedent. Letters of protest were also received from Mrs. Maria Wadsworth of Highland avenue, Mrs. Edwin H. Rogers, Mrs. Gordon Fulton and Turner Garner of Hillside avenue.

James Messenger has entered a claim against the city for damage done to his automobile by soft tar on Temple street, near Commonwealth avenue; said tar getting on the car during the hot spell last month. Frank W. Putnam asks for damages done to his car because of a defective traffic sign.

Victor Romagnoli asks for a waiver of the set-back line at Normandy road, Auburndale.

First Door Knockers Utilized as Weapons

The decorative quality of door knockers has been gaining in recognition and is now held in popular favor, says a writer in Your Home Magazine.

"Door knockers," reads Your Home, "were little known in the obscure reaches of ancient history, and their development from articles of mere utility to objects of art has covered centuries. The Greeks considered it a breach of etiquette to enter a house without warning the inmates. Spartans gave this notice by shouting their arrival, but the Athenians announced themselves by using the knocker, which introduction was doubtless made at the time when doors super-seeded hangings for purposes of greater privacy or safety. First it consisted of a rod-like piece of iron chained to the door, but unfriendly visitors sometimes wrenched it from the door and used it as a weapon of offense against the inmates. It was then that the form was changed to that of a heavy ring fastened by a strong clamp or plate to the door, thus serving the double purpose of knocker and handle. From Greece the custom was transmitted to the Romans and through their conquests to nearly every country of Europe. It was not long before they were very much elaborated, beveled, chased and designed in many variations, of which reproductions may be found for the door that would be interesting today."

Dates of Founding of Famous Colleges

An interesting compilation of the dates of the founding of the great universities of the world has been made as follows: The University of Oxford was founded by King Alfred in 872; the first college of the University of Cambridge was founded by Hugo Bishop of Ely, in 1257; the University of Paris was founded by King Philip II, about 1200. The first university of the German empire was at Prague, Bohemia, 1348; Trinity college, Dublin, was incorporated by royal charter in 1591; the University of Edinburgh the youngest in Scotland, was founded in 1582 by a charter by King James IV of Scotland, 171 years after St. Andrews, the most ancient. Harvard university had its beginning at Newton after Cambridge, Mass., in 1636; Yale university had its beginning at Saybrook, Conn., in 1700, and was removed to New Haven, in 1716, and the William and Mary college was started in 1617, and was chartered at Williamsburg, Va., in 1693.

KIWANIS CLUB

Last Friday 1000 boys of Greater Boston were enthusiastic spectators at the baseball game in Fenway park between the Red Sox and Philadelphia through the generosity of "Bob" Quinn, owner of the Red Sox. Of these 1000 youngsters, 100 were from Newton. The Newton boys included the members of the ten winning ball teams from the playgrounds of this city. They were transported to and from the ball park in busses provided by the Newton Kiwanis Club. The club also provided an ample supply of peanuts for the boys. The committee of Kiwanians who supervised the Newton youngsters included Charles Barrows, Wilfred Chagnon and Thomas Lyons. They were assisted by supervisors from the Newton Playgrounds.

The Welfare Committee of the Newton Kiwanis Club, composed of Rev. Maurice Bullock, Rev. Thomas McManmon and William E. Pike, has recommended, and the club approved, that $1500 shall be donated to enclose a large veranda at the New England Peabody Home for Chilled Children at Oak Hill with VITA glass. This is the new type of glass which allows the ultra violet rays of sunlight to be transmitted. These rays are a specific cure for rickets, surgical tuberculosis and will be of great assistance in treating the little cripples who are patients at the home. There are 118 crippled children at the home. They include members of many races and religions, and while most of them will always be crippled to some degree, a large percentage of them are partially cured of their infirmities and deformities. The treatment given them occupied years of time and the great work of charity performed by the home is deserving of much more assistance than it receives. Of the 118 little patients at the institution, 50% are orphans.

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Herbert Hanson, first assistant postmaster of Boston, was the guest and speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club, held Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. Mr. Hanson gave an interesting talk on postal service with particular reference to the new plan which went into effect August 16th. All the Newton post offices are now served by truck from the Back Bay office in Boston, by way of Newton Centre, where this mail is sorted and distributed to the proper sub-stations. Mr. Hanson stated that in this way residents of Newton received their mail much quicker than heretofore. He gave some startling figures regarding the Boston Postal district, which now covers 269 square miles and has over 70 sub-stations. The Back Bay office, in Mr. Hanson's opinion, was the best equipped post office in the country and he instanced the distribution of over 650,000 pieces of mail after 3 o'clock one afternoon. 2,000,000 pieces of mail matter daily is not an unusual task for the Boston office.

SPORT NOTES

Hapgood in Brown Squad

Ernest G. Hapgood, former Newton high school football tackle who was an outstanding linesman in 1926, was among the sixty odd candidates to report for the initial practice of the Brown University squad on Tuesday of this week. Hapgood was a regular tackle on the Brown freshman last fall.

Local Golfers Fail to Qualify

Many of the local golfers entered in the National Amateur tourney at Brae-Burn this week failed to qualify in the first rounds on Monday and Tuesday for the match play which began Wednesday. Among those to fall by the wayside were William Blaney and Emory Stratton, both of Brae-Burn, each was a 159; Jesse P. Guilford of Woodland with a 162; Joe Lynch of Albemarle with a 164; Edward Murphy of Charles River with a 168; Harold Kaler of Woodland, James Conroy of Albemarle, and Joe Norton, Jr., of Charles River with 170 each. Edward S. Stimpson of Brae-Burn failed to turn in his card for the second eighteen holes after making an 81 on the first. Fred Wright, Jr., of Albemarle, Francis Oumet of Woodland, and Robert R. Gorton of Brae-Burn each with 154 were the only three local golfers to qualify.

RETIREES FROM OFFICE

Mr. C. Peter Clark, one of the best known residents of Newton Centre, retired on Wednesday from his office with the Public Utilities Commission at the State House, having reached the age of 70 years.

Mr. Clark is the son of the late Charles P. Clark, former president of the New Haven railroad and has been in touch with public utilities for 52 years, the last 15 of which he has been in charge of the rates and tariffs for the Utilities Commission.

Mr. Clark was born in Jamaica Plain on Sept. 12, 1858. Educated in the Newton public schools and at Phillips Andover Academy, he entered the employ of the New England railroad when he was 18. Working his way up the ladder he became in 1896 general manager of the railroad, and from 1898 to 1903 he was general superintendent of the eastern district of the New Haven road. From 1903 to 1910 he was general manager and second vice president of the Buffalo & Susquehanna railroad. For two years he headed an irrigation company at Clark, Wyo., and in 1913 he entered the employ of the state of Massachusetts.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark live at 71 Pleasant street, Newton Centre. They have two sons and two daughters, Lancaster P. Clark of Bridgeport, Ct.; Tyler Clark of Trenton, N. J.; Mrs. Thomas Shirley (Priscilla Clark) of Newton Centre, and Mrs. Philip S. Wilder (Elizabeth Clark), formerly of Brunswick, Me. They also have seven grandchildren, one of them, Lancaster P. Clark, Jr., is married and lives at East Norwalk, Ct.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. OOLIDGE

New England Conference of State Federations of Women's Clubs

Once more Newton clubwomen are reminded of the unusual opportunity of being able to attend a New England Conference, since it is to be held this year near Boston. It may be many years before this yearly conference will come again even to Massachusetts, and held on the attractive North Shore it has a great appeal.

"New England over the Counter," "Aviation, the Up-to-date Problem of New England" and "New England Roadsides" are a few of the timely topics chosen at random from the three-day program of the nineteenth annual meeting of the New England Conference of State Federations of Women's Clubs to convene Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24, 25 and 26 at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, Mass.

These problems, considered by such authorities as Louis E. Kirstein of William Filene's Sons Company, Boston, Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, Congresswoman from Massachusetts, and Mrs. Ruth Clay McCallis, reporting on legislation for control of out-door facilities of the New England states, will be discussed at the Tuesday sessions, which will be given over largely to New England problems from the point of view of the woman consumer.

The opening session, Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, will feature fine arts in New England, with an address by Prof. Clarence Kennedy, of Smith College, on "Opportunities in New England for an Education in Art." Mrs.
Edward MacDowell of the Peterborough, N. H., colony and Mrs. Mina G.
del Castillo of Cambridge, Mass., chairman of the Division of Music, General Federation of Women's Clubs, are included in this program.

Greetings will be extended by Mrs.
Guy E. Spear, of Plymouth, N. H., chairman of the conference, and Mrs.
Azel A. Packard, president of the hostess Federation of Massachusetts.
Much interest attaches to the report of the Research committee, by Mrs.
Joseph S. Leach of Walpole, Mass., endeavoring to find how this group of women, representing 900 Women's Clubs, can best serve the progressive interests of New England. All sessions will be open, without credentials, to all Club women of the New England States.

Governor Alvan T. Fuller of Massachusetts and Paul Harvey, former publisher of the International Interpreter, who will consider "New England and International Relations," are announced as guest speakers at the Monday evening session. Other speakers of note will be Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole of Brockton, Mass., first vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter of Greenfield, Mass., General Federation director for Massachusetts, and Mrs. Packard.

sessions include discussions on "Solving the Cotton Goods Problem," led by Mrs. Harry A. Burnham, of Newton, Mass., and "Style, the Magic of Business," by Everett Bradley, of Bradley-Goodrich Shoe Co., Haverhill, Mass. "The New England Label" will be discussed by Harry R. Lewis, chairman of the Farm Marketing Division, New England Council. Discussion of publicity and the six presidents of the New England Federations of Women's Clubs, Mrs. John T. Skolfield, of Maine; Mrs. George F. Morris, of New Hampshire; Mrs. Martin S. Vilas, of Vermont; Mrs. Azel A. Packard, of Massachusetts; Mrs. Frank E. Peckham, of Providence; and Miss Emily
Louise Plumley, of Glenbrook, Conn.

The Federation forum, reserved for the closing session on Wednesday morning, when favorite topics will be presented by each State, is always a popular program. Already announced are "Progress of Maternity, Infancy and Child Welfare Hygiene," by Mrs.

Mary A. Davis, of New Hampshire,
"Radio Institute," by Mrs. Edward H.
Whitney of Rhode Island, and "Opportunities for the committee on Social and Industrial Relations," by Mrs. Albert Bradley Carter of Massachusetts.

Several social functions include a reception on Monday evening; an automobile drive along the North Shore,
Tuesday afternoon, arranged by Mrs.
J. Norman Jeffrey of Salem, president of the Ninth District Presidents' Club; and a banquet, Tuesday evening, at which Mrs. Edward A. Rice, of Deerfield, Mass., will preside as toastmis-tress, presenting Dallas Lore Sharp as guest-speaker.

A unique feature of the program will be the dinner conferences of the State chairmen of allied interests, Monday evening, with each group presided over by the chairmen of the hostess State. Similar conference groups have been arranged for the directors of the several States by Mrs. Heman A. Harding, of Chatham, Mass., chairman of district directors of Massachusetts. Elections will be in charge of Mrs. Frank E. Simpson of Swampscott, Mass.

Officers of the conference include

H., chairman; Mrs. Caesar Misch of Providence, R. I., vice-chairman; Mrs.
Otis G. Bunnell of New Haven, Conn.,

Fitts of Lynn, Mass., chairman of publicity; and the six presidents of the New England Federations of Women's Clubs, Mrs. John T. Skolfield, of
Maine; Mrs. George F. Morris, of New Hampshire; Mrs. Martin S. Vilas, of
Vermont; Mrs. Azel A. Packard, of Massachusetts; Mrs. Frank E. Peck-
ham, of Providence; and Miss Emily
Louise Plumley, of Glenbrook, Conn.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

About as swift a comeback from anything that has appeared in this column was the retort courteous, or something like that received from a friend over the telephone. "Hey, Lev," said he, "I see you're back on the column job again. Well, I'm in favor of that but I want to call your attention to another kind of night noise in Newton. What the cops do at the police signal boxes doesn't bother me at all. There is no patrol box in my neighborhood, and as far as the cops themselves go we would all run to the window if we ever saw one pass the house."

At this point he paused for breath, so I waited.

"If you want to do something for the people, tackle the folks who slam the automobile doors," he continued. "I have suffered from that too long already. Many a night I have jumped up from a sound sleep when somebody was getting in or out of a car and seemed to find it necessary to bang the door. I'll admit that these car doors are pretty bad and they all have to be shut with a good deal of force. But at 2 a. m., when a bridge-party is breaking-up next door and the merry-makers are leaving, they all seem to enjoy shutting the car doors with all their might and shout 'Good night!'"

"Now, Lev, as a favor to me lay off the cops—you said yourself the old telephones are broken down anyway—and go after the night noise-makers who bang automobile doors. Get me?"

I told that I did "get" him. Do you?

A shining example of civic pride comes to me from Kansas City where it was my good luck to make some thoughtful friends on a very short visit. These people have favored me with a copy of a volume published by the Convention Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce of Kansas City. It is well worth possessing because it is as different from the ordinary type of home town publicity as one may imagine.

There are double covers of vellum paper in mission color. On the front is a picturesque drawing and in bronze lettering "America's Most Beautiful City." Through the 16 pages are splendid half-tone reproductions of photographs of scenes in the parks and boulevards, stretches of magnificent roads leading over the hills, clubhouses, residences and numerous beauty spots, together with a number of municipal and business buildings.

The charm of the whole thing is that no attempt is made to drag in the name of an individual or an organization. A brief paragraph of descriptive reading is found on each page, but the layout is made up of photographs. There is no advertising, no big type and in fact nothing to offend the eye of the most esthetic. Only on the last page does one find that it comes from the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce.

I can conceive of no more attractive volume of arousing a stranger's interest. I know that I am glad to own such a book as a souvenir. What a pity more of such work is not done by local chambers of commerce. How much it would add to one's civic pride to be able to present a friend with a collection of remarkable views of one's home town. I wish it was Newton's good fortune to have itself and numerous beauties set forth in as beautiful a volume.

I refer to the souvenir postcards we receive from friends who sign only initials or possibly their first name. Every now and then I find myself favored with a view of Quebec, a glimpse of a Paris bookstall, a bit of Maine scenery or a squint at Times Square. Almost invariably there is a cheerful message and under it a combination of initials or only one initial or maybe a given name. It almost upsets me for the day. I immediately start guessing, study the hand-writing and try to place alphabetical combination. Usually I throw up hands in despair. Still, I have had an intensive hour or two and it has been beneficial mental exercise.

At first I thought I alone might be the victim of my own lack of memory. Then I began to feel that some friends were planning to develop my detective skill, thinking to help me in my profession. But so frequently have I been called upon this summer to wrestle with this fascinating problem that I thought I would see if others faced a similar perplexity. The first one I asked happened to be a prominent woman.

"Goodness, yes," she replied. "I have a card that came today signed 'Grace.' I don't know who in the world it's from; I know a half-dozen named Grace, any of whom would be likely to send me a postcard. Don't think you're alone in this postcard mystery. We all have it to worry over."

How about it, friend reader? What do you say?

I am much pleased with the type of building that is to shelter the post-office at Newton. Of course I can't speak with any technical knowledge and therefore my opinion cannot be taken seriously by architects, builders or postoffice officials. Apart from these limitations I offer to those who, like myself take such things as they find them.

Still, I am prepared to accept a challenge from anybody as little qualified as myself when I declare that it is at least a dignified structure and worthy to house a postoffice and at the same time a most acceptable addition to the business structures in that part or any part of the city.

The fact that it is highly presentable in character is pleasing to me because for some reason or other post-office buildings lack dignity. The one still in use at Newton Corner may be conveniently located but I can say nothing else in its favor. You know the heads of our postal system have never been known to waste money on keeping up with the times. We used to see our rural letter carriers driving a jaded horse in a rattle-trap. After that came the flivver but this type of auto was not put in operation for the postoffice until it had aged considerably and looked like the typical collegiate flivver minus a lot of crazy inscriptions.

We must have postoffices and there is no reason they should not be proper and adequately installed in first class buildings. There is nothing ornate about that which is soon to be used at Newton Corner but it is my idea of what a postoffice should be.

ENTERS UNIV. OF PENN.

William C. Brooks, Jr., of West Newton, Mass., is among those who have been selected as members of the freshman class of the University of Pennsylvania for the coming academic year. It has been announced by the office of Admissions of the University. Brooks will enroll in the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University, the oldest school of business in America.

Brooks, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Brooks, 38 Putnam street, is one of the first group of students to be admitted under the new more stringent entrance requirements instituted by the University. Beginning with the present term only students from accredited secondary schools who rank scholastically in the first quarter of their class will be admitted to the University upon certification, all others being required to take the College Entrance Examination. Student quotas of the various departments also have been further reduced in accordance with the policy of selection instituted by the University several years ago.

Prior to entering the University of Pennsylvania Brooks attended Worcester Academy, where he was prominent in student life. He was a member of the chess, baseball and soccer teams, a member of the track squad and the staff of the school paper.

Brooks and his fellow classmates will arrive on the Pennsylvania campus on Monday, September 24, to participate in the annual Freshman Week of the University, which has been designed to familiarize them with various details of college life, so that they may more readily adjust themselves to their new environment. The formal opening of the University's 189th academic year will take place on Friday, September 28, in the new $1,000,000 Irvine Auditorium, which was completed shortly before the close of the spring session.

During the week ending September 1, 1928, there were 105 patients in the hospital, 52 of whom paid as much or more than cost of care, 44 paid less than cost of care and 21 (including babies) were treated free. 7 babies were born, 5 girls and 2 boys. 90 patients were treated in the outpatient department. 8 accident cases were cared for in the operating room. 10 social service calls were made in the hospital and 5 patients were transferred by the social service car.

For the month of August the daily average was 118.16. The largest number in any twenty-four hours was 130 and the smallest 109. 6 patients were admitted to the Contagious Department, 52 babies were born, 27 girls and 25 boys. 272 patients were admitted to the operating room; 50 for major operations, 54 for minor operations, 120 for nose and throat operations and 48 accident cases.

Of the eleven emergency cases treated during the week ending September 1st, four were the results of automobile accidents, three of them with abrasions and contusions of the right ankle; one with a compound fracture of the right elbow and one with severed tendons and a compound fracture of the wrist. The other patient from an automobile accident was a child with lacerations of the neck and lip. Two men were injured in the hospital, one suffering lacerations of the left arm and right eye and the other laceration of the chin and right eye. One woman was treated for a scalp wound received when she was struck by a train. Three other men were treated, one for burns on the arms and chest, the result of a gas explosion; one with a fractured rib the result of a fight with another man; and one for acute alcoholism. One boy was treated for a fractured left arm received when he fell downstairs.

MUCH ACTIVITY IN NEWTON

A frame two-family house at No. 140-142 Langley road, Newton Centre, has just been transferred from Gertrude Granfield of Boston. This property consists of a six and six room house with sun-porches, two-car garage, and 10,000 feet of land, all assessed at $13,800. Alvord Bros. were the brokers in this sale.

Alvord Bros. also report that the same owner conveys a two-family house at No. 63-65 Elgin street, Newton Centre. This is a five and six room house with 8000 feet of land and is assessed for $11,000. The purchaser plans to build a two-car garage with the latter property and hold the place for investment.

The same brokers further report that a charming Colonial residence together with one-half acre of beautiful-kept land located at No. 75 Aspen avenue, Auburndale, has just been sold by Lewis C. Parker to Bernard C. Mahoney of Auburndale. The property is valued at $18,000.

In one of Newton's most attractive new developments is located a new frame house and two-car garage with about 8000 square feet of land at No. 15 Kingston road, Newton Highlands. This place has just been sold for A. S. Langille of West Newton to R. E. Muller of Boston. The valuation is $16,000. Mr. Muller will occupy as a home.

A two-family lot of land located on Athelstane road opposite the end of Oxford road, Newton Centre, containing approximately 7500 feet has been sold to David J. Gillispie. The land is valued at $3000 and is one of the last lots in the successful two-family development in that section.

Edward T. Harrington represented the buyer, and Alvord Bros. acted for the seller.

At No. 34 Carver road, Newton Highlands, a single frame house, one-car garage, and 9000 feet of land has been purchased for Charles H. Kitchin of Andover, Mass., from Frank V. Stone of Newton. The property is valued at $12,000.

Alvord Bros. were the brokers in all these transactions.

WINS ANOTHER PRIZE

Eleanor B. Church, of 30 Bennington street, Newton, Massachusetts, has just been awarded her second cash prize in the St. Nicholas League. Her short story, which appears in the September issue of St. Nicholas Magazine, is as follows:

On Growing Up

When we are young, we long to grow up. Just to be one year older would be wonderful, but, when those three or four coveted years are added on, we long to be younger again.

I am not really very ancient yet, but to have to close the gates to the St. Nicholas League seems heartrending. Even though I shall not be able longer to contribute to its pages, I shall still enjoy reading them.

I can feel as Stevenson does in "A Retrospect," that as the past recollections become older, they gain in glory. So shall the memories of St. Nicholas grow clearer and clearer on my mind. I will always have the happy days spent with St. Nick to look back upon; still the dear, beloved pages to reread; and, still, new copies each month to enjoy.

Although our years may increase, while we continue to think "interesting thoughts" we can be happy; and, if we are, youth can never forsake us. Thus does William Lyon Phelps put it so aptly in his essay on "Happiness." We certainly ought to put trust in his faith when he has had double our experience. The happy man can always find a bridge across what seems, for a moment, a stream of sadness.

Though my parting almost breaks my heart, I have lots of happy days to look forward to, because of such joyous childhood memories.

Eleanor B. Church has already won one cash prize, besides her first awards of silver and gold medals, won in 1926 for excellence in the puzzle competitions of the League. This is a remarkable record for a contributor to these monthly contests of St. Nick, where the competition is so keen and the number of competitors so large.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending September 10, 1928, there were 117 patients in the hospital, 52 of whom paid as much or more than cost of care, 44 paid less than cost of care and 21 (including babies) were treated free. 7 babies were born, 5 girls and 2 boys. 90 patients were treated in the outpatient department. 8 accident cases were cared for in the operating room. 10 social service calls were made in the hospital and 5 patients were transferred by the social service car.

Of the accident cases treated during the week five were the results of automobile accidents, three of them men, one with a question of a fractured skull, one with a broken neck and the third with a dislocated leg and lacerations of the chin and left wrist. One was a woman with abrasions of the scalp and the other a boy with a question of a fractured skull. Of the other three accidents two were women, one with a sprained wrist and the other with a crushed hand caused when she caught it in a washing machine and the last was a boy with a fractured arm, the result of a fall.

Vacations are nearly over and on Thursday, September 6, the Fall class, numbering 34 was received. 28 were from Massachusetts, three from New Brunswick, one each from Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire.

During the summer, class rooms have been renovated and equipment added so that the School of Nursing is better equipped than ever before to carry on its educational work.

How many citizens of Newton realize that in conjunction with the care of the sick the Newton Hospital maintains a school of nursing which offers a three years course. In this course the theoretical subjects to prepare a scientific background for the practical work. The science and practical instructors try to plan their courses so that the work will be well correlated. All practical work done on the ward is first done in the class room under supervision. Students spend most of their first four months in the classroom. During the remainder of the three years special lectures are given by doctors and instructors, and the nurses have notebooks, quizzes and required reading in connection with the lectures.

It can readily be seen that the students need a good preliminary education in order to be able to intelligently grasp the higher education which schools of nursing are now offering.

All of the students in the class which has just entered are high school graduates and several have had some college or normal school education.

We are predicting a bright future for them as they are entering in time to be ready to spend most of their three years in the new Newton Hospital.

Puzzles Parliamentarians

When a parliamentary standing committee in London, England, was considering the national health insurance bill they were considerably perturbed by the introduction of the word "eleemosynary" in clause 4, referring to "donations or subscriptions of an eleemosynary character" and a dictionary definitely had to be called for.

The New John Ward School Opened

The John Ward School is completed. This school is located on Dolphin road, off Ward street and Way, in the Chestnut Hill District. It is of Tudor style of architecture, of red antique brick, stone trim, granite steps and buttresses, slate and tar and gravel roofs. The plan of the structure is oblong with small assembly hall and kindergarten wings. It is of fireproof construction throughout with the exception of the roof.

On the ground floor is located the assembly hall with a seating capacity of 300. On this floor also there is a boys' play room, girls' play room, boiler room, storage rooms, switchboard room, vacuum cleaner room, coal storage, boys' toilets, girls' toilets.

The kindergarten with separate entrances and loggia, alcove, toilets and storerooms is on the first floor. The kindergarten is also provided with folding doors with blackboards on each side so that, when desirable, the room may be divided into three smaller rooms. Adjacent to the main entrance vestibule is the principal's office with waiting room, storage and private toilet. Nearby is located the nurse's room. The rest of this floor, including the space over assembly hall in that wing, contains classrooms, boys' toilets, girls' toilets, book and other storage, cleaners' closets, etc.

Between two of the class rooms a folding door partition is provided so that, when desirable the partition may be folded back against the wall and the two rooms used as one large room.

On the second floor are classrooms, between two of which is a folding door partition similar to the one on the first floor, teachers' room with private toilet, boys' toilets, girls' toilets, cleaners' closet, etc. All class rooms in the building have built in wardrobes opening into the classrooms. The total number of classrooms is thirteen.

This building cost, including the grading of the entire lot properly located off to separate it from the golf course, giving the girls and boys independent play fields, the sum of $254,000, and is a modern and attractive school.

The old Hamilton School in Lower Falls is abandoned and the new school has been completed. This school is located on the Playground on Grove street. Because of this, it was designed to accommodate both the Playground and the School Department.

The general ground plan when completed is shaped like a large U, surrounding all but the south side of a generous sunny play court. The wing of three classrooms, space not now needed, was not built. The kindergarten unit with its large bays of windows is in the easterly wing opening directly upon this sunny enclosure and everyone of the other nine classrooms of the completed structure receive direct sunlight during the school hours.

The school room conforms with appointments the room conforms with recognized school standards as to size, lighting, ventilation and furnishing, not unlike all other recent Newton School buildings.

Two groups of two classrooms each face the south court on either side of the central south entrance. The classrooms in the wing with two more face east and three more similar rooms will face west in the easterly wing when built. On the north side of a direct corridor serving these rooms are the usual rooms for the principal, the teachers the book and other storage, the health unit and the toilets.

The classrooms immediately east of the entrance are arranged so that they can be thrown into one room by folding doors for assembly purposes. Such an expedient is found to be adequate for grade school purposes.

A direct, broad stairway leads to the rear entrance and the adjacent playground, and the entire rear wing, with doors intercommunicating between classrooms combine to make out off or inadequate exit facilities physically impossible.

The natural slope of the site toward the north permits good lighting of the basement area without any material cost for grading and without lifting the building out of grade, for basement lighting purposes, at the expense of increased cubic content. Taking advantage of this simple physical condition readily permits the equipment of the basement for joint use by the School and Playground at a minimum cost.

A large, well lighted and comfortably high room for the playground users are here provided with separate and ready access. Here also are small rooms for the directors of the playground and for their necessary supplies.

The exterior of the building is extremely simple, relying almost entirely upon giving the essential masses well studied proportions and the simple brickwork and slate roof a color and texture interest, upon which the structure rests its entire claim to architectural charm.

There is only such stone trimming as is needed for the economies of low-cost maintenance, except a slight concession to the need of creating a dignified though still very simple doorway. The chimneys gables are a direct means of housing the fresh-air intakes at a high grade above the ground where the air is pure and free from dust and dirt.

The building cost, including the grading, was and drives the sum of $144,000, and is a most modern and attractive bungalow type of school, the only one in the City of Newton, and is also a great asset because of the adaptability to both the use of the Playground and the School Department. The Commissioner feels that this system should be more extensively carried out.

Our Civil Liberty's but liberty under law. Not the wild freedom of the hawk or bear. Led by their appetite for well filled maw. Self fully satisfied, for the next no care.

Volstead's a viper,—firm take it by the tail. Snap off its head,—no fangs can then assail! Minds of superior genius might this world remake. Conceive new laws no man would wish to break.

We'll find some way to modify,—this grows law reform. "Reform ourselves!" Not that, our thirst was with us born. But scotch this quivering of the snake! Not kill. Lest sad Intemperance with saloons, the land should blight. But shape the law with care, raw appetites to fill.

And fix this rattlesnaky law so 'twill not bite! Lions that roar must shed their cruel claws. And tigers howl with false teeth in their jaws;—The "wets" trust "drys," in brotherhood unite.—And treat with drinks invented, too, that create no brain for fight.

11,200 GRAHAM-PAIGE CARS BUILT IN AUGUST

Month's Production More Than Half of Last Year's Total

Graham-Paige built 11,207 cars in August, more than half the total factory production for the entire year. August was the sixth month in succession to establish a new production peak for Graham-Paige, surpassing July by 2,200 cars, an increase of 24 per cent.

Total production of the new line of cars, which were presented last January to mark the entry of the three Graham brothers into the passenger car field, now stands at 58,780.

Indicative of the improvement in the production facilities and the efficiency of the plant under the new management, is the fact that 37,350 cars of the total 1928 production were built in the last four months, as against 21,430 in the first four months of the year.

The August total, factory officials point out, is a record not only for the 24 per cent increase over July, but also because it was made in a month that is generally expected to show a seasonal decline in buying. August having averaged sixth place for the last five years in the United States census bureau's figures on passenger car production.

Employment at the Graham-Paige factory is now at its highest mark in 18 years, exceeding 6000, an increase of 1500 since March.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

The motion picture program to be given at the Children's Museum on Boston on Sunday, Sept. 16 at 3:30 o'clock will feature lions, wolves, tigers, reptiles and monkeys, according to the announcement by the Director, Miss Mildred E. Manter. The film visit will give the audience a splendid opportunity to watch the action of the animals while they are anxiously awaiting their food and while they are busily enjoying it. The head keeper, with the aid of a large number of assistants, is seen extracting the fangs from a twenty-eight-foot two-hundred-pound African python and clipping the claws of a huge Barbary lion. In another scene monkeys can be seen at play and busily executing all the monkey-shines in their repertoire.

An unusual collection of Hindu images has just been placed on display at the Museum. Twenty-eight figures realistically grouped tell a vivid and colorful story of costumes and customs of India. Miss Manter said that plans for the fall and winter activities are now in full swing and announcements concerning them would be forthcoming soon.

Admission to the Museum exhibits and to all lectures and activities is free. The Museum is located on the north shore of Jamaica Pond on Jamaica Way and is open to the public daily from 9 to 5 and on Sundays from 1:30 to 5.

Boys' Department

Although the percentage of games won by the Y. M. C. A. Junior baseball team during the summer season was not high, it may well be called a successful season because many of the strongest Junior teams of Greater Boston were held to very close scores.

C. of Watertown, Arlington Hoboz of Arlington, Chelsea Cardinals of Chelsea, Manchester Y. M. C. A. Jrs. of Manchester, N. H., W. C. A. Jrs. of Cambridge, Boyd Park team of Newton, West Newton A. C. Jrs. of West Newton, Webster A. C. of West Newton, Ross A. C. of Boston, and Tremont A. C. of Newton.

This is the first season that many of the Junior members have played together. The players who finished the season were: Charles Gallagher, William Earle 3b, Herbert McKinney 2b and 1b, Harold Jennings 1b, John Joyce p, Paul Lucy rf, Edward Murphy p, Charles Murphy lf, Harold Scholl c.

The new swimming schedule for September is as follows: Jr. A. Tuesday and Thursday 3:45 to 4:15 p. m. Saturday 11:00 a. m. Cadets—Wednesday 4:30 p. m., Saturday 11:00 a. m. Jr. B.—Tuesday and Thursday 4:30 p. m., Saturday 11:00 a. m. High School—Monday, Wednesday and Friday 3:00 p. m. Employed Boys—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday 7:30 p. m.

During September there will be tag football and other outdoor informal games and play open to all boys members at 2:45 on Tuesday and Thursday, and at 10:00 a. m. on Saturdays. Indoors if raining. After October 1st when the gymnasium classes open the swimming schedule will be changed a little.

Boys' gymnasium classes begin the week of October 1st. The gym and swim schedule will be posted and sent to all members in the October number of the Boys' Division monthly. The Knot Hole Gang will go to Graves Field on Saturday at 2 p. m. Sept. 15th, to see the Braves. A team play Chicago, also on Saturday, September 22nd, for the Cincinnati game. Any member of the Knot Hole Gang may get the daily passes at the Boys' Division desk from "Tommy."

Persons residing in the neighborhood told the police that about the time the robbery occurred an automobile containing a number of men stopped in front of the Forbes house. According to one report—5 men were in the car; according to another report there were 7 men in the automobile.

On the preceding Tuesday the residence of Walter Oakes, directly across the street from the Forbes house, was entered, the keys to his garage taken, and his automobile stolen. The car was found abandoned a short distance away.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

In order to allay any alarm which may be felt in regard to the infantile paralysis in Newton, I ask you to publish the following statement.

Since August 1st to the present writing (Sept. 12th) there have been 17 cases of infantile paralysis reported to the Health Department, of which number 4 have been definitely shown not to be infantile and 2 more are doubtful. Granting that these 2 may yet prove to be infantile, there have been 13 cases reported which is not an alarming number in a city of the size of Newton.

One family in Ward 6 was reported to have 9 cases out of 11 individuals but it was subsequently shown that 2 did not have the disease. With this exception, the disease has shown no preference for any particular section of the City, being distributed as follows: Ward 2, one case; Ward 3, two cases; Ward 4, three cases, and Ward 5, two cases.

Infantile paralysis is always present in the City, the records showing that cases have occurred every year for the last twenty years and only occasionally does it appear in alarming numbers.

We know very little about the disease or how infection is transmitted. The early symptoms are not clear and it is only by a careful study of the case that a diagnosis can be made before paralysis occurs.

For this reason a physician should be asked immediately to see every case of illness which occurs in a family because at the present time it seems that early diagnosis and appropriate treatment offers the best chance of preventing the occurrence of the paralysis.

FRANCIS GEO. CURTIS, M.D.,
Chairman, Board of Health.

AN EXCELLENT SUGGESTION

To the Editor of the Graphic:

Now that the schools have opened again, perhaps some sapient authority can inform us why the school busses coming from the south are stopped on the eastern side of Walnut street, in Newtonville, opposite the Classical High School. Walnut street is a great main thoroughfare, yet every morning these busses from the Centre, the Highlands and other parts of the city discharge their precious cargoes at this point, and the students are compelled to walk across the street to the school buildings. The services of a traffic officer are required for their safe movement, and he has no option but to hold up all through traffic, always heavy, to let the young people pass. This police supervision merely minimizes, it does not eliminate, the dangers to the students who come to school by bus.

The irony of the situation appears in the fact that just across the street, between the Classical and the new school building, runs Elm road; and during the bus period this street is closed to all motor traffic. Elm road for a full block is taken up with school buildings and is absolutely controlled by the City of Newton. This point, between the two schools, offers an ideal terminus for the school busses, which could then detour through Kimball terrace and Otis street back to Walnut street without delaying traffic a moment. Under no plan, the students would be landed safely right on their own campus, and as Elm road would be closed to all motor traffic except the busses, the students would be in no danger. The services of an officer might still be needed on Walnut street, but the authorities would not then be responsible for dumping several hundred boys and girls in bunches where they must cross one of the most dangerous streets in Newton.

Other citizens have informed me that they have tried in vain to learn the why of this stupid practice. I do not know who is responsible for it, whether the Mayor, the Board of Aldermen, the School Committee or the Middlesex & Boston management; and I have no doubt some official will arise, and solemnly tell us that the situation cannot be changed. However, Newton is an exceptionally well-governed city, and I doubt if any other department can present such an example of consummate idleness—unless, perhaps, in the construction, and now destruction, of the massive and costly cement porch and balustrades on the southern skirt of the Technical High School, as part of the scheme to make a third playground.

However, Newton is an exceptionally well-governed city, and I doubt if any other department can present such an example of consummate idleness—unless, perhaps, in the construction, and now destruction, of the massive and costly cement porch and balustrades on the southern skirt of the Technical High School, as part of the scheme to make a third playground.

Other citizens have informed me that they have tried in vain to learn the why of this stupid practice. I do not know who is responsible for it, whether the Mayor, the Board of Aldermen, the School Committee or the Middlesex & Boston management; and I have no doubt some official will arise, and solemnly tell us that the situation cannot be changed. ABOUT TOWN

Strong's Pond, the placid body of water that glittered in the Faneuil valley below Kendrick street between Nonantum and Waban Hills in Newton, is no more. The pond was created well back in the last century when the little brook which started on the slope of Waban Hill was dammed to form a water area covering several acres. The pond lay just below the site of Chief Waban's wigwam where the Rev. John Elliot preached to the Indians. To its north was Nonantum Hill, with a wood of ancient oaks covering its slope. To the south ascended the pine covered slope of Waban Hill. It was a pretty spot 35 or more years ago before dwellings began to be erected in its vicinity. The only buildings nearby were the residences and greenhouses of Mr. Elliott, the florist on Kendrick street, and the dwellings, barns and ice-houses which lay between it and Chandler's Pond over the Brighton line. Strong's pond was the favorite skating place for the children and young folks of Ward 7 of the last generation.

We well remember Mr. Downing who owned the local business located at Strong's and Chandler's ponds. He was a large man with flowing beard and we recall distinctly a large diamond shirt stud which he wore. We also recall Mr. Downing's vocabulary. We heard it vented, on occasions, on others. It was also directed at us one June day but we were too far removed to be able to distinguish just what that gentleman was saying to us. He was at the east end of the pond next to the ice-houses and we, together with Henry Tolman, were at the other end of the pond. The two of us had, earlier that day, received our diplomas at the Bigelow School and we had proceeded to Strong's Pond to relax after the trying ordeal of grading.

Henry had informed us that black bass abounded in Strong's Pond, so we went there provided with primitive fishing equipment. We had caught three black bass when Mr. Downing appeared at the other end of the pond and started to shout and gesticulate in our direction. We decided that we had caught enough black bass for that day—and departed, not hastily, but without undue delay.

The ice business formerly conducted by Mr. Downing has been carried on in recent years by the Boston Ice Company. Within the past several months this company has disposed of practically all its real estate holdings. Its property at the Strong's pond location was acquired by the Commonwealth Country Club, one of the first golf clubs to be established around Boston. This club was started in 1897 when golfers hereabouts were few—and far between. Anyone who would have stated in 1897 that 4000 persons would pay $2 each to follow four expert golfers around an 18 hole course, as was witnessed at Woodland recently, would have been given the raspberry. Since the Commonwealth Country Club links were laid out, some of the holes approached Strong's pond. The club has sold some of its property near Ward street and has laid out two new holes in the area where Strong's pond stood. The area has not been entirely cleared of water. A small pond, about 350 feet long and 75 feet wide remains as a hazard. Several small lagoons will serve as additional hazards and the little brook will continue to trickle down the valley. But the pond itself has gone.

On Wednesday, Aug. 29, all that remained mortal of Edward Beecher Bowen was laid to rest in Newton Cemetery. He died suddenly of heart failure in Oslo, Norway, on August 9 while on a tour around the world with his wife. For many years Ed Bowen was one of this city's best known residents. Born in Alliston in 1863, he came to Newton as a small child and was educated in the public schools here and at the Allen School in West Newton. To many of the older residents of the city he is best remembered for his part in promoting the great and glorious national game of baseball. Few boys in Newton, or in any other city in this country possessed more natural ability as a ball player than did Ned Bowen. A brilliant outfielder and a tremendous hitter, he could easily have starred in the major league had he so desired.

He was largely responsible for the formation of the famous old Newton A. A. team which in the late 80s and early 90s of the last century was the premier amateur baseball team of Massachusetts. This team was the peer for years of any amateur or semi-professional baseball team in this Commonwealth, and believe us, there were some amateur and semi-professional teams extant in those days. Among those who played on some of the old nines which represented the Newton A. A. when Ed Bowen starred were—Fred Hovey, Allen Hubbard, William Soule, Harry Bates, Larry Daniels, George Smith, McLean, Mason, Bustard and Fred Tenney. Much of the success gained by the teams which represented the old Newton A. A. could be attributed to the star pitchers who twirled. We well remember big Ed Dowd from Natick, good natured Jack Highlands, Harvard's most famous box man, his brother Andy, and Walter Fitz, a local product whose record at Newton High gained him a place on the Newton A. A. team.

The late Arthur C. Walworth of Newton Centre was an ardent patron of the old Newton A. A. Besides contributing liberally towards its support, he allowed the use of part of his property as the baseball field. This field was off Mill street, near Cedar street and was used for some years before the athletic field was built where the Newton Centre playground now is located.

Ed Dowd was one of the best pitchers ever developed in these parts. A giant in size, with a repertoire of curves that fooled most batters who faced before him, an out drop that was a wonder, and great control, he was, perhaps, the outstanding pitching star of all the old Newton A. A. nines. Dowd received at least three offers from major league teams, but accepted none of them. He became a phy-sicah, practised in Waltham, and died some years ago. We remember one game that Dowd lost. The Newton A. A. was playing the original Cuban Giants, a team composed of negro players who would have starred in the big leagues but for the discrimination against their race. Dowd became so convulsed with laughter at the chatter and antics of the negro coaches on the base lines that all he could do was to lob the ball. Another memorable game pitched by Dowd for the Newton A. A. was against the Aetnas of Bemis. This team had moved down most of its opponents for several years and had long endeavored to cross bats with the famed Newton A. A. The opportunity was finally given and after a close contest the local nine won. Austin Turpin for the Aetnas and Charley Dunn of Nonantum was behind the bat.

The Newton A. A. also fostered rugby football, so called in the days when football was far from being the popular sport it is today. At first, the Newton A. A. eleven were composed of local young men and the big game of the year, on Thanksgiving Day, was played against the Hyde Park team. The Hyde Park aggregation would arrive by trolley and coaches, and sad to remember for some years, was victorious. Then Newton A. A. sought outside talent to strengthen its team and few were the times its goal lines were crossed. Its strongest opponent in the years the games were played at the old Cedar street ground was the Boston A. A. One year Newton played the Yale College eleven. Dan Johnson, a Newton High player was at one end for Newton. Dan was so small that he eluded the Yale interference and made tackle after tackle of the Yale backs to the frenzied delight of his

Good Primary Vote Cast in Newton 8198 Ballots Cast By Republicans

Hollis Wins Senatorial and Thompson and Baker, the Representative Nominations

The state primary on Tuesday, despite the numerous contests for the Republican nominations, brought out but slightly more than a third of the voters of Newton. Of a total registration of nearly 24,000 only 8198 ballots were cast of which 8198 were Republican and the remaining 792 Democratic.

Frank G. Allen defeated Frank Goodwin over four to one, the former polling 6500 odd votes and Goodwin less than 1600. In the contest for the lieutenant governorship Sherburne carried the city over his opponents in the field by a plurality of 462 votes over his nearest rival, Hull. The latter led Youngman, who carried the entire state, by the small plurality of 45 votes. The rest of the field, Leach, Burrill, Bacon, Holmes and Marshall were far behind.

In the fight for the nomination for state treasurer the favorite and successful candidate, John W. Haigis of Greenfield, polled within 228 votes of a majority, with 3711 votes. Burrill, the discredited candidate was last in the field of four.

Major Roland F. Choate led the six candidates for auditor, with a plurality of 1180 over Alonzo B. Cook, who carried the state. The other four candidates, Phelps, Allison, Buxton and Frost received less than a thousand votes each.

Attorney General Joseph E. Warner of Taunton swamped Clarence A. Barnes for that office by five to one.

In the battle for the nomination for United States Senator to oppose Senator Walsh at the November election B. Loring Young of Weston, who was also the successful candidate was far in the lead. His total of 5707 votes giving him a large majority over Draper with 1573 and Ames with 585.

Captain Frank L. Nagle of Newtonville was given 3566 votes by his fellow citizens to lead the field in the councillor fight. Mrs. Andrews, the present incumbent who was re-nominated for the office, received 1913 votes.

Representative Arthur Hollis had things pretty much his own way in the contest for the nomination as State Senator in the first Middlesex district. Newton gave him 6757 votes to 514 for his opponent McElvey of Wayland, which towns gave the latter four more votes than it did Hollis.

The three cornered battle for representative in the fourth district, composing Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of Newton resulted in the re-nomination of Representative Rupert C. Thompson and the nomination of William B. Baker, present Alderman from West Newton over Hugh Boyd of Newtonville, who was making his second attempt for the nomination. Both Thompson and Baker had a comfortable lead over Boyd with Baker in the lead.

General Cole lead Cummings for the democratic nomination as governor by a wide margin as did John F. Malley of Chestnut Hill over Murphy in the fight for the lieutenant governorship nomination. Strabo V. Claggett of Auburndale was also far ahead of his two opponents in the democratic auditor contest, although defeated throughout the state by O'Gorman of Boston.

James M. Gallagher and Daniel T. O'Connell were nominated to oppose the Republican nominees for representative in the fourth district.

MORE WATER MAINS CLEANED

During the past week a number of water mains have been scraped of the rust and other sediment which had gathered in them. During the process of cleaning the main on Park street, Newton, the scraper became stuck in the pipe and the residents of Park, Tremont and other streets, in that neighborhood were without water for a considerable period. The work of cleaning more mains was renewed when a new interpretation was put on the matter of determining the cost of this work. It had been supposed that the money appropriated by the Board of Aldermen for this work should include not only the amounts paid to the National Pipe Cleaning Company which controls the device used in the cleaning process, but also the wages paid to the employees of the Newton Water Department who perform most of the labor in connection with the task. Recently it was decided by the Finance Committee and the Comptroller of Accounts that the wages of the city employees should not be deducted from the appropriation made for cleaning the mains, but should be taken from the funds appropriated for the maintenance of water mains. This allowed a continuance of the cleaning activities.

AUTOS COLLIDE

$5000 Bed At Holy Ghost Hospital For Memorial To William H. Thomas

Planned By Members of The Massachusetts Catholic Order Of Foresters

At a meeting of the High Standing Committee and the Deputy High Chief Rangers of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, held last Sunday afternoon in St. Rose Hall, Worcester street, Boston, Mr. P. Sarsfield Cuniff of Newton, in behalf of a committee of members of the order presented to High Chief Ranger Peter Walsh a check for $5000 to establish a bed at the Holy Ghost Hospital for incurables, at Cambridge, this bed to be for the use of members of the M. C. O. F. and to serve as a memorial to the late William H. Thomas of this city, a former High Chief Ranger of the M. C. O. F.

William H. Thomas who died in May, 1924, was a well known Newton undertaker, for nearly 24 years had been a prominent member of the M. C. O. F. and was extremely popular in this city, particularly in the Nonantum section where his office was located. The committee of his friends in this vicinity which worked for the collection of the memorial fund had as its chairman Miss Mary E. Blake and as its secretary Miss Eleanor G. Mulcahy, both of Newton.

In presenting the check for $5000, Mr. Cuniff said among other things:

September 15, 1928.
To the High Standing Committee of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters

"Worthy High Chief Ranger:

On October 23, 1900, at the age of twenty-five, William H. Thomas of Newton was initiated a member of Middlesex Court of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters. He was Treasurer of the Court from 1901 to 1905; Chief Ranger 1906; Financial Secretary from 1909 to 1918; active, energetic and loyal always in the work of the Court and the Order.

Elected to the High Standing Committee in 1914 he completed a service of five years in that body with a notably successful year as High Chief Ranger in 1919. He was a member of the High Court continuously from 1906 until May 1924, when while still in the prime of his life and usefulness, at the early age of 49, he was called to his eternal reward.

Into the strong fabric of this great Order his work and his spirit are inseparably woven. Upon your records and those of the Annual Session his sterling worth and splendid service have been fittingly extolled. It is not for us now to amplify or embellish that record. Fine words delight the ear, but like yesterday's roses they wither and decay and not even the perfume remains. Translate them into worth while deeds and you wear a chaplet which blossoms eternally.

"In Action's soil sprouts Glory's fadeless flower."

Therefore have we undertaken to give concrete expression to the benevolence, kindness, and Christian charity which we proclaimed as the outstanding virtues of our departed brother.

In March 1927 a few of Brother Thomas' associates in Middlesex Court conceived the idea of a permanent memorial. The movement was organized with the permission of the High Standing Committee and the sanction of the Annual Session of 1927. Endowment of a Memorial Bed in the Holy Ghost Hospital for incurables, Cambridge, was determined on, and loyal friends in the neighboring Courts joined hands and hearts with us in the furtherance of the project. Today—barely one and one half years from the inception of the movement, thanks to the generosity and splendid loyalty of the membership of our Order, we are gratified to report the happy consummation of the work.

We place, therefore, in your hands, Worthy High Chief Ranger, this check for Five Thousand Dollars ($5000) payable to the Holy Ghost Hospital for incurables, Cambridge, to be by you transmitted to them at such time in the near future and with such formality as you shall determine, for the establishment of a permanent free bed available to members of our Order to be known as the

"William H. Thomas Memorial Bed of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters."

"Our only desire and purpose is modestly but securely to fulfill the promise we made in the beginning—to perpetuate the memory of a worthy associate in the great work of our Order, to give fitting expression to its cardinal principles of Unity, Fraternity and True Christian Charity, and to have a small part in aiding a great, benevolent and charitable institution which is constantly engaged in ministering to afflicted fellow creatures around whom the shadows are each day lengthening and for whom there can be no surcease of suffering this of eternity."

Mr. Cuniff paid a tribute to Miss Mary Blake who was largely responsible for the raising of the fund and Miss Blake upon being asked to address the gathering expressed the hope that the free bed established by the Thomas Memorial may be followed by many similar philanthropic works to assist the great charitable institution at Cambridge.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

WILL SCRIMMAGE WITH WELLESLEY

The Newton High football squad will have its first test against outside school competition next week Tuesday in a practice scrimmage with the Wellesley high school team at Clafin Field. The orange and black squad has been coming along nicely and is a little farther advanced than at a similar period last year. This afternoon Coach Sullivan is planning to have a practice game between two teams, playing four five minute periods. Captain Everett Scheinfeld is out of the game temporarily with a carbuncle on his arm which has been lanced. He is expected to be fit several days before the opening game with Belmont one week from tomorrow.

In place of his captain the Newton mentor has been experimenting with a number of other prospective end candidates and the choice now lies between Arthur Chamberlain, substitute center, Harold Ham, a converted half back, and Ewing, Richard Haggood, younger brother of Ernest Haggood, former Newton high tackle and now on the Brown varsity squad, will be at left tackle with Harold Robbles, veteran guard, at his side. The loss of Creighton Gatchell by graduation last June made a big hole at the center position. Daniel Harrington, star tackle last year and captain-elect of the hockey team, was tried out at the position but has since been shifted back to the right tackle position. Fred Schipper, a sophomore, seems to have the call for the pivot position at present although Arthur Chamberlain, last year's second string center, has been pressing him closely. William Anness, substitute lineman a year ago, has the call at the right guard berth with the veteran Harrington on his right. Norman Payne, second string end last year, will be at right end. The backfield will be composed of Phil Andres, who will play the safety position and who is also being coached to run the team as quarterback; Francis Duane and Joe Gilligan, halfbacks, and William Reilly, fullback. Duane or Andres will do the punting with Gilligan the drop and place kicking.

Many of the Newton high hopefuls are on the ineligible list and will not be able to play until after the first marking period which will keep them on the sidelines until after the Everett game on October 12th.

PALS TO OPEN SEASON SUNDAY

When the Newton Pals open their season next Sunday afternoon at Cabot Park, Newton, they will place on the field the best semi-pro team of recent years in this city. As a nucleus to build around they have "Waxy" Littlefield all-scholastic tackle for two years and "Doty" Wright of all-scholastic quarterback fame and Dean Academy. Besides these two stars they will have "Pat" Brophy of Auburndale, another ex-Newton high star, "Fry" Shea of last year's Newton team and Jimmy Geegan of the Boston College Varsity the past two years. A new comer to the squad this year is Andrews who starred as a halfback for Brockton High. In addition to these players the club will be made up of all of last year's team including George Brophy, "Snacker" Smith, Allan McLean, Henry Yach, Joe Kinella, Wally Watkins, Bob McArtie, Johnny Lyman, Jerry Arsenault, and John Burns, besides a group of new candidates. The Pals in their opening game Sunday, will play the strong Needham A. A. made up of ex-college and ex-high school stars. "Buck" Donahue is again coaching the Pals and Harry Wright the manager is making up a very attractive schedule.

SPORT NOTES

Jones' Ball Hits Spectator
In last week's final match for the national amateur golf championship which was won so handsily by Bobby Jones of Atlanta, an unusual and fortunately not serious accident occurred. Jones drove off the seventh tee into the woods. Ellery D. Manley of Newton Centre was climbing up a banking at the time to get a better view of the play when the ball struck him behind the ear and bounded sixty feet back onto the fairway in perfect position for Jones' second shot. Manley was knocked unconscious by the ball and was removed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Later he was allowed to go to his home at 475 Ward street, Newton Centre, apparently not seriously injured.

McCullough At B. U.
Carleton McCullough, former Newton high end and baseball captain, and end on last year's Boston University freshman eleven, is among the varsity candidates practicing at Nickerson Field, Riverside. McCullough, who was an all-scholastic end in 1925, is one of ten Greater Boston high school athletes and former all-scholastic choices. Joe Sims of Brookline, who opposed the Newton Centre lad in high school is among the end candidates for the Terrier varsity.

McCullough pulled a tendon in his hand Wednesday and has been unable to participate in the forward passing drills. He has been able to take part in all the other workouts, however, and in a few days will be in shape to handle the ball again.

Cole With Tufts Freshman
Yesterday afternoon the Tufts freshman squad was called out, among the end candidates for the cub team was Romaine Cole, star athlete and ex-captain of football at Newton.

BENEFIT GAME FOR LOCAL PLAYER

Next Saturday afternoon at Victory Field, Watertown, will be "Bernie" Lyman day. For the past month "Bernie" has been in the hospital with muscular rheumatism and his many friends are getting together and arranging a benefit game which will take place between a Newton all star nine and a Watertown all star nine. Both teams have been picked from the best players in the twilight league in both Newton and Watertown. Bernie, until he was laid up, was one of the stars of the Watertown Hobos, and formerly played with the Newton Pals and Saxony clubs. The team representing Newton will be a strong one, the battery being made up of either "Jakey" Pass or Bob Pickard of Saxony in the box with Allan McLean of the champion Upper Falls nine behind the plate. On second and third base will be Jack Leary and "Nipper" Maher of West Newton, with Jimmy Butler of Saxony at short. The outfield will be composed of Tommy Gilligan and Frank Rooney of Saxony and Jimmy Hickey of West Newton. The game will start at 3 o'clock and any Newton fans who are planning to take in this game are reminded that the field is Victory Field, Watertown, and not the field by the same name in Newton.

SPORT NOTES

Stone Gets First Touchdown
Stuart Stone of West Newton, playing at fullback on the Bowdoin College first team, scored the first touchdown of the year for the varsity against the scrubs on Wednesday. Four other touchdowns were made against the scrubs in the first scrimmage of year in which the Newton lads who participated, in addition to Stone, were Captain Howland, Robert Adams and Harry Thayer.

Andres At Centre For Team A
Harold Andres, former Newton high athlete now a sophomore at Dartmouth, has been playing centre on Coach Hawley's A team. Andres and Johnson, also a former Newton high star athlete, were among those who exchanged their old equipment for brand new stuff this week.

Lyons On B. C. Squad
Frank Lyons, halfback on the 1925 Newton high eleven and a substitute back on the B. C. team the past two years, joined the Eagle squad early this week along with Al Weston of Needham, star back for the past few years. Lyons' work as caddy master at the Brae Burn C. C. has kept him in good condition.

Two On Harvard Varsity
Newton has two athletes on the Harvard varsity squad which was reduced to forty odd candidates Tuesday. Over a hundred reported to Coach Horween and his assistants at the initial session last Saturday morning, three of whom were Newton High graduates. They were Tommy Gilligan, Guy Holbrook and W. F. Hogan. Gilligan and Holbrook are backfield men and Hogan end. Hogan was on the intermediate team and within the next two years may gain enough experience to make the Crimson varsity. Holbrook is a junior this year at the Cambridge university and went big two years ago at high school. Last fall he was troubled more or less with a trick knee and at the conclusion of the hockey season an operation was performed on it. If his knee has regained its strength he should go good this fall. Gilligan was one of the stars of last year's freshman outfit, following a year at Exeter academy after graduation from high school in the same class with Holbrook. Early in the week Gilligan was rated as a quarterback although it is possible that he may see a great deal of service at one of the halfback positions. The former Newton star is shifty, a heady player, and experienced at either position. He is the heaviest of the three Newton graduates who reported last Saturday weighing 175. Holbrook tipped the scales at 160 and Hogan at 167. Both Gilligan and Holbrook have been playing on the three teams at various times and have a chance to clinch regular berths.

Yesterday afternoon the three varsity teams scrimmaged against the scrubs and scored three touchdowns. The two final scores were made by Team C on which both Gilligan and Holbrook were playing. Gilligan crossed the line with the varsity's chance to clinch regular berths. He scored several fine plays by Holbrook and himself. He then kicked the goal for the extra point, the only one of the day.

Hunnefeld's Single Ties Score
Yesterday afternoon the Chicago White Sox upset the Yankees 4 to 3 in a 12-inning struggle to allow the Athletics to gain a game, by defeating Detroit, in the American league pennant race. Hunnefeld, the former Saxony player, was a shortstop for the Chicago and collected three hits out of four trips to the plate. One of his singles brought in the tying run in the eighth inning and enabled the Chicago nine to send the game into extra innings. Hunnefeld also played well in the field, accepting eleven chances without a slip.

Start Tomorrow
Both Everett and Somerville high school football teams open their seasons tomorrow. Somerville has largely a veteran team while Everett has but one man, Captain Digby, who was a first string player last year. But the Everett outfit will be plenty strong enough as all of its second team, which last year was nearly on a par with the first, is on deck again. Everett opposes St. Johnsbury tomorrow while Somerville and Chelsea lock grips.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Cars driven by William Bresnahan of 282 Watertown street, Nonantum, and F. A. Pelouquin of 177 Derby street, West Newton, collided Saturday afternoon on Commonwealth avenue near Walnut street, Newtonville. Pelouquin and his wife who was riding with him, complained of injuries to their legs.

Cars driven by Joseph Giroux of Milford and George Vincent of 95 Maple street, Waltham, collided Monday afternoon at Commonwealth avenue and Chestnut street, West Newton. Vincent received cuts on his arms and head and was treated by Dr. Lowe.

John Fraser, 12, of 17 Central avenue, Newtonville, was struck Monday afternoon by some cowardly automobile driver who fled after the accident. The boy was playing with some other children in the gutter on Walnut street, near Lowell avenue, Newtonville, when the automobile, according to the children, came along on the wrong side of the street and after hitting the boy speeded up Walnut street in the direction of Craft street. Young Fraser was picked up by Albert Martin of Watertown and taken to the Newton Hospital.

BITTEN BY DOGS

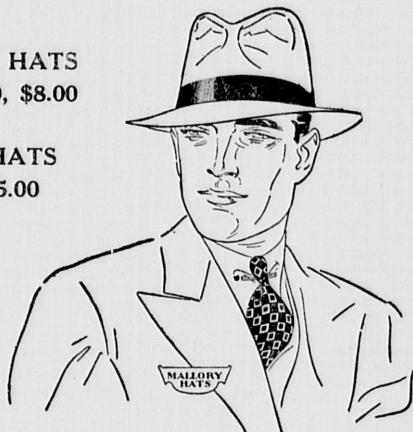

Tuesday night the police were notified that a dog owned by Myron Kondanzian of 569 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, had bitten the young daughter of R. J. Graham of Wessex road, Newton Centre. Another complaint received the same evening was from Mrs. Hannah Rubin of Beech street, Nonantum, who complained that she had been bitten by a dog owned by Hosanna Lacroix of 36 Faxon street, Nonantum. The animals were ordered restrained and Dr. Bouteille was notified to inspect them.

SUPPOSED MAD DOG

Wednesday night and yesterday morning a dog, supposedly afflicted with rabies, frightened many persons in the vicinity of Pearl and School streets, Newton. Wednesday evening the dog snapped at a number of children and then disappeared. When he reappeared Thursday morning the police were notified and Motorcycle Officer O'Donnell went to the neighborhood, found the dog and shot it. There was no name on the collar worn by the dog.

MIDDLESEX COURT M. C. O. F.

Middlesex Court 60, M. C. O. F., will hold its annual election of officers at its next meeting in Elks Hall on Tuesday night, September 25. Miss Eleanor Mulcahy, the present popular Vice Chief Ranger of the Court, will be unopposed for the office of Chief Ranger, and James McDonald will have no opponent for the office of Vice Chief Ranger. There will be contests for a number of the other offices.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Unless I am mistaken one of the things we are urged to remember in addressing mail is to be certain of the street and number and make it legible on the envelope or cover. If we merely write the name of the person and that of the street and city and omit the number we are apt to cause general gummings-up of the mail distributing system. So much for that and congratulations to those who are always careful.

It seems to me that the next step is to be sure our house is numbered and that the figures are displayed where they can be read. If, however, anybody wants to cover-up his house number that is his business. He cannot complain if the letter carriers, delivery men and his personal friends fail to find him.

As far as I have observed Newton has done pretty well in placing signs on street corners. I wouldn't say this was true of the new thoroughfares incidental to real estate development, but so rapid and so general has this latter become that the city authorities can hardly be criticised. A man who builds in a section recently laid out must expect to suffer some of the embarrassments of the pioneer.

For thoroughfares of considerable length some cities have adopted what appears to be an excellent scheme. I think everybody will agree it is of especial value on streets where houses are not near the sidewalk or have a setback of no little depth. The idea, which may not be particularly new, provides not only for the name of the street but the numbers on the houses in that vicinity. You read, for instance, "Richman's road" and then "117 to 195." This tells you more than the fact that you have found the street you seek. It gives the location of the house you wish to find, providing, of course, you have the number.

Newton has many long streets. If one happens to be on foot it is some walk say from Waverley avenue at Tremont street to the high numbers which are at the Newton Centre end. Should this seem a bit too hasty a suggestion I can assure our city authorities that it has been successfully carried out in other cities with little or no increase in the tax rate.

If it is quite in order I should like to look ahead for a few minutes. It won't be so many years now before we shall have a new fire station at Newton Corner. People who stop to admire or criticise it will add, "Just think, they used to hold elections in the old one!"

"You don't mean it was a polling place?" will come the question. "Exactly," my father and mother used to vote there and they said that people also voted at the Free Library!"

"Really, well isn't that funny and didn't they do strange things then. I don't see how they could hold an election with the fire apparatus in the way, or did they move them into the street? And how in the world could they vote in the public library and not interfere with the distribution of books?" I must say, I don't understand.

"All I know is that they did. Hop into my airplane if you're going over to Paris for the afternoon. I'll tell more about it."

"This is going to take place some day and personally I hope to be around to hear it. Whether or not that is my privilege I am tickled to see Newton is looking up in the matter of quarters for voters."

I used to wonder whoever conceived the idea of making the voters play "going to Jerusalem" in the fire station. It was the best joke of election day—outside of some of the candidates—to see a procession of men and women treading where the fine old fire horses used to tread and sometimes falling to show horse sense.

As for the Free Library, it was a case of watch your step but you took a risk in the dark passage at the "entrance." However, it's all over now and the Underwood School is the place. It will do some voters good to get into an educational atmosphere, even if they make only a brief visit.

Some one of these days some clever soul is going to come to the front and show us the used automobile business, all its little tricks and deceptions and thus earn the undying gratitude of men and women wherever wheels turn and tires blow out the world over. The problem is too much for me. I give up without even a struggle.

even on one specific car, there are different sets of prices, depending on which end of the bargain the individual is placed.

Another nice, gentle little practice, to which I was enlightened only a few days ago, was given away by a used automobile salesman, quite unconsciously, during a casual conversation. We were talking over the business and the conversation turned to the difficulty which is being experienced in getting deliveries on a certain make, the kind in which he deals. I expressed surprise when he told me that the factories were almost up with their orders and yet it was impossible to get delivery on certain models within four or five weeks.

"Oh, well," he said, "We must do something to protect the used car sale you know. Slow deliveries are the best little thing in the world in keeping up the demand for late model re-sale cars, you know. If we could deliver new cars right off the bat, we would suddenly find our showrooms overstocked with hundreds of good quality second hand machines which we would be forced to sell at a loss, because they were not in sufficient demand. If, however, we keep the new one slow in coming we can get rid of our last year's model turns-in for fancy prices to people who insist on getting a car right away, even if it isn't a new one."

It's a great racket, this automobile business, and I've about decided that the big companies have come to the conclusion that they are going to tax auto owners just about so much money every year and one is just as well off to come through with the price of a new machine every year or so as he is to hang on to the old bus three or four years and "take it on the chin" as depreciation. Under the first plan, he at least has the pride and joy of owning a new car every so often.

I happen to know that the State of Massachusetts and that branch of its service performed by the Public Utilities Commission in particular has lost an almost indispensable member of its force in the retirement of Mr. C. Peter Clark of Newton Centre. Mr. Clark was chief of the bureau of rates and tariffs and inasmuch as he was the key man it will be difficult indeed for the commission to fill his place.

I think if we happened to know the inside of what is going on we would find the commissioners scratching their heads and wondering where they will find another like him. I guess they've about concluded they may not expect to do that but must proceed to fill the vacancy as best they can.

Mr. Clark came with the commission in 1913 and established the rate and tariff division as he felt it should be. He had a background of many years as a railroad executive which gave him all the needed qualifications. His fifteen years of State service has been of immeasurable value to Massachusetts. He may be obliged to bow to the requirements of the somewhat stupid system of retiring officials because of their age rather than for any physical inability, but he won't be forgotten.

I sincerely hope the business men of Newton Corner will succeed in having a new system of lighting for Nonantum Square. Individuals have done the best they could but there is nothing as effective as an organization of men right on the ground. They know the needs and with a sufficient show of determination and insistence can doubtless bring the powers that be to the proper point of view. In other words, they can make the Mayor and Board of Aldermen see the light and furthermore the kind of light that should be installed to illuminate the business center of a progressive community.

It is a slur upon rural communities to say that we are countrified. The fact is the country districts so-called have an appreciation of the needs of a traffic center, be it a village square or at the crossroads. The traffic problem in Nonantum Square is perplexing enough with dim lights—let's brighten the corner and see how it looks then.

POLICE NEWS

Friday noon a horse harnessed to a wagon owned by the Noble Milk Company became frightened while its driver was delivering milk in a house nearby and started to dash along Commonwealth avenue at Newtonville. As the animal neared Walnut street and a collision with an approaching automobile seemed imminent, Patrolman Sanford McLean caught the bridle of the runaway and after being dragged for a short distance succeeded in bringing it to a stop.

Antonio Bontempo of 63 West street, Nonantum, was arrested Friday night by Serg. Mahoney and Patrolman Cleary and turned over to the Boston police by whom he was wanted on the charge of perjury.

John T. Burns, Jr., of Newtonville complained to the police that an overcoat, two sweaters and some cigars were stolen from his automobile early Sunday morning while it was parked on Mill street, Newtonville.

Sunday night an automobile owned by Ward Schoenfeld of 15 Clark street, Newton Highlands, was stolen while it was parked in the square at Newton Highlands.

Week after week and month after month the Bigger and Better Chevrolet has swept on to greater and greater heights of popularity—until today it stands acknowledged everywhere as first choice of the nation for 1928!

Never has any Chevrolet enjoyed such overwhelming public acceptance—for never has any low-priced car provided such an outstanding combination of distinctive beauty, thrilling performance and amazing economy!

Its beautiful bodies by Fisher—long, low and racy, and finished in colors that reveal to-day's mode for smartness and individuality—are far in advance of accepted standards in the field of low-priced cars. Inside and out they prove anew that Fisher craftsmanship is a thing apart.

But Chevrolet performance is no less impressive than Chevrolet beauty and style. Never before was a low-priced car so easy to handle—for the steering mechanism is fitted with ball bearings throughout... the clutch and gear-shift lever respond to the slightest touch... and big non-locking 4-wheel brakes give a measure of braking control that is more than equal to every occasion.

Come in and see the car that has won the approval of more than three quarters of a million buyers since January 1st. Learn for yourself why it is scoring the greatest success of this great automotive year!

ROTARY CLUB

The Rev. P. A. Simpkins was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday. Mr. Simpkins, who is a retired Congregational minister, has traveled extensively in his present work as National Chaplain of the Lumber Industry. Due to false standards of living many of us are living in troublous times, said Mr. Simpkins. The New England colleges, however, have made it possible for the common man and woman to find the power to see clearly and get the truth. Many of us are thinking too much of riches and not of making the most of what we already have. The man who deceives himself into thinking he is better than he actually is is to be despised and the economic situation is up to each and every one of us. The greatest limit of the present public school educational system is that it fails to teach the youths of today how to think.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Newton Girl Scouts have brought their summer camping season to a successful close with an Officers' Training Camp at Camp Mary Day in Natick, and have opened their winter headquarters at 297 Walnut street, Newtonville. The first troops to start active meetings for the year was Troop 25, Captain Freeman's troop in West Newton, which held its first meeting at the Unitarian Church on Tuesday, September 18, and Troop 5, West Newton, meeting at the Second Church, Miss Eleanor Hartel, Captain. Troop 23, Captain Plimpton, Newton Centre, followed very closely, as their first meeting came on Thursday, at the Baptist Church.

The patrol leaders and corporals of Troop 14, Waban, spent Friday night at the Hut at Cedar Hill and had a glorified Court of Honor meeting at which they planned a large part of their troop program for the coming winter.

Many other troops will have their first meetings next week. Such an early start should foretell a happy and successful year for Girl Scouting in Newton.

The Girl Scout office is open every day from 9:00 a. m. except Saturdays, when it closes at 12. Miss Ruth Fennerty, a Golden Eaglet from Cambridge, has joined the executive staff in Miss Lovejoy's place, as office assistant. The other staff members are Miss Caroline Freeman, Local Director, and Mrs. Leslie Warren, Field Captain.

Plans are being formed for a combined Court of Awards and Christmas Bazaar to be given at the high school in December and these will be discussed with the Captains at a special Captains' meeting on Wednesday evening, September 26th.

A very successful two weeks' training course for leaders was concluded at Camp Mary Day on September 18th. Twelve junior officers and two captains took the training course, which included many new games, songs, and folk dancing, as well as hike suppers, treasure hunts and much discussion. Captain Fairbrother camp nurse, and the training was given by Captain Warren and Captain Wright. The students were Ethel deMille, Virginia Grey, Virginia Randall, Elizabeth Plimpton, and Alison Thorogood, all of Newton Centre, Jane McGregor of Newtonville, Ruth Cobleigh of Newton Highlands, Eleanor Wales, Auburndale, Margaret Kilburn and Eleanor Hall, West Newton, and Anne Kenefick, Marion Bridley, and Anna Sullivan, of Upper Falls, and Virginia Brown, Newton. The mascots for the training school, one for each patrol, were Peggy Wright, Troop 24, Waban, and Betsey Warren, Brownie Pack 1, Waban.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Heidi, the doll that just came to the United States from Switzerland, will tell the story of her life through her interpreter, Marjorie Forbes, at the Children's Museum of Boston on Saturday morning, September 22 at 10:30 o'clock. Miss Forbes, a member of the Museum staff, has just returned from a trip abroad where she made a special study of the school and play life of the children in various countries.

The collecting group of the Olmsted Naturalists will meet at the Museum at 10:15 on Saturday, September 22, for an outdoor lesson on leaves and insects. The members of this club are working toward the prize offered by the Children's Museum for the best collection. Membership is open to anyone up to the age of sixteen.

The staff and reporters of "Our Hobbies," the nature magazine published by the members of the Exchange Bureau of the Children's Museum, will hold a meeting at the Museum on Saturday, September 22 at 4 o'clock.

A group of fifty students of the Simmons College School of Social Work will meet at the Museum on Tuesday afternoon, September 25, at 4 o'clock for an inspection of the exhibits and a talk on the work of the Museum given by the Director, Miss Mildred E. Manter.

The season for all-day groups from the playgrounds and various settlements has just closed. Four thousand three hundred and eighty-seven children from the playgrounds of Boston alone have taken advantage of the opportunity of visiting the Museum during July and August. An inspection of the museum exhibits in the morning, accompanied by a decent, lunch eaten on the porch of Jamaica Pond, followed by an illustrated talk in the museum lecture hall made up a day that will long be remembered by many children. Nearly 19,000 people visited the museum during July and August.

An exhibition of water colors of New England landscape, the museum lecture hall is attracting much attention. This exhibit will be on display through September 30.

The museum is open free from 9 to 5 and 1:30 to 5 on Sundays.

WILL IRWIN TO SPEAK HERE

The Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts has been most fortunate in securing the services, through National Headquarters, of Mr. Will C. Irwin, official biographer of Herbert Hoover, to speak at a Republican Rally at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Harriman, Centre street, Newton, on September 22, at 2:30 P. M. The rally will be held in their beautiful garden, weather permitting, otherwise in the house.

Newton people will have an opportunity to hear some notable Republican speakers, for besides Mr. Irwin's address, Congressman Robert Luce will speak, also Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer and Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird. Hon. Edwin O. Childs, will make a few remarks, and as many of the successful Republican candidates are able to be present will speak a few words.

It is hoped by the Women's Republican Club which has arranged this meeting with the generous co-operation of Mr. and Mrs. Harriman, that many Newton Republicans will avail themselves of this opportunity to demonstrate their loyalty and intentions to the candidates, and to welcome Mr. Irwin with appreciative enthusiasm.

"Quantity Distribution of Quality Gasoline Enables Low Price"

A SUGGESTION

Sept. 14, 1928.
 To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

Why do teachers in primary schools keep the children after school for punishment letting them out a half hour after the rest? The danger is that all traffic officers are gone from their posts and the auto drivers are most careless as they think all dangers is past as officers are not there at their stations.

I saw a child pass today into Park street from the Underwood School. She would have been killed by a driver tearing down Park street if her mother had not seen her in time to call her as she was stepping in front of this auto. The little girl, who is 7½ years old, was kept a half hour after school.

Children of 6 to 10 years never take much precaution. A law should be passed to forbid teachers keeping children after school unless traffic officers are kept a half hour extra. One life lost by such carelessness would be a mar on our city.

MRS. JULIA W. KEENE.
 279 Tremont Street.

JOHN BOYLE O'REILLY ASSO-CIATES MEET

At the regular meeting of the John Boyle O'Reilly Literary association held in Arcanum Hall, West Newton, was celebrated the 125th anniversary of the death of Robert Emmet. This organization has been in existence in Newton more than 35 years and has for its object the complete independence of Ireland. The meeting was opened by Pres. Timothy O'Connell. Martin Kennedy presided during the literary exercises. Martin J. Cunniff of Watertown, one of the oldest members of the organization, was the principle speaker of the evening, giving a complete outline of the stirring events in Emmet's life as well as reciting his immortal speech from the prisoner's dock. Mr. John Rohan of Weyland and P. J. McGaffigan of Waltham spoke on the achievements of the present Free State Government since it was instituted. Remarks were also made by P. J. Gleason, John Fleming, Edward Timmins, D. O. Conwell, R. Lyons, Jeremiah Herlihy, James Shea, and Edward Burke. Visitors were present from Waltham and Watertown and a buffet lunch was served to all present.

BACHRACH OUTING

The Ocean House at Swampscott was the scene last Saturday for the annual outing of the Bachrach Associates, an organization comprising all employees of Bachrach, Inc., photographers.

Those serving on committees were: Mrs. Catherine Rinehart, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee assisted by Miss Alice Ellis, Mrs. H. F. C. Hanson, Mr. Fred Daniels and Mr. Albert Michelson; Mr. Clifford Ohnemus was Chairman of the Transportation Committee assisted by Mr. Augustus Haffer, Mr. Charles Miller and Mr. Thomas Stevenson; Mr. Frank Michelson was Chairman of the Athletics Committee assisted by Miss Eva Brooks, Mr. Allan S. McLean and Mr. T. T. Rudzinski.

Between two and three hundred members and friends of the organization attended.

AIRCRAFT TOURNAMENT

The Second National Playground Miniature Aircraft Tournament, for which thousands of boys are preparing, will be the concluding attraction of the Congress on October 5 and 6. Six hundred delegates including a number appointed by state governors at the suggestion of Governor Harry Moore of New Jersey, are expected.

The proprietors of the provision and grocery stores in this city organized and incorporated as the UNITED SERVICE STORES have decided to change the name of their organization to the SUBURBAN SERVICE STORES. Although assured by Federal and State authorities that they could continue legally to use the name "United Service Stores," having become acquainted with the fact that a combination of store owners in another part of Greater Boston had been advertising under this name, the local merchants decided to be known henceforth as the SUBURBAN SERVICE STORES.

The Registrars of Voters request persons who intend to get registered during the next few weeks not to wait until the last day or two, but to register early. From now until October 17, persons may register every week-day at City Hall between the hours of 9 and 5 except on Saturdays when the City Hall closes at 12 noon. The Registrars also request persons to make certain that their names are not on the lists of Registered Voters before coming to City Hall or some other place in the city where registration is conducted and registering unnecessarily.

Foggy and wet mornings with streets covered with fallen leaves—a period when the car owners should use every precaution in caution so as to save themselves and others from injuries and accidents. Realizing this, the C. M. Evans Tire Company of Watertown is holding a Trade In Sale so that worn tires may be taken as part payment for new equipment.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

After a long empty period of over two months, the F. A. Day Junior High School opened its doors to welcome students, both old and new, on Monday morning, September 10th. By eight-thirty the whole building had taken on the atmosphere of new life and young voices had charged the air with enthusiasm.

Of course we felt lost without the ninth grade of last year, but it is surprising how rapidly the new ninth graders fall into line and assume the responsibilities of leadership. The entering class about 175 in number, and making up five divisions is smaller than the seventh grade of last year which was divided into eight divisions. At present the entire school enrollment is about twenty less than it was last year although new pupils are being admitted daily.

Several changes have occurred in the personal of the faculty since last spring. The positions of girls' and boys' physical training teachers, left vacant by Miss Inez Larcom and Mr. A. K. Grupe have been filled by Miss Marian Maxim of Newtonville, who comes to us from Oberlin College, Ohio, and Mr. Oliver Adams of Dorchester who taught in Wilbraham Academy, Mass., last year. One of our number left school in June as Miss Ethel Pierce and returned this fall as Mrs. Roger Hubbell.

But the expectations of renewing friendships were tinged with sadness because of two places left suddenly vacant in our present eighth grade. The entire Junior High School offers its sincerest sympathy to the families of Doris Robb of 30 Grove Hill road, Newtonville, and Mary Salomonson of 172 Harvard street, Newtonville. We are also grieved to learn that Claude Frazier, Grade VII, of 17 Central avenue, is in the Newton Hospital suffering from a compound fracture of the leg received when he was knocked down and run over by an unknown driver on Lowell avenue last Monday evening.

For the present, Assembly periods are being used as home room periods for the purpose of getting better acquainted and organizing school and class government.

LASSELL SEMINARY

Registration at Lassell Seminary was carried on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

School opened formally on Thursday morning when Principal Winslow met the assembled school at first chapel.

The senior class is the largest in the school's history. It has been found necessary to open a fifth senior house which will be known as Blaisdell Hall.

The Missionary and Christian Endeavor Societies are uniting in entertaining the new girls on Saturday evening.

First vespers on Sunday afternoon will be addressed by Dr. Elmer Leslie.

TEMPORARY AGENT APPOINTED BY BOARD OF HEALTH

The Newton Board of Health this week appointed Kelle Perine of Dorchester as temporary agent of the Board to substitute for Alfred M. Russell who has been ill for several months. Mr. Perine received his degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1922 and then went to the University of North Carolina, where, in addition to acting as instructor he continued his studies, receiving a Master of Science degree in 1925. For two years he served as the head of the laboratory of the Health Department in Birmingham, Alabama. He worked during summers as a sanitary engineer in the Massachusetts State Department of Health.

GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUB

The public meeting of the Good Government Club of Auburndale, on September 11th was well attended. The members and a good number of the community listened with great interest to Frank A. Goodwin, Candidate for the Republican Nomination for Governor of Massachusetts, and the Hon. Butler Ames, Eben S. Draper, and B. Loring Young, Contestants for the Republican Nomination for Senator, Lt. Gov. Allen had been invited to address the meeting, but had a speaking engagement at such a distance, it was impossible to come.

The President of the Club, Prof. Brewer G. Whitmore, introduced the speakers, and the meeting as long as possible expecting to hear from John J. Cummings, and Gen. Charles H. Cole, Contestants for the Democratic Nomination for Governor. Mr. Cummings arrived just as the meeting was dispersing, being unavoidably delayed in coming, which was much regretted.

Gen. Cole's representative was unable to be there, though intending to speak.

NONANTUM BOY DIES OF HYDROPHOBIA

Tompeio Leone, 13, of 229 Chapel street, Nonantum, son of Joseph Leone, died on Tuesday at the Newton Hospital of hydrophobia. The boy was bitten on August 4 by a dog on Warren street in Watertown. The animal was owned by a man named Falcone who resides on that street. A physician dressed the boy's wounds. Last week the boy developed symptoms which were diagnosed as infantile paralysis and he was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Paralysis developed and death ensued. Because of the circumstances in the case an autopsy was performed and it was found that hydrophobia and not infantile paralysis had caused the boy's death. The dog which bit the boy, according to his owner, broke away from a leash with which he was tied and escaped a couple of days after biting the Leone boy. The child's funeral was held Wednesday at the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

HINTS ON SENDING IN CLUB NEWS. This Column opens officially next week, September 28, and Press Chairmen, or Secretaries of Clubs acting in that capacity, should send items of Club news to the editor of this Column at her home, 4 Pembroke street, Newton, so as to reach her AT LATEST on the first mail on Monday of the week in which it is to appear. No items should be sent or taken to the Graphic direct, as they will not be accepted there. No items respecting Club affairs will appear in any other part of the paper, either among "personals" or in special space. All notices should be written out—not sent by telephone—and should be written on typewriter size paper, 8 1/2 by 11 inches—inexpensive yellow sheets will do—but MUST NOT be written on letter or note size paper, or on both sides of sheet.

Club news should be reported by the person authorized by the Club as press chairman, and no other officer or chairman of a committee should send news items, out of courtesy to the person authorized by the Club's

Executive Board. They should re- port news to the press chairman in ample time for her to assemble and send items to the paper.

The editor would appreciate having Year Books and Calendars from the various Clubs as an aid in compiling the data.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. has the honor of leading off the Club meetings for the season 1928-29. An especially happy part of the opening meeting is that the new president of the Club, Mrs. Andrew B. Wright, opens her home, 48 Harrison street, with her daughter, Mrs. R. Earle Tinkham, acting as joint hostess. The program for the afternoon, Monday, September 24, following the business meeting which opens at 2:30 o'clock, is to be in charge of Miss Anna S. Thompson and Mrs. Helen Ward, and will be a presentation of W. E. Bar- ton's "The Psalms and Their Story." The Year Book has a significant foreword heading the page of meet- ings for September and October, namely, "I will sing and give praise" (Psalms CVIII). Introductory as it is to the story of the Psalms of the September 24th meeting, it neverthe- less attracts the thought to a larger usefulness. The spirit of approach, he it to Club year or to other work in life, is one that will make the meet- ing or activity happier and more suc- cessful, and be a symbol of one's ap- preciation or gratitude for all that has been given or gained, and that may be acquired.

*DATES OF MEETINGS

Thirty Days In Jail For Drunken Driving

Bartholomew Baird Sentenced to House of Correction

Bartholomew Baird of Maple street, West Roxbury, was sentenced to 30 days in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon on Wednesday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was also fined $10 for drunkenness. Baird was arrested on the evening of September 7 after his automobile had collided with another car at the corner of Hammond street and Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill. Patrolman Whelan, who made the arrest, Patrolman Kelly, who was the wagon officer, and Lieut. Seaver, who booked Baird at police headquarters, all testified that he was decidedly under the influence of liquor. A bottle of liquor found in his car was presented as evidence. A Mrs. Canale, driver of the car with which Baird's car collided testified as to the faulty driving of the defendant being responsible for the accident. She stated, however, that she observed no signs of drunkenness on Baird.

Attorney John O'Neil presented several character witnesses for Baird who testified that he has abstained from the use of intoxicating liquor for the past couple of years. Baird testified that he had not touched any intoxicating liquor since he was arrested for drunken driving in 1926. He contended that the liquor found in his car was "paint remover." Inspector Shaughnessy asked him, "Was it responsible for your removal to police headquarters?" Judge Bacon told the defendant he did not believe his claim to abstemious conduct on September 7. Baird appealed both the fine and the sentence.

Two cases of driving under the influence of liquor were before the court yesterday morning. John J. Walsh of Crosby street, Newton, was fined $10 and I. U. Townsend, Jr., of Neholuden road, Waban, was fined $100 for driving and $10 for drunkenness. Townsend appealed.

William G. Girard of Charlesbank road was defaulted on a charge of assault and battery.

Arthur F. McLean of Milton was fined $5 on a charge of driving on the north side of Commonwealth avenue.

Monday evening Patrolmen Keating and Sullivan found an abandoned car on Parker street, Newton Centre. It had been stolen in Boston. On the same evening a car owned by Louis Alexander of Mattapan, which had been stolen from in front of 66 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, was recovered by Metropolitan police near the Chestnut Hill reservoir.

Lawrence Howland of 991 Watertown street, West Newton, reported to the police Monday that a battery had been stolen from his automobile.

Philip Wren of Dedham was fined $10 in the Newton court on Tuesday for driving a car without having his license in his possession. Charges of speeding and driving without the registration certificate were placed on file.

Rose Field of 28 Boylston street, Brookline, was fined $10 by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Wednesday. Motorcyclist Officer Hamill testified that she had driven past the dangerous intersection of Parker and Boylston streets, Newton Centre, at a speed of 40 miles an hour. Mrs. Field denied that she was driving at such a speed. Other speeders fined by Judge Bacon on Wednesday were—Ralph E.

Kennel Club Dog Show Coming October 12th

Fine Exhibit Planned On Y. M. C. A. Grounds

Dog lovers throughout New England are hoping that October 12th of this year will be fair and warmer—something of a rarity this summer—for on that day will be staged on the splendid grounds of the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Church street, Newton, Mass., the seventh annual Open Air Fall Show for all breeds of dogs from the largest to the smallest, by the Middlesex County Kennel Club.

This Club has already made a record of putting on some of the best one day shows in the New England Territory, and with the list of judges which it now presents to the fancy, there is every reason to believe that this year the records will again be eclipsed. Last year close to five hundred and sixty dogs were entered here, and the show is given for a very worthy cause—the Y. M. C. A. receiving the net proceeds, it is felt that no better way can be found for spending the holiday than by attending this show, either as an exhibitor or spectator.

The dog lover who plans to enter should do so at once for the catalogue must go to press early the coming week, and it takes a great deal of time to list up entries for the printer in their proper classes. So we appeal to all intending exhibitors to secure a premium list at once and to enter without a moment's delay.

The list of judges is one of the best ever put out for this show, and in many breeds the entries already indicate that the selection of these judges has been well made.

In our advertising columns will be found a notice, and there is only space here to emphasize the fact that exhibitors can find at least three addresses where they can at all times reach the superintendent, Mr. Thomas E. L. Kemp, or one of his club member assistants. So we warn the lists cannot be kept open forever. Enter now and look forward to the enjoyment of a beautiful day with man's best friends—Our Dogs.

MIDDLESEX COURT ELECTS OFFICERS

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., held its annual election of officers on Tuesday night at Elks Hall, Newton. Miss Eleanor Mulcahy of 52 Gardner street, Newton, was elected Chief Ranger; James McDonald, Vice Chief Ranger; Recording Secretary, Miss Mary Muligan; Financial Secretary, Thomas Bryson; Treasurer, Thomas Fitzgerald; Senior Conductor, Miss Katherine Hannon; Junior Conductor, Miss Mary Shea; Inside Sentinel, Miss Marion Good; Outside Sentinel, Miss Mary Buckley. These new officers will be installed at the meeting of the court on October 23rd.

Stuart, 39 Chestnut street, Newton Centre, $10; Andrew Patterson, 244 Heath street, Brookline, $15; Thomas Jordan, Florence street, Natick, $15; Jordan was also fined $10 for driving without proper lights and for a like offense Edward Nolan of Elmwood avenue, Watertown, was fined $5. For driving his automobile with too much noise and not enough lights—Joseph Pittorino of 24 Braeland avenue, Newton Centre, was fined $15. He drove with the cut-out of the muffler on his car open, and with improper lights.

Approve Plans For Newtonville School

School Committee Transacts Much Routine Business

The School Committee held a meeting on Monday night. Criticisms were made because of the changes made in the construction of the new Hamilton School at Lower Falls. It is asserted that although the original plans for this school, as submitted to the School Committee showed toilets in the kindergarten there, when the building was erected, these toilets were not installed and that the School Committee was not acquainted with the change in the plans. A communication was sent to Mayor Childs asking that toilets be placed in the kindergarten section of the building as originally planned.

It was voted to ask for an appropriation of $750 to provide for a salary of a supervising engineer for the School Department from October 1 to December 31. He will have charge of the engineers in the school buildings.

Changes in the teaching force announced were—Resignations: Donald Dewart, High School; Margaret Baldwin, Davis School; Marie Kelly, Emerson School; Dorothy Fread, Angier School. Appointments: Floyd Raker, High School, Lpise Santuoso, Bowen School building assistant; Mary White, Davis School; Catherine Hammond, Angier School; Helen Kaighin, Angier School. Teachers retired: Alice Wormwood, Barnard School; Amy Bateman, Mason School.

The plans for the new school on Bridges avenue, Newtonville, were approved. Committee Chairman Calkins of Ward 7 refused to vote on this matter, stating that it is not his policy to vote for the approval of plans unless he knows the cost of the building. He criticized the cost of the new John Ward School at Chestnut Hill.

The School Calendar for the coming year, as accepted by the School Committee shows that again on the 17th of next June the Newton schools will be kept open. Almost every community in Greater Boston closes its schools on the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill, but apparently the Newton School does not regard this day as being of sufficient historic import to observe. Supt. Wheeler told the committee that on June 17th of this year over 600 pupils were absent from school but this information did not change the attitude of the committee. The schools will close on Nov. 11th.

The request of the Lend-a-Hand Society for the use of the High School auditorium on December 28 to conduct a play, was refused. The committee objected for two reasons—it is opposed to the use of the schools during vacations, and this society is not entirely a Newton organization. The Society had offered to devote the proceeds of the play to charity.

O'CONNELL WITHDRAWS

Daniel O'Connell of Nevada street, Newtonville, who received the Democratic nomination as representative withdrew last Friday from the contest in the Fourth Middlesex District. As a result the three candidates at the election on November 6 for Representatives to the Legislature from this district, which includes Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of Newton, will be William B. Baker of 339 Waltham street, West Newton; Rupert C. Thompson of Hull street, Newtonville, and James P. Gallagher of Rossmore street, Newtonville. Mr. Baker is a lawyer by profession and for several years has been a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen. Mr. Thompson was formerly in the optical business and for the past two years has been a member of the Legislature from Newton. Mr. Gallagher was for many years in the postal service. He studied law nights, was admitted to the bar some years ago and has built up a very successful practice in this city.

Newton's Quota $6000 For Aid In South

To the Citizens of Newton:

Again the call comes for help from the stricken areas in the south. Men, women and little children face destitution, starvation, serious health problems and epidemic.

The Red Cross, the modern Angel of Mercy, has responded to the call and is at work. Five million dollars is the minimum needed for relief.

Newton's quota is six thousand dollars. Our people always respond generously in such an emergency. Do it now.

EDWIN O. CHILDS, Mayor.

By Edw. H. Powers

Thomas McGann, manager of the Newton Motor Parts Company made an heroic but unsuccessful attempt to rescue Ralph Carthy of Roxbury who was drowned in the Chestnut Hill reservoir last Saturday when his automobile plunged into the water. As McGann approached the scene of the accident, he saw from a distance Carthy struggling in the water. Jumping from his car McGann plunged into the reservoir, swam to where he had seen the drowning man and dived six times in attempts to recover the body, but without avail.

Persons desiring to register as voters may do so daily except Sundays and October 12th from now until October 17 at City Hall. The hours are 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. except on Saturdays when the hours are from 8:30 a. m. till noon. Despite the publicity which has been given to the matter of registration, only a small percentage of these eligible to register have been coming to City Hall to get on the voter list since September 29, the first date for registration after the primaries. Apparently many of those who intend to register are waiting until the last day or two before taking action. With the great rush that will be inevitable on the last couple of days, perhaps some of those who come late will be unable to get registered. Moral—"Get registered now."

It is a wonderful privilege to be able to sit comfortably in one's home and over the radio listen to speeches made by candidates for high political offices. Speeches made in cities far across this continent, or in cities less remote. But, we miss the thrills which we enjoyed years ago when the music of some crack military band, or the alleged music of amateur drum corps, furnished the tempo for the marching battalions in torchlight parades. And, in those times, not all the drum corps were crude in their efforts. We recall some good aggregations of fifers and drummers. Of special interest—and inspiration to the small boys of the past generation were the drum majors who could expertly manipulate a baton, or the chap who hammered the bass drum. The first bass drummers we saw who could wield two big drum sticks created a veritable sensation among the kids. These double-action bass drummers were from the British Isles where the technique of pounding the big drums was more advanced than in this country. In these days of electric lights and automobile headlights, kerosene torchlights would not be so effective as in the old days when the streets were lit dimly here and there by gas lights or by kerosene lamps, and when more houses were illuminated by kerosene lamps than by gas lamps—when electric lights were in only a comparatively few wealthy homes. No strings of incandescent lamps stretched across lawns to greet the marchers as they passed, but dozens of Chinese and Japanese lanterns presented a pleasing effect, as did rows of candles in the windows of houses. Possibly some parades will be organized by the Republicans and Democrats before this campaign is ended—but they will lack the glamor of those held 30 and more years ago.

Automobile Accidents Increasing In Numbers

Persons and Property Seriously Injured The Past Week

Automobiles driven by Samuel Yaross of 112 West street, Newton, and David McConnell of Bigelow street, Cambridge, collided on Saturday at Tremont street and Waverley avenue, Newton. Yaross was treated by Dr. Shields for severe cuts under the left arm and on his forehead.

Another accident occurred Tuesday night at the dangerous intersection of Pearl and Jewett streets, Newton. A car driven by Patrick Sullivan of 32 Webster street, West Newton, traveling on Jewett street, and a car driven by Daniel Waldron of Centre street, Jamaica Plain, proceeding on Pearl street, collided. Sullivan's car lurched onto the sidewalk of Pearl street and hit Mrs. Grace Fitzgerald of 151 Pearl street, injuring her considerably. She was taken to her home.

Thursday afternoon cars driven by Charles Johnson of 47 Greylock road, Newtonville, and Olive C. Luce of 52 Newtonville avenue, Newton, collided at the intersection of Church and Centre streets, Newton. Both cars were badly damaged and several occupants of the car driven by Johnson were injured. Miss Elizabeth Tewksbury of 457 Washington street, received several cuts on her head from broken glass. Elizabeth Adams, 21 months old, of 47 Greylock road, was cut over the left eye.

Josephine Vinculo of 420 Watertown street, Newton, was struck and injured by a truck Wednesday afternoon as she was walking on a crosswalk at Watertown and Adams streets, Newton. The child was removed to the office of a physician and from there to the Newton Hospital by the police. The truck was driven by Julian Demeo of 156 School street, Waltham, and owned by Otto A. Theurer of 171 Watertown street, Watertown.

T. W. Sharpe of 99 Trowbridge avenue, Newtonville, was injured Wednesday when a taxicab in which he was a passenger collided with another automobile at Madison avenue and Walnut street, Newtonville. The cab was driven by Sidney F. Jones of 58 School street, Taunton, and owned by Mrs. Catherine Ross of 76 Bennington street, Newton. The other machine was driven by John Gallagher, Jr., and owned by Elinor Gallagher of 46 Clarendon street, Newtonville.

MR. RAND SEVERELY INJURED

Waldron H. Rand, Jr., of 139 Gibbs street, Newton Centre, vice president of the Atlantic National Bank, Boston, was thrown from his horse on the Jamaica way bridge path last Friday morning and seriously injured. The horse, galloping along the road after throwing his rider, collided with an automobile, broke a leg and had to be shot. Persons observing the riderless animal started a search along the bridge path and found Mr. Rand lying unconscious. He was taken to the Beth Israel Hospital, nearby where it was found that he had suffered severe injuries to his head, it being feared that his skull was fractured.

Traffic Towers To Be Placed In Two Months

New Centrals At Newton And Newton Centre

Within a couple of months attractive traffic towers will be placed at the intersection of Centre and Beacon streets, Newton Centre, and at Nonantum Square, Newton. The tower at Newton Centre will be quite ornate, costing $2000 for the structure alone. The cost of equipping it and laying the wires to connect it with the Edison Service will bring the total cost up to about $3600. Of this amount nearly $1900 will be raised by the Newton Centre Improvement Association as a result of a meeting held by members of that association on Wednesday night which was attended by Alderman Worth, Street Commissioner Stuart, Chief of Police Burke, George W. McNear of Auburndale who will construct the tower and representatives of the Edison Company which will install the signals.

The tower at Newton Corner in Nonantum Square will be less costly than that at Newton Centre. Recently the aldermen appropriated $2700 to pay for the cost of a tower, signal lights and the necessary wire conduits at Nonantum Square, the tower itself to cost about $1000. According to present plans, the tower which will be built by Mr. McNear for this location, will cost somewhat more than originally planned, and because of a change of location the cost of laying the wires will be about $150 more. The tower at Nonantum Square will be in position before the end of this year.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

In response to the appeal of the American Red Cross for help for the hurricane sufferers, to date the Newton Chapter has received $1668.00 in amounts from $13.00 towards its quota of $5,000. Among the contributions received are American Legion, $25; Needham Branch, American Red Cross, $100; Parish Aid, St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls, $25; Earnshaw Knitting Mills, large donation of baby garments.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

SPAIN TRYING OUT WITH CARDS

Frank Spain, Newton high school athletic star, who graduated last June with twelve letters in his possession, attracted such favorable attention this summer as shortstop of the Chat-ham-Harwich team in the Cape Cod baseball league that he is being given a tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals, national league pennant contenders, during their present stay at Braves Field, Boston. Yesterday Spain made his appearance in the shortfield positions and made somewhat of a favorable impression on the St. Louis management. If he continues to do so this afternoon and tomorrow it may mean the start of a professional career for him. Because of the fact that the Cardinals are in the thick of the pennant scramble it is improbable that Spain will get the chance to show his batting form. However, he is a natural fielder, and if the St. Louis coach sees promise of further development in his play and sign him to a contract he will probably be sent to one of their many farms. The Cardinals probably have more minor league clubs than any other major league club among them being Rochester of the International league; Houston of the Texas league; Elmira of the New York-Penn state league and others in the middle west, south and west.

Spain got his first baseball coaching while attending the Angier grammar school in Waban from Donald Houghton, present coach of the athletic teams at the Charles St. School in Waltham. Entering Newton High the fall of 1923 he began an athletic career which bids fair to carry him even further along. During his freshman year he made the varsity high school hockey team as a wing and after three years there played two years at centre ice, winning four letters. As a sophomore Spain made the varsity football under Coach Allie Dickinson and won his letter as a substitute back. The next year he showed great promise as a quarterback. In 1926 he was the regular signal caller and a field goal scorer of note. Late in the season he received an ankle injury which kept him on the sidelines the balance of the schedule. This was his first football letter. He was elected to captain the 1927 team but the bad ankle not having responded to treatment during the summer to make it sufficiently strong to stand the rigors of the game Spain resigned the captaincy in order to keep himself fit for hockey and baseball and not risk a permanent injury.

A star on the football field and the schoolboy peer in hockey Spain is also a brilliant ballplayer. Making the varsity as a sophomore gave him the chance to earn four letters in the sport and bring his total to twelve. The first two years on the team he played the out field and at second base. In 1927 Captain Johnny Proctor's arm was sore and he could not hold down his regular berth at short-stop effectively. Spain was shifted from second to the shortfield and then and there found his natural position. Although he did not hang up an imposing batting average close scrutiny of the records will reveal that he got his share of the hits, many at the right time, and that he reached first more frequently than any other player on the team through his ability to look them over and draw a pass.

This past summer was Spain's first summer at baseball. For several seasons previously he had been a councillor at Camp Frank A. Day, the Newton Y camp, and although teaching the smaller lads the game had little chance to add to his own experience. This summer Spain landed with the Chat-ham-Harwich team of the Cape Cod league where the daily games brought him along rapidly and gave him the finishing touches he needed. During his first month on the Cape the local athlete drew more passes to first than the leading batter had hits. He rarely bites at the bad balls. In one of the later season games he played the entire nine innings failed to get credit for an official time at bat which is a rather unusual feat in itself.

In the field he was at his best. At the close of the Cape season he was rated as the best fielding shortstop in the league, the possessor of the best arm of any shortstop in the league, the player to reach first most frequently and one of the headiest players in the league. When one considers the fact that the Cape Cod league has many college and minor league stars on its teams and that it is frequently rated as high as some of the minor league circuits it does not seem unreasonable to presume that Spain has a future in the sport. He is but nineteen years old and while few make the major league in their twenties there have been some and there will be more.

Last Year's Athletes At Colleges

Many of the athletes at Newton high last year are seeking higher education. Edgar Warren, third baseman on the baseball team and a hurdler on the track team, has entered Yale. Warren is also an excellent tennis player and should find a niche for himself in some one of these three sports at New Haven. Romaine Cole, football end and captain and dash man on the track team is a freshman at Tufts where he is trying out for the freshman eleven. Creighton Gatchell, centre on the football team and shot-putter on the track team is a freshman at Bowdoin. Bob Bennett, full-back, is at Exeter; Donald MacIntyre, halfback, is at Tabor Academy; and Langdon Powers of the hockey and baseball teams is at Deerfield Academy.

Hunnefield Triples Off Grove
Philadelphia Athletics with Lefty Grove in the box defeated the Chisox 5 to 3. Bill Hunnefield, who played second for Chicago, got one hit, a triple, to bring in one of the losers runs.

NEWTON SHOWS MUCH PROMISE

The Newton high varsity football squad went to Wellesley Wednesday afternoon to hold a practice game against the Wellesley high team at Hunnewell Field. Newton scored four touchdowns and held Wellesley to but four first downs in about an hour's play. The orange and black showed promise of developing considerable power before the end of the season although there were many rough spots which will have to be polished off. This of course must be expected as it was the first time this season the local boys have been pitted against other than their own teammates. With a stiff schedule confronting it the Newton team will have to play its very best to be among the title contenders this fall. It is still too early to say which teams may upset Newton but tomorrow's game with Belmont should be a Newton win by at least two touchdowns.

In Captain Everett Scheinfain and Norman Payne the Newton team has a pair of ends that are above the average in schoolboy football. The former was all-scholastic choice last fall while Payne was held in reserve for use at right end when Captain Cole was taken out. Payne is the ideal type of end, fast and rangy. As a center on the basketball team last winter he learned a great deal about handling the ball which should benefit him this fall.

In the tackle berths will be Daniel Harrington and Dave Hapgood. Harrington is a veteran of two seasons and was always a bulwark of strength in the line. This season should be his best. Hapgood is a younger brother of Ernest Hapgood, star tackle two years ago, whom he resembles a great deal. He is the heaviest man on the squad and with Scheinfain on one side of him and another letter man, Robblee, on the other side, there will not be many gains through his position.

Harold Robblee and William Anness will start at the guard positions. The former played a tackle berth last year but was moved over to the guard position to keep an experienced man in the middle of the line. Anness, the other guard, was a substitute last year, so is not new in the lineup. Other guards who will probably see action are Boughan and Jack Gardiner.

Arthur Chamberlain will start at centre although it is quite probable that Charles Perry and Fred Schipper will get into the game there also. Chamberlain substituted for Creighton Gatchell a few times last year but is rather light for the berth. He has plenty of courage, however, and may come along fast.

Coach Sullivan has considerable material to work with in the back-field. Frank Perry, who saw some service last year, will start at quarter-back and will also call the signals. He is almost the only backfield signal barker the Newton mentor has and when he is not in the game Captain Scheinfain calls the plays and signals. The halfbacks will be Francis Duane and Joe Gilligan. Both are expected to have a good year. Duane began to find himself near the close of last season and is the best triple threat man on the team. He can kick, pass and run. Gilligan is a shifty running back who reminds one a great deal of his older brother Tom, now at Harvard. The younger brother is also the best drop kicker on the team and can pass equally as well as Duane. William Reilly will probably start at fullback. The West Newton youth has been getting away some nice punts in practice and has been plugging the line hard.

Most any football game hinges greatly on the ability of the linemen in opening up the holes for the ball carriers. A fast charging line, working together can raise havoc with the opponents. The cohesion necessary for such play is continual practice. Local fans cannot expect to go to Clafin Field tomorrow and see Belmont swept off its feet because that probably will not happen. After a few games when the team gets working as a unit the orange and black should have considerable offensive power. Couple this with several other good backfield men in addition to those mentioned the Newton eleven may go far this year.

In Wednesday's scrimmage with Wellesley forward passes resulted in three of the four touchdowns scored. Shortly after the kickoff Newton had the ball on Wellesley's three yard line. A recovered fumble lost nine yards. On third down Gilligan dropped back and tossed a pass into the waiting arms of Payne, in the end zone for the score. Gilligan missed the goal. A 30-yard pass from Gilligan to Scheinfain scored the second tally and again Gilligan missed the point. Near the close of the first half of the play Pescosolido reeled off a 25-yard end run. A pass from Perry to Ham, who relieved Payne, put the ball on the three yard line. Perry carried it over in two plays. No play was made for the point. In the second half Gilligan tossed another long forward to Scheinfain who had a clear field for fifteen yards to the goal line.

Chamberlain and Robblee go in a number of pretty tackles and stood out among the linemen, while all the backfield gave good accounts of themselves. Wellesley tried the "dead man" play once and nearly got away with it. The end got down the field and caught the long pass in mid-field with only Perry between him and the goal-line. The latter got his man with a nice tackle.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

During the regular club period this last week the students in each home room chose their Student Council members. The following were chosen to serve for the first half of the school year: Alma Warner, Paul Richardson, Doris Downing, Richard King, Gardner Hinkley, Alfred Dickenson, Robert Whitney, Roger Maynard, Richard Rogers, Frank McCarthy, Edward Campbell, Irving Clukas, Ethel Henchey, Margaret Campbell, Louise Dickenson, Rosetta Littlefield, Stuart Wild, Albert Walker, Douglas Siano, William Mullen, Jeanette Lampert, Janet Green.

The Student Patrol is to be chosen during the next few days. The duty of the students chosen for this office is to see that no unnecessary disturbance arises in the corridors or lunch room. They are also of great assistance to the new students who frequently lose their way around the building.

Soccer takes the place of football on the boys' athletic program for this fall. Practice has already been organized by Mr. Adams, physical instructor.

Mr. Carr has been chosen as a member of a committee with headquarters at Station WEEI, Boston, to work up a series of Studio to Schoolroom broadcasts. It is intended that these programs shall be as varied as possible both in subject and in presentation and that they shall be both instructive and entertaining. This plan of educational instruction was begun last spring and since that time other schools have followed the lead of the F. A. Day Junior High in equipping their buildings with radios and loud speakers.

Warren has opened its doors this year with an enrollment of 684 pupils.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scouting has lived and thrived in Newton for eleven years. It has shown a healthy, steady growth. Since 1917 its one troop has grown to twenty-six; its Girl Scout membership is eight hundred and fifty; and its volunteer leaders number over seventy, of whom thirty-seven have come up through Girl Scout training. It maintains an executive staff of three workers and its work is directed from an attractive headquarters at 297 Walnut street, near the high school.

Its summer camp in Natick accommodates over a hundred campers every summer, and it is there that the Girl Scout follows the trail that leads to adventure—out-of-doors. On it she learns wood lore and the craftsmanship of the pioneer. She lives close to the woods and sunshine, the birds and the flowers.

In the winter the Girl Scout trail leads to skill in the things of the hearth and the home. She learns the joy in the useful task of the homemaker, home nurse, and child nurse.

She tries to pay as she goes. She holds up her end in the co-operative work and in the creative play that enriches life. She has learned that it is not only more blessed, but a thousand times more interesting, to give than to receive. Poised, radiant—she stands confident on the threshold of womanhood.

For the past eleven years the contributions of the citizens of Newton that have made it possible for hundreds of girls to be led toward the art of living and giving. On this twelfth year, the Girl Scouts ask not for contributions, but for financial investment—not for money given in charity, but for money wisely invested, which will pay generous dividends to the community in a finer, nobler womanhood. $6500 is necessary to carry Girl Scouting through the coming year in Newton. Will you invest your share in the girls of the city?

RETURNS FROM EUROPE

Professor and Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather of 36 Channing road, Newton Centre, have returned from Europe where Dr. Mather has been conducting the first geological field trip held abroad by an American college group. Thirteen college boys and girls comprised the class which studied the geology of France, Italy, Spain and Switzerland. Dr. Mather took moving pictures of the many unusual and interesting scenes including the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius during which the party entered the crater. The ascent of the Matterhorn was only a part of the first hand study of the Alpine glaciers and mountains and the rarely visited Pyrenees of Spain.

Dr. Mather is leader of the Mather Class Forum which meets every Sunday morning at the Newton Central Woman's Club under the auspices of the First Baptist Church School. The first meeting of the class will be October 7th. At a later date the moving pictures taken by Dr. Mather for Harvard University will be shown before the class and their friends.

Dr. Mather is the author of the recent books "Science in the Search of God" and "Old Mother Earth."

BURNED

A fire which started in the cellar of the house at 33 Clark street, Newton Highlands about 1 a. m. last Friday morning forced Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ernst who occupy the upstairs apartment in the house to make a rapid exit from the building and caused damage estimated at $2000. When the firemen arrived in response to an alarm from Box 64 at 1:03 a. m. the flames had spread up to the first floor of the house and were working up into the upper floors. In addition to the considerable damage done to the building much of the furniture and clothing of the family of Mark B. Clark who resided in the lower apartment of the house. The Clark family were away when the fire occurred.

When Mr. Ernst was awakened by the smoke about 1 a. m. he tried to telephone the fire department but the flames had already burned the telephone wires in the lower part of the house and he was compelled to go to a neighbor's home to telephone the alarm. According to Chief Randlett the fire was probably caused by spontaneous combustion in some oily rags.

The members of the Executive Committee of the Association will act as hostesses.

PRESS OUTING

Members of the Massachusetts Press Association held the September meeting in connection with an enjoyable week-end at the Oyster Harbors Club, Osterville, Mass.

Oyster Harbors, one of the few survivors of the land boom which covered a large portion of Cape Cod, two or three years ago, and its survival is due to exceptional good management on the part of Mr. F. W. Norris and his associates, who planned the development wisely and well.

There are something over 700 acres in the development, with nine miles of paved roads, an exceptionally good golf course and a club house that is unique as well as comfortable.

The office lobby is finished in cedar with the larger beams showing the marks of hand hewing. The furnishing of the entire club house is antique, with every detail worked out to the utmost. The electric lighting fixtures are a remarkable feature, including all kinds of lanterns, old fashioned lamps and candle effects. The chandeliers in the lobby are old fashioned oyster yokes, the light being in barn lanterns hung inside the boxes.

The furnishings of the bed rooms are also old fashioned reproductions in maple wood and are most comfortable.

The management succeeded in making a most favorable impression on members of the Association and an invitation to return at a future date was gladly received.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Progressive cities consider the live museums worth while. Do the citizens of Newton realize that the Children's Museum lives, grows, changes, educates, inspires and serves? To make children acquainted with the world in which they live, they must be brought into personal contact with the world. This can be done in two ways, by taking the children into the world, and by bringing the world to them. One of the most practical and sensible ways of bringing the world to them is through the agency of a museum.

With the exhibits as a background, one phase of the work of the Children's Museum of Boston can well consist of illustrated lectures for the school classes. These classes are conducted in the midst of the exhibits to be studied, and whenever feasible, material is provided for each child to handle. These lessons are given only to small groups, one or two classes at a time, and appointments can be made by calling the Museum, Jamaica 0054. The October subjects as announced by Miss Mildred E. Munter, Director, are as follows:

Grades I to V: Roadside Seeds and Weeds. How baby seeds travel. The worst weeds of our fields and farms. Birds and weed seeds.

Katrina from Holland. A true story by a recent visitor in Holland of how boys and girls live in the Land of Dykes.

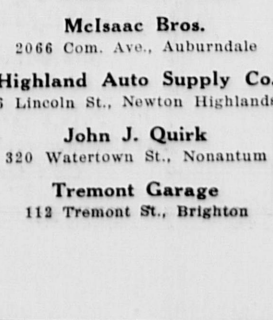

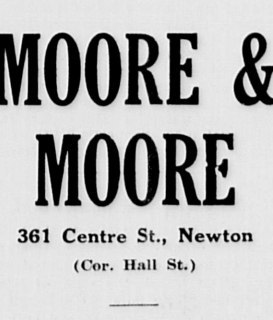

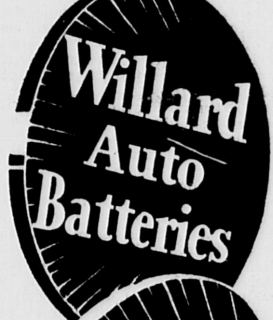

Grades V to VIII: Trees and Their Leaves in Autumn. An out-of-door lesson on how to know twenty-five New England trees.

EDITORIAL

We have commented from time to time upon the lack of interest on the part of the city government towards making much needed street widenings, especially when business changes afforded the right opportunity to accomplish a permanent improvement without excessive land damages. We have referred specifically to the failure to widen St. James street and the trifling widening at Elmwood and Centre streets. But the worst is yet to come and for the acme of stupidity on the part of the board of aldermen we call attention to the work now in progress on the old Elliot block site. Here the building line cuts into the former sidewalk location and while a little concession was made at the junction of the new building with the Lancaster block property, the city authorities have allowed the new building to stand at such an angle that the sidewalk on Centre street nearer Elmwood street, will be about half the width of the present sidewalk in front of the Lancaster block. Further comment seems needless.

While Newton cast a fairly good vote at the state primary last week it is plainly evident that a large majority of our people are more than willing to let some one else determine the political destiny of the state and nation. As we pointed out a few weeks ago the Republican nomination for most of the offices voted upon at the primary, is equivalent to an election and the coming election next November is merely a ratification of what has already been done in September. The Republican candidates for lieutenant governor, state treasurer, state auditor, state secretary and attorney general throughout the state are practically elected at the present time and most of the nominations for other offices particularly in Middlesex county are in the same class. If the right candidates have not been chosen at the primary of last week, it is plainly the fault of those who stayed at home.

A sad commentary on the failure of existing law to recognize long and faithful service is noted in the retirement of Mrs. Ella E. Mason, who has served the city faithfully and well as police matron for over thirty years. Notwithstanding Mrs. Mason's intimate connection with the work of the police department, City Solicitor Bartlett has ruled that she is not rated as a member of that department and consequently is not entitled to a pension of one half the salary allowed to the police force. Under these circumstances her pension comes under the new pension law just adopted in this city by which she is only entitled to the beggarly sum of $25 a month. It is certainly hard lines for a woman well in the seventies to be cast aside with such a meager pension.

The Water Department of the city is a public utility and should be treated financially as if it was the gas company or the Edison Company. If either of these privately owned utilities ventured to spend even one dollar of revenue for extension of plant, they would be promptly stopped by the state authorities. On the other hand the city is using all its revenue from present water takers to extend its water plant for the benefit of water consumers for the next forty or fifty years. Just why the water consumers of today should pay not only for what they use but for the future as well, while gas and electric light users need pay for what they get, is a question which the city fathers seem anxious to evade.

One of the dangers of the direct primary is the opportunity it gives to candidates like Fred J. Burrell for nomination of important office, such as that of state treasurer. Mr. Burrell's record is not one to be proud of and yet he ran a close second to the winner of the nomination mostly due to the fact that he had the words "former state treasurer" after his name on the ballot. A political convention, with all its faults would never give a candidate like Mr. Burrell, any consideration. Playing to an unsuspecting public, Mr. Burrell is a formidable candidate.

Persons who have not yet registered for the coming national and state election should not delay further as only three weeks remain for that purpose. Native born and naturalized persons who have lived in Massachusetts for a year and in Newton for six months are entitled to register as voters.

Don't forget to turn your time pieces back an hour next Sunday morning.

METAL BUILDINGS EXHIBIT AT BROCKTON FAIR

Garages made entirely of metal are being exhibited again this year at the Brockton Fair by the Whittridge Portable Buildings Co., of West Lynn. The use of metal construction for garages and commercial buildings has grown rapidly in the last few years. These buildings have the advantage of being absolutely fireproof and can be readily moved from one location to another without damage. They are inexpensive, compared to other fireproof construction, and can be quickly erected. Permits may be had for their erection in locations which prohibit inflammable construction.

The Whittridge Garage Exhibit at the Brockton Fair is at the edge of the grove, just back of the Automobile Building. These garages are very pleasing in appearance, and painted, they look like wooden clapboard buildings. They are tight, strong and durable.

The Whittridge Portable Buildings Co., makers of Whittridge Garages and other metal buildings, report that they are busier than ever on commercial buildings. They have just erected three of these buildings which many visitors to the Brockton Fair will have an opportunity to see. They are on Marion avenue, West Bridgewater, and were erected for the Pilgrim Dyeing and Cleansing Service. Another of these buildings, which hundreds of people pass daily, was recently erected for the Boston Revere Beach and Lynn Railroad at the Orient Heights yards.

Information about these buildings may be had in detail at the Brockton Fair Exhibit, or at the Factory Exhibit on the North Shore Boulevard corner Commercial street and Broad, West Lynn, or by writing to the Whittridge Portable Buildings Co., 965 Broad street, West Lynn, Mass., or by telephoning Breakers 3210 or by telephoning Waltham 3950 or 2321-M, Mr. C. W. Arnold, the local representative.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons have sold to Alice M. Delaney the brick old English type seven room home located at 25 Burnside road, Newton Highlands. With the house there is a garage and 7,000 feet of land, and the total valuation of the property is $17,000. John T. Burns, Jr., was the grantor.

Burns & Sons report also that they have sold for Maud M. Hamm her two family brick house and about 10,500 feet of land situated at 109 Langdon street, Newton. The apartments contain seven rooms each with heated garage, and the total valuation is $26,000. George San Souci of Boston has purchased for investment.

Burns & Sons also report that they have sold for F. Harris to James Rand lots 4 and 5 on Normandy road, Auburndale, containing 6000 square feet each, being valued at $5,000. Mr. Rand will develop the property by the erection of two attractive single houses.

Milk the National Food

More persons use milk in their diet than any other one article of food, according to a recently completed survey. Even bread—the staff of life—ranks second to milk, 89 per cent of the people drinking milk and only 81 per cent eating bread.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

We have heard and read a lot the past few weeks about compulsory automobile liability insurance. It came as a gift from the skies to some of the candidates for nomination in the recent primaries. Big and little took advantage of an unpleasant situation and wrote public statements declaring themselves for this or for that. It was a happy break as it furnished a theme for discussion through the daily papers and on the stump. Anybody who missed some of these good things will probably get a chance to be enlightened between now and the State election.

In all the talk you must have observed they were slamming so-called unscrupulous lawyers and conniving doctors for putting in fraudulent claims and thus seeking to rob insurance companies. There is promised an investigation of the illegitimate practices of some lawyers and some doctors. Hooray! We are going to see both professions purged of their wicked members. The seekers of elective office are going to do it and by next year there will be a purification move that will be a great feature of the session on Beacon Hill.

I wish I could believe that. Instead I am one of those unhappy individuals who dare doubt the promises of many of our spellbinders. And I think I have good reason. For years and years efforts have been made to raise the standards of both the legal and medical profession. These have come in the form of measures intended to make it more difficult for the unfit and unqualified to practice either law or medicine. But every move has met with opposition. The friends of the dear people in the General Court have joined in a chorus of protest that the rights of the poor, struggling youth were being trampled upon. "Let anybody who wants to become a doctor or a lawyer have a chance," they have demanded. Bills that the best men in both professions recognized as both worthy and necessary have been defeated. Nothing has been done. On top of this comes the scandal of $60,000 in doubtful claims against companies carrying compulsory automobile liability insurance. What about the responsibility? On whose shoulders do you think it rests?

The above gives me a good chance to say a few words of my own about certain people who happen also to be automobile owners or drivers or passengers through proprietary rights. Now I am not to be misunderstood as criticising these fortunate possessors of motor cars just because of their good fortune. No, indeed, many of them are my friends and they might resent it and decline to give me a lift just when I most needed it. So what I have to say is only for the common good of humanity which hasn't any too much common goodness anyway.

But to get down to the original proposition. Let me describe an incident that occurs many times every day. The family car is driven down town by the son or daughter. It contains other members of the family. Father is to be left at the railroad station. Mother is to be taken into Boston to do some shopping and Brother or Sister are going to hop off at Copley Square or some other place. The plan is perfectly all right. The car goes along nicely and joins the procession. Then comes the stopping place. This time it may be Father who gets out first. Just as he steps out some other member of the family is reminded of something that Father should know. Father turns to hear the message or take orders, which ever it may be. There is a pause. A whole line of cars back of them is held up. The line coming the other way is checked, too, because the driver from the opposite direction doesn't want to run over Father. The conversation is a long one, lasting a minute or two. Horns toot and drivers sputter and that's that. But it doesn't do anybody's temper any good. Now then, why are these conversations postponed until somebody starts to get out of the car? Why isn't the whole matter settled before the car stops? Who will answer these questions? Ask me another!

It is a source of pride and satisfaction when we find Newton in the front rank of progressive communities on some particular addition to its municipal equipment. This time we have Fire Chief Clarence W. Randlett to thank and congratulate. I happened to drop into his office at Newton Centre one day recently and there found many interesting things connected with the department. The first to attract me was the portable lighting plant, which is something decidedly new and a most welcome addition.

Mounted on a Ford truck, the body of which has been especially constructed for the purpose, is a 1500 watt electric generator operated by a gasoline engine. Power is supplied to the 200 watt lamps, of which there are three. These lamps may be set up on the truck or at a place 250 feet distant from the source of power. Cables 250 feet in length permit these lights to be carried for practically that distance, if necessary.

I hope Newton people appreciate the value of this portable lighting plant. It appears that at the explosion last fall in an illicit still in West Newton, when an entire building was wrecked, the firemen were greatly handicapped because there was no artificial light by which to work on the ruins at night. Need of big lamps so impressed itself upon Chief Randlett that he proceeded to arrange for some such apparatus to be used by the city for whatever emergency that might arise.

Not long ago the breaking-off of a hydrant at night proved an instance when the new lighting plant was of immeasurable value. It enabled workmen to complete a difficult task at night where under other conditions the matter would have proved a serious problem.

Chief Randlett has directed that the lighting plant truck answer all alarms at night. It is a splendid idea and a tribute to his enterprise. Boston has two such and Brookline one. Newton is not so slow after all.

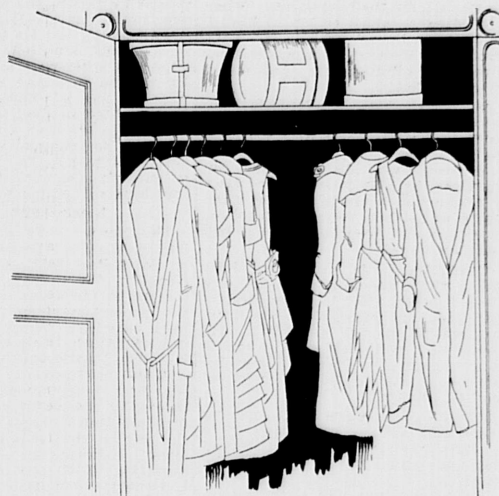

Chief Randlett also gave me an opportunity to look over the plans of the proposed central fire alarm signal station at Newton Centre. Here again is disclosed the enterprise of the chief. Newton is going soon to abandon the old-fashioned method of slow-time signaling and adopt the fast-time system. In order that may be better understood let me say that when an alarm is sounded today the pulling down of the hook in a box starts the mechanism at the present headquarters and deliberately, as things go nowadays, the number of the box is tapped off.

When we get our new system installed in the proposed station the pulling of a box will register three ways—by the flashing of a light, by the sounding of a siren and by the rapid registering of the box on the taps. Three ways—each confirming the other. Two men will be constantly on duty and they will signal the number of the box to the various stations. This is rightly called the fast-time system and will reduce the length of time by more than one-half. In other words, we will have as up-to-date a fire alarm signal system as it is possible to obtain.

The new structure will be of brick and will front on Centre street in the lot of land north of the Rice school building. It will be approximately 62 feet wide and 53 feet deep. On the street floor there will be the lobby, two workrooms, a battery room containing between 1600 and 1800 electric storage batteries and a locker room. On the second floor there will be the operators' room, the alarm board, the chief's office and two bedrooms. Plans of the building have been made by Kendall Taylor Company, architects, and there is every promise that it will be a good looking structure and will easily fit the generally pleasing appearance of the business section of Newton Centre.

The need of the new system is well understood and appreciated. Ten box circuits now carry everything and the

POLICE NEWS

Speeders assessed $10 each in the Newton court last Friday were Chester Yancey of West Medford and Joseph Guerico of Linwood.

Roy Acheson of 161 Galen street, Watertown, and Jeanette Huard of 18 Jewett street, Watertown, were arrested last Thursday night on Blake street, Newton, by Patrolmen Marshall and Riley on a statutory charge. In court Friday Acheson was fined $50 and the Huard woman returned to the Foxboro State Hospital from which she was on parole.

load is a heavy one from an electrician's standpoint. With the number of circuits actually doubled there will be a condition that should last the city for years to come. We are growing as a city and it is most important that our fire alarm needs receive every attention.

Overloaded gravel trucks should receive the attention of the city authorities. I can testify to the effect of a truck loaded with stone the size of stove or egg coal or finer turning a corner swiftly. Quantities of the rock drop into the street. At the corner of Park and Tremont streets where the Boston Elevated tracks make a curve there is frequently a collection of stone or gravel which must be an embarrassment if not a source of trouble or even danger to drivers of passenger automobiles.

It may be because the driver of the crushed stone conveyance decides to take the corner on high. If he is coming from the direction of Waverley avenue and turns left to head for Verling street there is invariably a sprinkling of stone left in his wake.

I should think that the total amount of stone thus strewn about the highway at this and other corners of Newton alone would mount to some considerable sum in the course of a year and that the contractors would notice what had happened through their bookkeeping department if in no other way.

I have no idea how this is to be stopped unless owners caution drivers and I must admit I cannot tell just how far-reaching an effect such a warning would have. If it was simply a matter of waste of material or money loss I suppose the public would have no particular interest, but to have our streets messed up with accumulations of rock at traffic points is something affecting all of us and seems to require official consideration.

SOMERVILLE AND MEDFORD WIN

Six of Newton's nine opponents on the football field this fall got started last Saturday. Somerville showed a lot of power with its veteran eleven in subduing Chelsea 25 to 0. Coach Dickerman, used many substitutes who gave evidence that they would be formidable reserves later in the season. It looks as though Somerville will be one of the foremost contenders for the Suburban league crown this fall. Tomorrow's battle between Salem and Somerville should be a great game with the outcome a toss-up. Medford scored two touchdowns to top New Bedford, 12 to 0 for the only other victory hung up by any of the local eleven's scheduled opponents. The winners, under their new coach, "Hubba" Collins, who formerly coached Beverly, showed good football for their first game.Rindge Tech lost a chance to defeat Marblehead in the latter's second game this year, by failing to cover the kickoff. The ball rolled over the Tech goal line and a Marblehead end fell on the ball for the touchdown. Otherwise Rindge, which seems to have a better team than usual this year, outplayed the Headers, scoring the tying touchdown after an extended march down the field.St. Peter's high of Worcester surprised Coach Gildea and his Everett outfit by holding them to a scoreless tie. The red and blue was lucky to escape defeat. An intercepted forward pass by St. Peter's guard nearly resulted in a touchdown but Capt.
Digby pulled him down on the three yard line and Everett took the ball away on downs.Cambridge Latin was defeated by Salem which was on the long 14 to 12 to 0 score. The Cantabs, despite many ups and downs since the training season opened showed it had power and will display it when it gets organized. Twice Cambridge made goal line stands that took real football courage.Fumbles cost Beverly its opening game with Nashua, which won 14 to 0. Beverly played the better football and made more first downs than the visitors.Waltham swings into action tomorrow entertaining Watertown high on the Watch City field. Brookline is the only Newton opponent which has no September game. The Wealthy Towners open against Boston College High, which plays its first game of the year against Cambridge Latin tomorrow, on October 6th at the Brookline field.

Gillian To Officiate

"Mike" Gilligan, former Newton and Brown football captain, who has played tackle for the Providence Steamrollers in the pro football league has given up the game as business will not permit him to practice daily with the squad. However, he will continue his interest in the game as an official. He will be the field judge at the Boston College-Catholic University game at University Heights tomorrow in his first game.Powers Trying Out With Braves John Powers of Auburndale, former star athlete at St. Mary's high school of Waltham, has not returned to Manhattan College which he attended last year. Powers has been given a daily tryout with the Braves the past week.
Bill Cronin of West Newton and one of the best catchers ever turned out at Newton high is the third string catcher for the Boston National league team.Hagood On Team A At Brown Ernest Hagood, former Newton high tackle, has been playing at right tackle for Team A of the Brown squad.
Teams A and B were designated Monday and although the final makeup of the two sets is not determined Coach MacLaughrey intends to develop two eleven and use them intact. Hagood is a sophomore and was a regular on the freshman team last fall.
Team B has Ed Kevorkian, another Newton high product, playing at left guard. He has been a regular for the past two seasons and was one of the 1926 "iron men." The two outfits are scrimmaging against the third and fourth teams and not with each other.

Newton Pals Win

The Newton Pals won their opening game of the season last Sunday on Cabot Park gridiron, defeating the Needham Town Team 20 to 0. The feature of the game was a long run for a touchdown by Lyman, following a pass from "Dotty" Wright on his own twenty yard line in the last quarter. The Pals scored in the first, second and final periods, Eagan tallying the first two. Lyman added two points by successful goals after the first and third scores but failed on the second. The Pals lined up as follows: Sullivan, le; L. Brophy, lt;
Smith, lg; E. Brophy, c; Vachon, rg; Littlefield, rt; Watkins, McArde, re;

Gilligan Best Dropkicker

Tommy Gilligan is the best drop-kicker on the Harvard squad by far and it would not be surprising if his educated toe scores a number of points for the Crimson this year. He is also a brilliant running back and may understudy Captain Arthur French at halfback. Coach Horween has more good quarterbacking material this year than for some time and may abandon the huddle. If necessary Gilligan can fill the signal-barkers berth and fill it creditably.Both Gilligan and Holbrook have been showing up well in the scrimmages between the varsity and the scrubs. Last Saturday the varsity won 19 to 0 with Holbrook scoring one of the three touchdowns on a 10-yard dash off tackle following Gilligan's 15-yard end run. Gilligan kicked the goal. During the time he was in the play the former Newton star was at quarterback. Monday Gilligan was the leading luminary of the varsity's 46-0 win. He tallied three of the seven touchdowns and kicked three goals out of four tries. The second score of the afternoon was the product of steady plugging with Gilligan going over. A brilliant 60-yard run back of a punt ended in Gilligan's second touchdown, the fifth during the scrimmage, and the next after a long drive culminating in Gilligan's 27-yard romp around the end. While in the scrimmage Gilligan was again in the quarterback position which may be an indication that Horween is planning to use him at that berth. Near the end of the scrimmage the Harvard coach sent Guy Holbrook in as the signal caller for the last half dozen plays.In Wednesday's scrimmage Gilligan made a beautiful 30-yard drop kick to aid the varsity in trimming the scrubs 29 to 0. It was the third score of the afternoon, two touchdowns preceding it. Gilligan's kick was from a difficult angle while standing on the scrubs' 20-yard stripe. It went high but straight, through the uprights for the score. A steady 35-yd. drive, with Gilligan starting it off with a 25-yard end run, led to another touchdown with Guy Holbrook carrying it over.
Gilligan missed the try for the extra point.

Gulford Beats Oulmet

Last Saturday Jesse Gulford beat Francis Oulmet by seven strokes in their 18-hole play-off for the gross prize in the Norfolk score play open tournament for which they tied with medals of 69 in the tournament proper several weeks ago. Gulford went to round in 72, despite an out of bounds shot at the second tee, his shots being as good as his score indicates.
Oulmet took a 79. The 10th was Oulmet's nemesis and gave Gulford three strokes of his substantial margin. Oulmet's second shot went over the green into an unplayable lie and it took him seven strokes to get the ball into the cup."Frenchy" Gilligan Enters Harvard Francis "Frenchy" Gilligan, brother of Tommy Gilligan and former Newton and Exeter linesman, entered Harvard last week. Gilligan was fullback of the Exeter team the past three years, and captain last season. He will be a candidate for the freshman team at Harvard. Several other schoolboy stars are entered in the same class, among them Henry Myer-son, Eugene Record, Teddy Cole, and Roger Gleason of Brookline and "Red" Finlayson of Cambridge Latin, also on Exeter's eleven last fall. All are football players and will provide Eddie Casey with a fine working nucleus.

EDITOR'S FOREWORD. With this issue of the Graphic your editor greets all Clubwomen, and extends best wishes for a happy and informative and enjoyable Club year to officers and members all. In order that the material on the splendid activities of the Newton Women's Clubs may have their just dues in publicity your editor bespeaks the co-operation of press chairmen, and of the Club officers and members with their press chairman, that she may be able to send in to the editor a description of all Club plans.

Newton Clubwomen are especially fortunate that they have in their city a newspaper that gives a special section to their activities, and may be glad to send to that column their accounts, since the Newton Graphic is listed by the State Federation of Women's Clubs as one of the fifty-six newspapers in the State that consider Women's Clubs of so great importance and value that their doings are assembled in one space reserved for them.

ADVANCE NOTICES should be sent to the editor's hands by the first mail on Monday AT LATEST.
All advance news must be complete and in the hands of the Graphic by Tuesday at 2 o'clock, and your editor must have a day and a half for compilation, etc. This should not be a hardship, since the program is arranged for the year, and chairmen of special activities should surely know of them a week in advance, so they may report to the press chairman in ample time. No news will be accepted at the Graphic office, but must be sent to the editor at her home, 4 Pembroke street, Newton.

WRITEUPS of meetings should be sent in as soon as possible after a meeting, while all the interesting bits of business, the clever speeches, buttresses, and striking personalities of all in the limelight are fresh in the press chairman's memory.
Readers are interested in the things that are going on, and these include the personality and arresting remarks of the speaker, even the appearance;
the announcements of coming interesting events; the vital action taken on business matters; the presiding officer; the personalities, individuals, and striking points in conclusions, wit, or humor in remarks of everyone in the forefront. Every Club woman who has given her time and effort in behalf of her Club is entitled to recognition for her generosity. Full names should be given—not just Mrs. Jones, for example, but Mrs. James J. Jones.
The more entertainingly, convincingly, strongly, or humorously a press chairman can report a meeting, the more popular she will be with the Executive Board which appointed her, with her fellow members whom she mentions, with the entire Club for putting them in the limelight, and with your editor.

Writeups of meetings that occur between Wednesday and Saturday should be in the editor's hands on the first mail on Monday. Writeups of meetings that occur on Monday and Tuesday should be in her hands by 3:30 o'clock on Wednesday, or they can not go in that week's issue. The only space saved will be for these, after Tuesday morning. NO SPACE
CAN BE SAVED FOR ADVANCE NOTICES.

News should be written on typewriter size paper, 8 1/2 by 11,—inexpensive yellow sheets will do—and must SEVERELY be written on both sides of the sheet, or on note or letter size paper. Even if the notice is short the full sheet should be sent, for uniformity of copy, and to save labor on the part of the editor in pasting or rewriting.

The courtesy of a Year Book or Calendar from each Club would be appreciated by the editor, as an aid to names, and following of events.

will open her home at 15 Vista avenue, on Monday afternoon, October 1st, for the opening meeting of the Club. Continuing the history of the Christian church from its earliest days, this year's program will take up the story at the point where it was left in the spring, and there will be a paper on "France from the Revolution to the time of Napoleon" by Miss Abbie C. Hall, and one on "The First Empire" by Miss M. C. Gould.

It is always pleasant to come back after a restful vacation to a gathering of old friends, and it is always even more pleasant to have that gathering as guests of the Club president, but it is noteworthy, as well, in the case of the Christian Era Study Club that the president who extends this hospitality has been in this official capacity since the founding of the Club, and one wonders how many Clubs can claim this distinction, and have the opportunity of greeting such a friend in office.

Newton Mothers' Club

The Newton Mothers' Club is planning a delightful outing for their first get-together of the season, in a motor trip to Wayside Inn for the afternoon of Monday, October 1st. The committee in charge of arrangements, including motor transportation of members, leaving Newton at 2:30 o'clock. Includes Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, chairman, and Mrs. Grace Rice and Mrs.
William B. Phelps, hostesses. They will visit the fascinating Inn, with its "new" antiques, to which so many wonderful old treasures are constantly being added, so that visits to this old house should be undertaken often, and a visit to the little red school house will follow. Returning, the party will stop at Green Tops for tea, carrying forward the neighborly and friendly intercourse of the afternoon.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On the same date, Monday evening, October 1st, the members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club meet for their president, Mrs. Robert B.
McLaughlin, at her home 69 Waldorf road, in an "Open House." An evening of festivity and sociability is planned, in a reception to new members, with a background of music, to be furnished by the Mystic Troubadour Players, which is composed of two high school boys from Medford, who will play on the xylophone and drum, accompanied by the mother of one of the boys, Mrs. F. D. Neill, and in a much anticipated event of the affair, the singing of a song the words of which have been composed by Mrs.
Warren Hoey, a prominent Club member. Miss Marion Flood, soloist of the church of Mary the Immaculate Lourdes, accompanied by Mrs. George Flood, organist of the same church, will render this song written by Mrs.
Hoey. Club members are looking forward to hearing this composition of their fellow member. Mrs. Thomas E. Lees, a former president of the Club, will give a resume of the annual meeting of the State Federation, in "Side-lights" on business and events.
Refreshments will conclude this excellently planned program.

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday morning, October 2nd, the Review Club will start on its 38th year. With a Presidential election near, the topic for this year's study is to be the timely one of the "Administrations and the Lives of our Country's Presidents from Washington through Coolidge." As an appropriate start for the year, the first meeting will be at Quincy, that historic centre of so much connected with the lives of our early Presidents.
Automobiles will call for members at 10 o'clock, and upon reaching Quincy, the John Quincy Adams and the Dorothy Q. houses will be visited, and the old church, after which the members will gather for a luncheon, before returning home. There is a fascination and thrill in these pilgrimages to shrines that stand for our country's stability, character, and lofty ideals.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

On Tuesday, October 2nd, at 2:30 o'clock, the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, in their meeting place at the Congregational Parish House, welcome once more Miss Eunice Avery, whose splendid lectures on Current Events have made her an old and honored friend, in her return through several courses to give always valuable and graphic information of world events. A report of the State Federation meeting of last May will be given by Mrs. Hiram A. Miller.
The new president, Mrs. Ward I.
Cornell, will preside. Following the meeting tea will be served.

On the preceding afternoon, October 1st, the Newton Highlands Woman's Club is to have a gala affair in a Community Bridge, the object of which is not only a pleasurable afternoon, renewing and making acquaintances after a summer of Club separation, but of clearing the remainder of the mortgage on the splendid Workshop that has given so much of enjoyment and of increased opportunity for community activities. Tickets at one dollar may be secured from any member of the Ways and Means Committee, which is composed of Mrs. G.
D.W. Marcy, chairman, Mrs. Charles H. Keeler, Mrs. Earl G. Manning, Mrs.
Lawson W. Oakes, and Mrs. Fred G.
Sandford. Participants will gather at 2:30 o'clock, either at the Workshop, or at the homes of Mrs. Frank L. Richardson, 245 Woodward street, Waban, or of Mrs. Grosvenor Marcy, 8 Lakewood road, Newton Highlands. The opportunity for an afternoon of social pleasure and for aiding in clearing the Workshop from debt will doubtless call out a great many women not only in the Highlands, but throughout Newton.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

In the Barn Studio of Mrs. C. W.
Bond, 112 Gibbs street, Newton Centre, on Tuesday, October 2nd, at 3
p. m. there will be an opening tea given by the Art Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, to introduce Mrs. A. G. Caldwell, Mrs.
John Bergerson and Mrs. E. J. Freethy, who are to give courses in arts and crafts this season. In a setting of candlelight and autumn leaves the work of these craftsmen will be exhibited. A general invitation to all Club members is extended.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The meeting for the West Newton Women's Educational Club scheduled for the second Friday of the month has been put forward a week—namely, to the 5th of October—by necessity of the 12th being a holiday. The Club meets in the Unitarian Parish House, West Newton, at 2:30 o'clock, with the new president, Mrs. Joseph Arthur Otis, in the chair. Following the business meeting and report of the State Federation meeting, the members will have the timely topic of "The Gentle Art of Living Out of Doors" presented by the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Felicia Doughty Kingsbury. With summer days vanishing with their ease of enjoyment of the outer world, and crisp but gloriously beautiful ones of fall still making living in the out of doors a possibility, suggestions from a speaker on how to hold fast this freedom will be welcomed. A special guest of the Club for this their first meeting is the new director of the Twelfth District, Mrs. Horace B. Gale, of Natick.
A reception to the Executive Board makes happy introduction of officers to members, and vice versa, and in the social hour that follows, with tea served, the hostesses of the Art Committee, composed of Mrs. Sidney B.
Sargent, chairman, and Mrs. Stewart
Dunham and Mrs. Donald B. Hyde, will round out in a pleasing manner
the program they have provided.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. L. E. White, radio director of the State Federation, is still carrying forward her splendid Club programs on Wednesday mornings over station WYAC. Her ideas are limitless, and her ability to secure artists and speakers with worthwhile messages amounts to genius. Club women listening in at these weekly broadcasts get sidelights on Club affairs that keep them in touch with the trend of events, or give information of past accomplishments with which they are not always conversant. They may the more appreciate, then, the endeavors of the radio director to supply them with such speakers weekly, and to be sure that a program awaits them.

For Wednesday, October 3rd, Mrs.
White presents the new president of the State Federation, an appropriate opening to the new year, who will greet her big family of State Federation members, at 10:30 o'clock—Mrs.
Azel A. Packard, of Springfield.
Otilia Netch Tuttle, violinist, is to furnish a 10-minute period of solos at 10:40, with Mrs. Alice Allen Drayton, pianist. Mrs. Drayton has won many friends and admirers throughout the Club world for her able chairmanship of music during the past few years, and for her talent as a musician.
It will be remembered that she is the composer of the State Song, under the pseudonym Reta Melton. At 10:50,
May Dickinson Kimball, who has made Mothercraft famous, will be on the air to describe the "Hollywood Mothercraft Film in the Making." Mrs. Kimball is State chairman of Mothercraft and Child Welfare.

CLUB INSTITUTES. Mrs. Thomas

Hills Woman's Club, and Mrs. H. E. Hull, president of the Kalmia Club of North Attleboro. It is unfortunate that the subject of the greatest appeal "Why We Raise Money in Our Club and How We Spend It" which was to have been presented by Mrs. H. Woman's Club has been postponed on account of illness of Mrs. Padelford. The valuable information to be gained, the exchange of experiences, and the "personal contacts" established, can not be estimated in these conferences, and the question hour that follows this first one, with ample time allowed for discussion of any phase of Club life will possibly give some evidence of this to those who attend next Thursday.

Club Institutes conferences will be held the first Thursday of each month of the Club year, and they are open to all Club women. In addition to this source of information for Club women, Mrs. Walker and her committee have generously—it might almost be said valiantly, it would seem—signified their willingness to answer letters on such topics where Club women have been unable to attend the conferences.

given to Miss Lila Morrill of Grove street on Friday evening. The shower was given by members of the Tenni-beautifully decorated and a miniature bridal party was the center of decorations for the dining table. As Miss Morrill entered she was completely surprised when she was greeted by a shower of rose petals, and she was ushered to a chair over which hung a bell, and the streamers were pulled and the prospective bride was showered again by confetti. Miss Morrill was the recipient of many elaborate and beautiful gifts. When the gifts were all opened and the gift cards were all read by the prospective brid-

By Edw. H. Powers

The news has been spread that a transcontinental bus service is to be established which will carry passengers from New York to Los Angeles in six days. Why should this abuse of the public highways be permitted? Why should huge busses be allowed to travel on public roads at speeds of 50 and 60 miles an hour? The publicity seeker from New York who claimed to have beaten the time schedule of a fast railway train between that city and Boston was summarily dealt with by Registrar of Motor Vehicles Parker. How much longer are state and Federal authorities going to allow the public to be menaced by the busses which rush between big cities?

The driveway at the Newton railroad station has been, for several years marked as a one-way street. Automobiles are not allowed, according to instructions posted at either end of the drive, to travel from the Centre avenue end and emerge on Centre street. A number of autoists have been disregarding this rule. The Newton police department and the Boston & Albany officials will cooperate to compel those who have not been obeying the instructions on this much traveled street to do so.

Now is the open season for fervent poets to give freely of their talents in composing "poems" praising or denouncing as their political opinions may impel them, either Hoover or Smith. Some of these poems rhyme; some don't rhyme. Some of them are written in blank verse; some of them are written in blankety blank verse. But, they give the "poets" opportunities to release the pent-up feelings which surge within them.

If some of the residents on unaccepted streets in Newton used the same energy and co-operation evidenced by residents of Thurston road, Newton Upper Falls, they would be able to operate their automobiles on such streets this winter without becoming mired or having springs broken. The Thurston road residents, including Alderman John Temperley, taking advantage of the opportunity to obtain some excellent filling when the rails of the Middlesex & Boston street railway on a nearby street were removed, got busy. They got together evenings, removed their coats and wielding picks, shovels and crowbars, graded their street and spread the surfacing material brought from where the tracks had been taken up. Much liniment had to be used by the amateur laborers, but the results rewarded the "street builders."

The Cunard Steamship Company has arranged a number of exceedingly attractive tours of the West Indies for the coming winter at prices that are very low. The steamships which will carry the voyagers on these cruises are the FRANCONIA, the SCYTHIA and the CALIFORNIA. The Franconia's first cruise is from December 1st to December 17th. Her second, (a special Christmas Cruise) from December 20th to January 5th. The Scythia is the yacht of the fleet. . . the special pride of the Cunard Line from the cruise point of view. . . She calls at Port-au-Prince, Kingston, Colon, Havana and Nassau. . . Her passengers on the first cruise can do their Christmas shopping in a highly original and profitable manner, in bazaars which might easily have been lifted intact from Cairo or Suez. . . The second Franconia cruise is a chance to have New Year's Eve in Havana. . . all the flavor of Paris. . . the tang and gaiety of Spain. . . Seeing the old year out with a difference. . .

The Scythia sails January 7th and returns to New York on January 24th. . . enabling those who wish to spend Christmas and New Year's at home to visit Havana, Colon, Kingston, Port-au-Prince and Nassau. . . Ideal short cruises for people with "winter nerves" . . . who have that taut, over-tense, mid-season feeling. . . that inevitable boredom with snow and sleet and the grimness of winter. . . A fortnight on either the Franconia or the Scythia is worth a hundred scientific treatments. . . These cruise ships have secrets which are not taught in medical colleges. . .

The California makes two 31-day cruises. The first from January 19th to February 18th. . . the second from February 23rd to March 25th. . . The California is an English country house at sea. . . with a charm which makes 31 days the shortest and most exciting month in the calendar. . . The California calls at Nassau, Havana, Port-au-Prince, Kingston, Cienfuegos, La Guayra, Trinidad, Barbados, St. Pierre and Fort de France, Martinique, San Juan and Bermuda. . . A de luxe cruise which lays open all the hidden fascinations of a group of tropical islands which has more than its share of them. . . A perfect cruise because your ship is a Cunarder, and she steers straight towards the largest gilded security of modern city life. . . the caressing, full powered, life giving, worry-destroying West Indies sun.

The minimum fare for these cruises is but $200. Literature and complete information may be obtained from the NEWTON STEAMSHIP AGENCY at 421 Centre street, Newton, agents for the Cunard Steamship Company.

ROTARY CLUB

Miss Chapin of the Newton Welfare Bureau was the guest and speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary club held at the Woodland Park Golf Club on Monday.

Miss Chapin spoke on Newton through the eyes of the Welfare Bureau and her address was both interesting and instructive. She cited many cases of temporary aid rendered by the bureau and explained how unemployment affected the home and the child. The largest problem in her opinion was for medical aid and told of one expenditure of $1000 for a crippled girl. The bureau has had wonderful co-operation with the doctors and the hospital and through them many children have been sent to summer camps. Cases of tuberculosis are handled through the Xmas seals. In Miss Chapin's opinion conditions have been helped since prohibition.

TRIED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

John J. FitzPatrick, 19, of 82 Central street, Waltham, was tried before a jury in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge on Monday and Tuesday for manslaughter and driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Some weeks ago a car driven by FitzPatrick struck and killed Margaret Slattery, a young woman employed as a domestic on Whitney road, Newtonville. The girl was returning to her place of employment after having had a day off and had alighted from a Middlesex & Boston bus on Walnut street, near Mill street, Newtonville. As she was crossing the street, the car driven by FitzPatrick came along at a high speed, according to witnesses, and struck the girl, killing her almost instantly. FitzPatrick and a couple of companions were returning from a dance and were proceeding northerly along Walnut street. After hitting the Slattery girl, FitzPatrick's car, according to the testimony, travelled 45 feet and crashed into another automobile coming in the opposite direction on Walnut street. This car contained Patrolmen Maloney and Elliott of the Newton police.

The case was prosecuted by District Attorney Bushnell and FitzPatrick was defended by Attorney Flynn of Waltham. Flynn attempted to show that the defendant's car had passed the victim before she was hit and that the car containing the policemen had struck FitzPatrick's car from the rear. FitzPatrick was found not guilty on the manslaughter charge and guilty on the charge of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. The judge will impose the penalty on him today.
